Brief Local Items

Now for frosty nights.
Another big fair is over.
Heavy days with the millhands.
All roads seemed to lead to Acton yesterday.
Apples are maturing much earlier than usual.
The political pot is beginning to simmer again.
The park has been connected up with the waterworks.

The attractive orange pumpkins have in the recent cornfields now.

Flora-Horticultural Society held a very successful flower show last week.

From the appearance of the corn fields the silos will be crammed this next.

The People's Political Party nomination will be made at Milton on Monday.

Frost warning! The Fair's over. Have you renewed your Fair Pass subscription?

Next Sunday will be observed as Rally Day in the Sunday Schools of all denominations.

As usual the Fair brought a host of former residents from the cities and other outside points.

"Piled to capacity" was the announcement to late comers at the Fair night concert last night.

Mr. John R. Watson has the foundations in for a new house on Main Street next to his own residence.

The induction of Rev. Mr. Stewart as minister of Knox Church, will be held to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock.

The Council did it. The streets were neatly cleaned up before the fair. Citizens generally say, thank!

Mr. M. McLean's newly rebuilt residence on Beaver Avenue is nearing completion. It is considerably enlarged and greatly improved.

Look for the names of the balance of the prize winners of the fair in next week's Free Press.

At the Hydro meeting held at downtown last week committees were elected to canvas the township for application for service.

The recent Marriage Law amendment Act appointing a notary of each municipality as issues of marriage licenses will go into effect October 1.

It evidently pays to advertise. No less than nine persons called last week to buy the washing machine advertised. The first call secured the bargain.

Samuel Charlton, M. P., was the unanimous choice for Peal at the Conservative convention at Brampton on Tuesday for the coming House of Commons election.

Geo. Drift, of Lovellie, had about 200 lbs. of honey stolen from his apiary lately. He offers $50 for such information as will lead to the capture and conviction of the thieves.

Saturday morning's splendid rain did not good to this section. It removed almost all possible grass already freshened by the pastures and given an impetus to the newly-sown grain.

It is said that a summer with a big corn crop is usually followed by a winter of severe frost and heavy snow. We have the winter's share of the winter's share of the comp.

The Women's Misionary Society will hold a meeting in the Methodist Hall, 100 King St. (Burke) on Saturday, Oct. 1, 1921, at 7 p.m. Mrs. Alice G. Kitchin, M. P., will deliver an address on the Indian work there.

The cooler air of the morning and the evening, and the deepening and changing colour of the forest leaves are the only tangible signs that the gay pageant of summer must soon come to a conclusion for 1921.

Mr. John Ramsey, of Hyrcusine, N.Y., who was visiting in town, gave an interesting and very helpful address to the Model School School last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Ramsey was a member of the school about thirty-five years ago.

Mr. Bonelli C. Cooke, assistant factory manager of the Partridge Rubber Company, returned from injuries by being run over by a C. P. R. train when returning home from a dance last Saturday morning. He was a fine young man, 25 years of age.

A courtesy appreciated by your guess is to have the visits mentioned in the personal column of our Free Press. And whenever you go away your friends will be interested to learn of the fact in the same way. Blend some tea by mail, or call us up—phone 124.

THE RALLY DAY CALL

Mark the call, the rally call over the world 'tis ringingly forward, forward, one and all, joyful tribute bringing.

Lifting high the banner bright, Haste with new endeavour, and right, Loyal, faithful ever.

Mark the call, the rally call, Come, the proudest voice; Where the Master's footsteps fall, March with glad heart, and all—Lastic DeArmond.
