

THE CHANGE OF THE "LIMB"

Half an inch, half an inch, half an inch, whether the skin be for mother or daughter.

LITTLE SISTER

By H. Ray Baker

MANICUS Hayden sat at the window of her room and looked out at a dreary, drizzly day.

Manicuss Hayden sat at the window of her room and looked out at a dreary, drizzly day. Sunday.

WORRY

In the year 1883 Herbert Spencer wrote in his book "Principles of Psychology" that worry is a state of mind.

HE WONDERED WHERE

Jenkins was sitting down to breakfast one morning when he was told by the waiter that an announcement of his own death had been made.

THE THINGS WE DO NOT OBTAIN

Charles Henry's mother wonders if the time will ever come when she will not have to be wakened by her son.

HE WAS EMBARRASSED

An Irish sheriff had a wife who was a young widow, and on coming into her room one day he said to her: "Madam, I have an attachment for you."

A PRAIRIE LETTER

Last week the readers of the Press were favored with an interesting letter from the pen of Dr. E. J. Bunker.

When Julia went away for a week to the west, she had a letter from her mother and a letter from her father.

As the car approached the life bridge, Melville discovered the girl standing there a strange feeling came over him.

She stood up and looked at him with a smile that was beautiful. "That's what they all say when they want to leave you for someone else."

The nose was inclined to be "pig" which gave the face a kind of stumpy look, and the hair was kinky stringy.

Prizes for everyone. In life's contests there are prizes for everyone. It is not every young man who can get on his feet.

THE FARMER'S EXPORT MARKET

The Canadian farmer to-day stands on a different footing from his neighbor in the States.

There is another factor which will have a decided effect upon the farmer's export trade.

The 18th Amendment deprives the American people of their right to drink.
