- Oakville's tax rate is 25 mills this year.
- New wheat will soon be on the market.
- The threshing machines are getting busy now.
- That new chief's cap is quite becoming to Officer Cooney.
- The succulent sweet corn is now on the family menu again.
- Yellow harvest and tractor and apple are now in season again.
- Citizens are returning from their summer outings and camping expeditions.
- Rev. Mr. Meyer will occupy his pulpit next Sunday after his refreshing holiday.
- The oat crop is turning out well and the aftermath will afford splendid pasturage.
- Like all other foods honey is bringing high prices this year—30c to 35c per pound.
- Horse races, of the class Acton is able to secure, don't count for much, and they will not draw.
- Contractor Forbes is laying the new cement driveway on the south side of Lower Avenue.
- The waterworks contractor will require to do some bustling to have the water turned on in October.
- An American silk factory is corresponding with our municipal authorities with a view to locating here.
- William H. McCredy, of Milton, will be the featured speaker at the Milton in the coming referendum vote.
- The street cleaning of the past week on Mill Street is an improvement that was not accomplished too soon.
- The corn fields are good promise. Some fields of earlier crops already show stalks eight to ten feet in height.
- Methodist Sunday school picnic next Thursday in Fred Dennis's grove.
- The same delightful picnic as last year.
- Nearly every farmer has a bunch of binder twine or a motor car when leaving town these days.
- Guelph Mutual Society Band will hold a big tattoo with five bands next Wednesday evening in the Exhibition Park.
- The new Highway Act requires future appointments to office of county road superintendents to be civil engineers or surveyors.

- Messrs. Townshend: "Will you please let the taxpayers know what you are doing toward having the new shoe factory tenanted without further delay?"
- The action of Rev. Jarner and Chief Cooney in closing up the gambling "fakirs" outfit at the Saturday demonstration was very generally appreciated.
- An added touch of realism will be given the Canadian National Exhibition spectacle this year by a large tank in action—over the top with the Canadians!
- The statutory allowance to jurors is now $4 per day and 10c per mile. This may be increased to $5 per day by county council, and in districts by the Lieut.-Governor.
- Some people are wondering if the Methodist officials were trying an additional plan for popularizing the evening service last Sunday, by omitting the usual offering.
- The voice of the people—the real people—is found in the country week-end rates than in the great city districts. The government should remember that and not be misled by mere noise—farmers' sun.
- Keep books! The value of the farm account book is beyond question. It is just as necessary to the success of the business of farming to keep books as it is to the success of mercantile business—farmers' sun.
- Notorious weeds, after July 23, on vacant land in towns and police villages may, on ten days notice, be cut or occupied, be destroyed and the cost placed on collectors' bills against the property.
- Lorne Cunningham, an alleged Bolshevist, of Guelph, has been advised by the Chief of Police that he must be more moderate in his utterances, or steps will be taken to prevent him from speaking publicly.

A Holiday In Ontario's Summerland

A Delightful Week on Muskoka Lake and in Island Camps

PICTURESQUE SCENERY, PRETTY LANDSCAPES AND PURE AIR

The Muskoka Lakes with their cool and inviting islands, rugged shores and wholesome atmosphere, are the holiday headquarters for thousands of the people of Ontario and beyond. They evidently warrant the popularity in which they are held throughout the year. The editor and Mrs. Moore at least half a dozen summer residents of islands and camps in the Muskoka region that they had continuously spent their summer holidays in that delightful climate for thirty or thirty-five years.

W. D. Watson gives his definition of Muskoka in the following striking poem:

MUSKOKA
God made the sea and land,
Just as they thought it should,
And then he had the birds,
He pronounced it "very good."
He said, "There's just one other thing—
I'll make some rocks and mountains around."
And from the forest hills
I'll make soft, poetic music that shall be heard in every wooded island swept with the sweet melancholy air of God's green earth.
With emerald hills, high,
And with the Archangel's work was done.

In accents strange and low,
An April wind "stepped" from behind
And whispered "Muskoka."

Picture the Summerland of your dreams, where clean swept blue lakes look down on crystal clear waters of shadowed river or broad lake; on wooded islands swept with the sweet melancholy air of God's green earth. With emerald hills, high, and with the Archangel's work was done.

Perhaps you have never been in Muskoka; have never breathed its invigorating air; have never gazed round its bewitching hills; have never seen the rugged shores and wooded islands of the Muskoka Lakes; Muskoka, the Highlands of Ontario, the Muskoka region, which is a holiday in the summerland of their fondest fancy.

Do you seek the quiet of unspoiled nature for your best of rest from the rush and turmoil of a busy life? Then turn your thoughts towards Muskoka, where you can enjoy the peace and beauty of the Muskoka region, which is a holiday in the summerland of their fondest fancy.

by periods of bringing the hull for each cottage from Mortimer's Point, and the mill, from "Powell's Farm," Mr. H. L. Moore and family and his brother-in-law, Mr. E. H. Hodge, occupy a cottage on Silver Island, a quarter mile away.
