A POLITICAL HERO

Not all the political strategists are holding office at Ottawa; sometimes the country districts afford a politician who within the limitations, can produce some extraordinary effects. In this relation there may be cited the case of Bill Cooney, of a certain western community, who was of a reprehensible shrewdness. On the morning of an election farmer came into Cooney's shop, Bill being a blacksmith, to have his horse "Busy this morning. Bill?" asked the

"Yes," said Bill. "Hardly got time to go to the village to vote." "Kinder busy myself," said th farmer. "I'll tell you what we'll do." he added. "As you're a Liberal and I a Conservative, we'll pair off, just as they do ly parliament, and neither of us will vote. What do you say ?" Bill agreed to the proposal. After election it was found that the blacksmith had paired off with every Conservative customer who had come into

Navy League's Nelson Day Campaign is to Promote Great Object

A large portion of the proceeds from the Nelson Day Campaign to raise a half a million dollars will be devoted by the Navy League of Canada to the purpose of the Naval Brigades. These brigades have been established in the principal cities of the Dominion for the training of Canadian boys for service on the sea.

Canada's future is bound up in its export trade and depends much upon Merchant Murine. It is vitully necessary that the Dominion should provide qualified satiors. The Navy League of Canada is giving the younger generation of Canadians the opportunity for free training in seamanahip, and business men are agreed that the value of this work cannot be over estimated. The autcess of the Hoys' Naval Brigades hangaron the generosity of publie support. It is important to every Canadian that this movement should not be handicapped by lack of funds. Public spirited citizens are called upon for a generous response to the Navy League appeal through the Nelson

Day Campaign. The big drive will cover three days, commencing Octo-In addition to the demands of the Naval Brigades the Navy League has to finance its sailors' homes and institutes in Canadian ports. All the money

"IT IS I;" THE TEACHING HAV TOUR Lesson Thoughts Let us look at Jesus on the evening after the feeding of the five thousand.

How encouragingly across the waves sounded his voice as he and, "It is It" In what respects did Jesus reveal himself through those hours? Who is this "I"? 1. "It is I, the self-denying Saviour." The multitude were eager to crown him King, to begin a revolution; and the disciples were in full sympathy with the honor, choosing the cross rather than the crown; for he came not to be ministered unto, but to minister. 2. "It is I, the praying Baviour." If was when his spirit was disturbed by the temptation to seek earthly honor that Jesus needed the calmness and strength which come from communion with God. 3. "It is I, the all-seeing Saviour." The disciples were out upon the tempestuous sea, in the dark, and in danger. They thought themselves alone, formaken, but through the midnight an eye from the mountains was upon them, for the Master was watching. 4. "It is I, the protecting Saviour." Again Jesus comes to their relief, although, as they see his form walking upon the waves, they are doubly alarmed, dreading a messenger of death, How often that which we dread proves
