MILTON

Milton is soon to have an Italian fruit store which is to be located in the premises recently vacated by Mr. Baker, the jeweller.

There is some talk of following the lead of other places and holding what is termed a "Community Pic-nic," in which townspeople and country people join.

Dr. and Mrs. McClean and daughter have left for Kimberley Point, Bala, Muskoka, for a few weeks.

Mr. Alexander, Vice-President of the United Iron Foundry and Machinery Co., Ltd., addressed the Council asking that the town guarantee the bonds of the Company to the extent of $50,000. Mayor Earl very frankly and without any hesitation whatever told the deputation that there wasn't the least chance of the town doing what they had requested, as the statutes clearly forbids municipalities guaranteeing bonds or making loans to such an extent as would involve an annual payment of more than 10 per cent of the municipality's annual income from taxes or other sources.—Reformer.

Mr. Fred Wrigglesworth will take his splendid team of grays and two bay drivers to Toronto this week for competition at the big exhibition. Fred knows horses and how to fit them up. He has been very successful at the Toronto Fair in past years.

A prominent Toronto man, who had been spending the week-end with friends in Acton, and was making an early trip in his car to the city, to reach his office promptly for the opening hour, came to grief opposite lot 3, on the seventh line, about 6 a. m. Monday morning. The bearings of a rear wheel went awry. Through the good offices of Mr. Fred Wrigglesworth and his new Grey Dort car a Georgetown mechanic was soon brought to the spot and repairs made. But it would be noon instead of morning, when the Toronto man reached his office.

A big loaded moving van passed up the seventh line on Sunday morning. Our quiet Sabbath-observing residents do not relish this kind of thing.

A large number of the residents of this section attended the funeral of the late Richard Graham on Tuesday. Mr. Graham spent a lifetime at Ashgrove. He was an esteemed public-spirited resident. He served the community for many years as a member of the township and county councils.

He sustained a couple of broken ribs and was badly bruised.—Gazette.

THE MISTAKES YOU DO NOT MAKE

A man once explained his large salary on the ground that it was given him for the mistakes he did not make. That is something which a great many young people might reflect upon with profit. Sometimes you feel that your employer does not give you sufficient credit for what you do, that you are not appreciated as much as you should be. But do you stop to think that advancement and raising of the salary are in part dependent on the mistakes you do not make? Every mistake lessens your percentage of efficiency.
