MILTON

Mr. Jas. Murray's new bungalow on Woodward Avenue is nearing completion, as is also Mr. T. Cox's large brick residence on Martin Street.

The several deer hunting parties have returned home from the northern hills of Ontario, and in nearly every case they brought home their full quota of deer. They report the hunting to be extra good this year, all kinds of game being quite plentiful.

The appeal case of Nixon vs. Arsenault, heard in Toronto yesterday, was dismissed with costs.

A lot of fall ploughing is being done these days, the land being in a most favorable condition.

J. E. Holladay, of Nelson, called on the City for the Mills for his home in the Old Land. He was accompanied by C. Davis, of Milton—Reformer.

PRINTER WAS PEEVED

Charles Harris, in the printing business, got slightly peeved at a letterhead from a doctor who wanted him to send several thousand letterheads, different sizes, different grades and different colors and weights, the printing form held standing. He Charles took his typewriter in hand and wrote:

"Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis. One, two or five inch incision—with or without ether, also with or without nurse. If appendicitis is found to be acute, want quotations to include putting same back and cancelling order. If removed, successful bidder is expected to hold incision open for about sixty days, as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gallstones at that time and want to save extra cost of outfitting."—Canadian City Post.

THE BURDEN OF TAXATION

The financial condition of Canada in various respects. The estimated expenditure for 1921-22 is $606,302,439. That means an annual burden on every citizen of five in Canada of between $300 and $350, which makes a big hole in the average income. It may be contended that this is due to the war. Let us make two allowances for the war items: $31,917,624.84 for the Land Battle; $6,017,000.00 for the Civil Service; $3,738,932.64 for Demobilization; $202,880.00 for a total of $42,673,437.48. Subtract this war expenditure of $42,673,437.48 and the fixed interest charges of $149,000,000, total of $231,567,438.48 from the total estimate of $606,302,439.94 and it leaves for the general administration of the country for what is generally known as a controllable expenditure, the huge sum of $374,735,001.46, between $300 and $350 per family.

At this in a large summary expenditure on receipt of the war it follows that the "war" account should be excluded in regard to all other matters. But as Mr. King has repeatedly pointed out it is unwise to expect economy from the present Government. It has the war habit of making a big hole in the budget of in thousands and spends accordingly. In 1919 a million and a half were spent on the war habit of making a big hole in the budget of in thousands and spends accordingly. The Franchise Act now involves an enormous expense which could have been saved by making use of provincial funds. The estimated cost for the Mounted Police recently was $4,764,066, and in addition it is proposed to spend $10,000,000 on barracks in Ottawa. This is part of the Government's unwise policy of moving the headquarters of the force to Ottawa, where it is not needed. In the past it did splendid service in protecting the western coast of the West and in 1910 the total cost of the force, including pensions, was a little more than $4,000,000. The Government proposed also an expenditure of $2,000,000 for barracks for a permanent force but this was cut down owing to the proceeds of the Opposition. Already there are in the country 194 drill halls and armories and only 25 experimental farms. Here is an illustration of the war habit of mind.

In almost every branch of administration, including those which were little or not at all affected by the war, there have been large increases. This is no evidence whatever of a resolute attempt to get back to a peace basis of expenditure.

VOTE FOR PEACE AND GOOD GOVERNMENT.

"THE SECRET POWER"

A new romance of the time, by Marie Corall, under the above title, proves to be a romance unlike any other. It comes to the top of the wave of the world's immediate thought. This author of "Violet," who charmed readers everywhere with her "Tholma," "God's Good Man," "Holy Orders," and "The Love of Long Ago," with frankness and fearlessness which are admirable, handles this new and radical subject with a skill and sustained interest which is characteristic. Her prophetic insights surround this romance of the time in a manner which causes the reader almost to feel that she is inspired in her prophetic. "The Secret Power" is a book which no one will care to miss for the reason that it strikes the top note in the present day of human invention and ingenuity. Its theme is positively new and amazing. Its love interest thrilling and strikingly original, and in all respects it is different in its treatment to any other book of present-day authorship. "The Nysson Press, Toronto.

A Youthful Philosopher

When Mrs. Brown was walking with her small niece, who happened to remark that her feet were tired, says Harper's Magazine, "My feet got tired sometimes, too," said the little girl, "but I just think what an awful nice ride my stomach's having."—Christian Conservator.
