Times are changing in the drug business. Out of an enrolment of 133 at the Ontario College of Pharmacy there are 17 lady students, which shows the trend of female employment since the war.

Young Men Entering Business
The FREE PRESS has always felt a keen interest in young people of the community, and in their successful settlement in the activities of real life in business or professional, or farming or artizan vocations.

Prohibition and Pauperism
A rather remarkable result of prohibition was brought to public notice the other day, in an address before the Canadian Embalmers' Association, at the Anatomical Building of the University of Toronto, by Dr. J. D. McMurrich, Professor of Anatomy.

Acton Cemetery—Perpetual Care of Plots
The suggestion of adopting the plan of perpetual care of "Fairview Cemetery, under a commission of citizens, is regarded very favorably by many who have friends interred there.

The Programme of the Fall Fairs
Up to this time the directors of Acton Fall Fair have adhered closely to the purposes for which the fair was established, viz: the exhibition of live stock and poultry, of farm and town; the products of the farm and garden; the handwork of the ladies in domestic science, dairy, needlework and fine arts.

Canada's Fight of the British Cattle Embargo
It is gratifying that Canada is not now fighting alone in the effort to have the British embargo against our cattle removed.

Keep Learning! Live Learning! Die Learning!
The other day the Editor overheard a High School student make this remark: "Well, thank goodness, this will be my last year at school.

Business Revival on the Horizon
Indications are gradually looming up which point to the return of better business conditions. The effects of the war as related to business are being overcome.

In 1911, R. B. Bennett, Conservative M. P. for Calgary, stood up on the floor of the House and declared that "Mr. Meighan was the megaphone of Mackenzie and Mann." To-day he is a member of Mr. Meighan's Cabinet.

Sir George Foster, Hon. J. D. Reid and Hon. A. Calder have gained "the sheltering roof" of the Senate in time to avoid the storm, says an exchange.

The Vankleek Hill Review thinks the Government in Ottawa have forgotten the value of the dollar. They have become so accustomed to speaking in millions, that to-day every man, woman and child in Canada would have to raise between $200 or $300 each to meet our bonded debt.

That Germany is making a most efficient attempt to meet her obligations and recover her economic stability, is the opinion of Prof. James Mavor, head of the Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto, who returned to the city last week after an extended tour of Germany, Austria and Hungary.
