But some gentle hand, in that distant land
May scatter some flowers for me.
And some loving heart may shed a tear
For us in anguish sore,
For the life so fair, that is ended there
Away on that silver shore.

Neighborhood News--Town and Country

BALLINAFAD

Anniversary services were held in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday. Rev. W. L. Findlay, pastor of Knox Church, Acton, preached able sermons morning and evening. There were large congregations at both services.

The farmers are busy digging potatoes and picking apples. The potato crop is very good and very little rot is found in this locality.

A split log drag run down the seventh line for two or three lots from the corner and on the town line for a couple of concessions would greatly improve the driving.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elliott visited friends in this locality last week.

The potato digging machine this year has demonstrated its utility on the farm. Numbers of the farmers in this section this year have had the digger at work. It clears up the potato field in short order. It can hardly be said, however, that the work of the women folk is reduced. Ten hungry men for dinner and supper on potato digging days is as bad as an old-fashioned threshing.

OAKVILLE

Many farmers have gathered a dozen or more baskets of mushrooms recently. They have not been so plentiful for years.

The Methodist service on Sunday evening was withdrawn on account of the Presbyterian Church re-opening.

On Friday last, Byron W. Conover passed away at his residence in town after only a week's illness resulting from a heavy cold. He was in his fifty-eighth year.

Some stir was caused on Sunday by the hum of a large seaplane, in command of Col. Barker, which alighted in the lake here and moored to E. T. Lightborne's pier.

A large cabbage, which weighs twenty-three pounds, is on exhibition in the window of Hill's grocery.

There was a terrible motor accident on Colborne Street about four-thirty on Sunday afternoon, when Alexander Macdonald was struck by a large motor car being driven east by C. A. Burns, of Toronto.

MILTON

There were no cases, civil or criminal, to come before the fall assizes on Tuesday.

Anniversary services will be held at Knox Church on the first Sunday in November.

The annual meeting of the Halton County Children's Aid Society on Thursday evening, November 4, in Knox Church School Room, Milton, will give the people of this county an opportunity of hearing Judge H. S. Mott, of the Juvenile Court, of the city of Toronto.

Thieves broke into the workshop of John Hunter three times lately, the last time on Monday evening, and have stolen his tools, a tool chest and a quantity of hardware.

Last Saturday kind-hearted Brampton friends of the inmates of the Halton-Peel house of refuge gave its inmates a motor trip to Milton. Justice Justin in his car, headed the procession.

A 12-box crate of raspberries was sold on the Hamilton market Saturday, by a Milton farmer at 50 cents a box.

Complaint is made that within the last week or so vessels containing flowers, placed on the graves in Evergreen Cemetery, have been wantonly smashed.—Champion.

On the eve of her removal to Toronto to Mrs. John Syer was presented with a purse of gold and an address by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church last Friday evening. The address was read by Mrs. W. B. Clement, president.

BANNOCKBURN

Mrs. Young, of the fourth line, who was in the hospital for treatment for several weeks, returned last week much improved in health.

Another evidence of the deep-seated sentiment and reverence for the old home was seen here last Friday. Mr. Fred Warren, of Beatrice, Neb., whose father spent his boyhood days on Cedar Creek Farm, the home of the Warrens for four generations, paid a visit to the old homestead. He was accompanied by Mrs. James L. Warren, of Toronto, who lived happily there with her devoted husband for many years of their wedded life, and her sister, Mrs. John R. Kennedy. Mr. and Mrs. Young, the present owners of the homestead, gave a cordial welcome to the visitors. Mr. Warren took a walk over the old farm and visited the fields which Mr. Young and his stalwart sons have cleared up and cropped this year. Mr. Warren visited the old spring near the creek for a drink of the good cool water he always enjoyed so much as a boy—when visiting his uncles. During his visit Mr. Warren remarked: "Always heretofore I have gone home with interesting incidents to relate to father; but this time I have a new experience, for father passed away last spring. He was in his 93rd year, but talked of the old farm and of the Bannockburn School until the day of his death."

Saturday was a great day for beech nutting in this section. Numbers of Acton young folks were over and secured good quantities of the sweet little nuts. The beech nuts are larger this year than usual.

BURLINGTON

The high school pupils are making arrangements to hold their annual Hallowe'en party on the 29th inst. It promises to eclipse other years.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will hold their bazaar on Friday, December 3.

On Sunday afternoon at the Public Library the ladies of the O. C. H. C. brought their labors to a fitting close by the unveiling of the Honor Roll of enlisted men from Burlington and the vicinity.

Harry, the ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smith, had a narrow escape from drowning, back of the revetment wall on Sunday afternoon last. In company with another young lad, named Henry, they started out in a punt to Mr. Smith's boat, which was moored out from the shore. When nearing the boat, Smith in some way lost his balance and fell overboard.—Gazette.

OSPRINGE

Mr. Dugald Robertson, an esteemed resident of this locality for many years, died on Tuesday of last week in his eightieth year. The funeral to Everton Cemetery on Friday afternoon was very largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Spence left for their new home in Toronto last Thursday after spending a very enjoyable week at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Robert McCutcheon.

Quite a number of the farmers of this section have been teaming turnips to Acton and Rockwood lately. The crop this year is an exceptionally good one.

GEORGETOWN

The council is contracting with J. A. Willoughby for water at his club house at a flat rate of 10 cents per 1000 gallons, with a minimum cost of $50 per year for five years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Wilkinson and family, who have spent the summer season at their home here, have returned to their home in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Murray, who recently sold their home, have moved to Acton. During their long residence here they made many friends who regret their removal, as they have always been good residents and excellent neighbors, willing to do anything in their power to help and befriend anyone in trouble. Their hospitable home was a place of cheer and pleasantness to all who entered it, but what is our loss is Acton's gain.

Misses Reid and McKenzie, who have been conducting evangelistic services in this neighborhood the past two months, closed their campaign on Wednesday evening. These earnest Christian ladies have made many friends during their stay here, who wish them God-speed in their work.

Mrs. Horne, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bower and children, and Mr. Jos. Brott, all of Burlington, visited at Mr. M. Crewson's on Sunday.

In Memoriam

MRS. R. L. HEMSTREET

The unexpected death of Jane Wilkie Hume, wife of Richard L. Hemstreet, was a great shock to her friends. She had been in the best of health until she was taken ill on Sunday of last week at her home on Mary Street and she died on Tuesday morning following. She was a daughter of the late James Hume, of Esquesing, and a sister of Mrs. Robert Stewart, Milton. There are two surviving brothers, James Hume, Hornby, and Wm. Hume, in California. The funeral, which was private, took place on Thursday to Evergreen Cemetery, Milton.

CYRUS W. ANDERSON

Cyrus William Anderson, one of the oldest residents of Oakville, and grandson of one of the pioneers of this district, died there on Friday in his eighty-third year. He had lived in Oakville all his life and for many years sat as a member of the town council. With his son, Mr. Anderson conducted a private bank there, with a branch at Palmerston. Mr. Anderson is survived by his wife, three sons, Stanley P., of California, and James Hall and Cyrus W. Anderson, of Oakville, and two daughters, Mrs. (Rev.) H. S. Magee and Mrs. W. T. Hambrook, both of Toronto.

TERENCE MacSWINNEY'S SUICIDE

The End Came Monday Morning—the 73rd Day of His Fast.

London, Oct. 25.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, died at Brixton prison, at 5.40 o'clock this morning. His death followed a hunger strike of more than seventy-three days, eclipsing any in the annuals of the medical world. MacSwiney, who had been unconscious for several days, did not recover his faculties before he died.

—"I enclose renewal subscription for Free Press. This weekly letter is always welcome. The "Old Man's" contribution is very full of interest. Good luck to him and his Mary."—E. P., Brougham, Ont.

—The highest offer for the 20-year 6 per cent. Sixteen Mile Creek bridge, County of Halton debentures for $20,000 has been accepted, C. H. Burgess & Co., Toronto, being the purchasers, at 95.26.

—At this time of year motorists driving through wooded sections should be especially careful about throwing away cigar and cigarette stubs. Let no motorist be responsible for a destroying forest fire.

A FAMILY ALMOST WIPED OUT

In Spain, and particularly in the province of Andalusia, families are of a size that would have startled even Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. Hamilton Kyfe, the writer, was touring Andalusia on horseback one winter and spent the night in a fonda near Los Boliches. At dinner, over his hominy soup, Mr. Kyfe was amazed to see the multitude of daughters that the innkeeper possessed.

"You have a fine, a very fine family of daughters there," he said.

"Senor, you are good to say so, but," replied the innkeeper, "we've been very unfortunate with our daughters. During a terral two years ago the chimney fell in and killed all but eleven of them."

WHEN ACCOUNTS ARE BALANCED

We often hear it said that sooner or later all men reach their proper level in this world. To those that have achieved wealth, honor, and social distinction this is a very comforting doctrine. But it does not have quite so pleasant a sound in the ears of the honest, laborious, and worthy souls that somehow or other have failed of success. In a perfect world it would be true; but in a world that is full of moral disorders—as ours is—it is not true. Real merit is often overlooked in the distribution of rewards. Incompetency frequently gets the prize that ability deserved. The next life will witness a wonderful squaring and balancing of accounts.

New Warehouse for Co-operative Store

The Township Tax Collectors

At the last meeting of the Esquesing Township Council the following tax collectors were appointed for 1920: Ward No. 1, Peter McGibbon, 2, Henry May, 3, G. H. Thompson, 4, M. Turner, 5, H. K. Lindsay, 6, William Mobile. They will receive $35 each for their services.

Counter Check Books

If you are in need of counter check books now is the time to buy. Counter check books, like all printed matter, are steadily advancing in price. They will not be cheaper and, in all probability, they will be dearer. Everything points to a stiff advance. The Free Press is agent for one of the largest and best known counter check book firms in Canada. Customers are assured of prompt and effective service. Let us book your order, Mr. Merchant.

Treat the Kiddies on Hallowe'en

The plan adopted by many of our citizens for Hallowe'en has been quite successful for several years. The mode of procedure has been to give the kiddies and young folks welcome when they make their evening calls in their masks and camouflaged costumes, treat them to apples, candies or cookies and wish them a real good time. This plan has overcome much of the senseless molestation of and destruction of property. Try it on Saturday night and make the children happy.

—A sale of household effects of Lewis Chiswell, Rockwood, will be held on Saturday, October 30. Purchases made by parties at this sale will be loaded on the train at Rockwood.—H. J. Kerr, Auctioneer.

Cream and Creameries

The first case in Wellington County under the new milk and cream regulations, embodied in a Provincial Government Act was tried in Guelph police court on Wednesday, when an Erin creamery man was the defendant. Under the new Act all cream purchased at creameries has to undergo what is known as the Babcock test, and must be purchased by weight instead of measure. The Act also provides that the creameries must keep samples of cream purchased one day until ten o'clock the next. It is alleged by special agents of the Government that the Erin dealer did not comply with the provisions of the Act.
