Rev. Prof. Farmer, of McMaster Iniversity, Toronto, is no stranger in occasions. A cordial welcome always back home again, swalts him.

This was true last Hunday when he reached at the anniversary services. Large congregations greeted him at both services. His messages were able and timely expositions and his exhertations to the young people to give hemselves for Christian service were fervent and inspiring.

In the morning the sermon was based on John 1: 42, "He brought him to Jesus," and the emphatic introductory that the whole, of the first series was assertion was: "Religion is one's perexhausted several months ago: .. A new | sonal relation to a personal God." One series of thirty-four boxes has been who is saved from sin is also saved installed this week and more than from selfishness, and the Christian who is saved from selfishness will be eager to carry the message to others. We should not wait for others to come to us, but we should go and tell them of Jesus' message, In order to proness men in business hours can do much: 5. Do not yearn for service in far away fields when the barvest is ripe at home. The army of God must ight the wickedness of the world to-

The text for the evening discourse was from Mark 13: 84, "Thou art not far from the klugdom of God," The groutest meed in all denominations is strong young men and women to go into the quiet obscure places to work for God. This requires herolem, but the harvest is sure. The question may be asked: "What is living near the kingdom?" It is to love God better than any external thing. We will have no permanent forward movement until we undertake to de Christian work all through the week, not on Bunday only. The devil likes the creed "No religion in business."
