"LES MISÉRABLES"

In cataloguing the masterpieces of literature the one that would be sure to include the "Les Misérables," by Victor Hugo, is one that is not only powerful and brilliant in style, but also one that is a masterpiece of human kindness. The author has poured his own heart into this book, and the result is a work that is not only a masterpiece of literature, but also a masterpiece of human sympathy. The story is set in France during the French Revolution, and it tells the story of Jean Valjean, a man who is condemned to prison for stealing a loaf of bread to feed his starving family. He escapes from prison and becomes a fugitive, but his kindness and courage win the hearts of many people, including a young girl named Cosette. The book is a powerful statement about the power of love and the human spirit.

"THE OLD MAN OF THE CLOCK"

I heard the other day that a feebler in town complained that I was swearing at the happyes the week after Acton Fair when I suggested that I'd like to have heard Jim Ross on his pipes when I was sitting on a bench on the street. I was not swearing at the happyes, I was just talking about the pipes. I have always enjoyed hearing Jim Ross play, because I always liked him and always liked the music. I remember how often Jim with his pipes had put out into parties and social gatherings in the many years since he became proficient on the pipes. One case in particular comes to mind. When Blannockburn community was giving the farewell evening to Capt. John Ross, when he had sold out and was going out to Illinois to live with his sister there, Jim Ross and his pipes put "him into the party." It was held at the Waverley home on the fourth line, and was an occasion ever since remembered.

RIGHT REAR TIRE WEARS MORE THAN LEFT, SAY EXPERTS

The fact that tires on the right-hand side of a car wear out faster in proportion to those on the left-hand side is not new. The popular supposition, that this wear is caused by turning many corners to the right, is incorrect. The fact is that the increased wear is actually caused by the pitch of the road, which throws more of the car on the right side than on the left.

INSURANCE FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

All returned soldiers and their families will be interested in the Returned Soldiers' Insurance Act, under which they are entitled to an opportunity of obtaining life insurance at most favourable rates. The Act is now in force from September 1, 1929, and will remain in force for two years. Under the provisions of the Act any heavily disabled soldier, sailor, or nurse, of the Canadian Forces, domiciled and resident in Canada, may insure with the Government to an amount of not more than $5,000.00. Under certain conditions the widow of a returned soldier, who died subsequent to discharge, may also obtain insurance.

In addition to former members of the C. E. F., the provisions of the Act are available to anyone, male or female, who served during the late war in the Imperial army, or with the forces of any of the allied countries, providing they were domiciled and resident in Canada before the war and held such honorable discharge. Many of those who served overseas while not suffering from a severe disability, but that their physical condition is such that they are unable to obtain life insurance at all or only at a prohibitive cost, are normally denied. They, therefore, find themselves severely handicapped in providing for their dependents. Under the Returned Soldiers' Insurance Act all returned men are placed on an equal basis as no medical examination is required.

The premium rates are low. They vary with the age of the insured and the class of insurance chosen. At the age of twenty-five a straight policy for $1,000.00, costs $1.74 per month. Thirty-five the rate is $1.70 per month. Insurances are limited in the case of a married man, his wife and children. An unmarried man or widower without children is required to name his future wife and children as beneficiaries. The insurance money may be paid to one or more of his immediate relatives according to his wish.

An exceptional advantage of this insurance is the provision made for all branches of the Great War Veterans' Association; the Soldiers' Aid Commission; Imperial Veterans' of Canada; Grand Army of United States; Army and Navy Veterans; Department of Soldiers' Civil Reimbursements; Military District Headquarters and District Offices of the Board of Pension Commissioners; or direct from the Commission on Returned Soldiers' Insurance, Transportation Building, Ottawa.

Brochures explaining the Act, and application forms may be obtained from all branches of the Great War Veterans' Association; the Soldiers' Aid Commission; Imperial Veterans' of Canada; Grand Army of United States; Army and Navy Veterans; Department of Soldiers' Civil Reimbursements; Military District Headquarters and District Offices of the Board of Pension Commissioners; or direct from the Commission on Returned Soldiers' Insurance, Transportation Building, Ottawa.

KEEPING UP APPEARANCES

Nothing is gained by making people believe you are better than you are, or richer than you are. It would be foolish if it were not so, to use how much money is put into advertising an impression of prosperity not justified by facts. Indeed the same ingenious appearance would be a long way toward making them really prosperous, if they applied it rightly.

THIS NEVER HAPPENED

It was a woman, of course, who driving in the middle of the road had forced the man to turn his car into the ditch where it chugged, and he, of course, thought she was of her kind, however, she stopped and apologized profusely. "Well, why didn't you give me a hand?" he asked. "Oh, I am afraid your car is so much when it comes to driving, I simply had to drive over near it to see it better," she explained. "I was sure you had." Just then the man had faintly.

The Old Man

The editor tells me that some old chap whose memory is less, "tricky than mine asked why I didn't put Jacob Snyder, the father of the Bishop's family of this section, into the Brick Church story. Well, to tell you the honest truth, I don't know where the editor of the Brick Church story got the information that the esteemed patriarch, Jacob of the Brick Church, was the owner of the twenty-acre tract of land on the corner lot above John Snyder's property, and the Brick Church was on the other corner of the east
