Brief Local Items

—Great varieties of wild flowers are now in bloom in the woods.
—Dogs found on the streets without license tags are to be destroyed.
—V. A. Utata, of the "Orangeville Post," has sold his business there.
—Thrift stamps make thrifty children. Encourage them to buy them.
—Saturday, May 24th, will be joyously observed as a public holiday in Acton.
—The fall wheat and the meadows now present a most promising appearance.
—Butter has dropped to 47c in town this week and eggs have jumped back to 43c.
—The growing crops are certainly not suffering just now for lack of moisture.
—The spring grain is showing up nicely on many of the farmers' fields hereabouts.
—Mr. Ambrose McCann is taking out foundations for a new brick residence on Park Avenue.
—The Almonte Times, after 27 years' voyage of a troublous passage, has ceased publication.
—W. Kelly is erecting a slaughter house on the Walters' property to facilitate his meat business.
—G. G. Wilson, Road Superintendent, says last winter was exceptionally hard on Hamilton's good roads.
—Rev. Dr. Blair, of Guelph, will lecture at the Young People's Guild, in Knox Church next Monday evening.
—Mr. Robt. Leaby is the new manager of the Boardman Farm. He moved to the residence there last week.
—Sunday will be observed as "Men's Day" in the Methodist Church. A men's choir will lead the service of praise.
—Cobourg School Board, according to the Sentinel-Star, is buying three-quarter lump steam coal for $6.45 per ton.
—The farmers of Halton will meet in Milton on Tuesday afternoon, 27th inst., to select a candidate for the next election.
—C. W. How and Fred Plinky, of Baldy Hill, were each fined $10.00 and costs for selling cigarettes to minors last week.
