Brief Local Items

—Merry Christmas.
—Nominations next Monday.

—Christians in Christianity's heritage.

—Make it a real holiday next Monday.

—Yesterday was the year's shortest day.

—Hanging up the stockings—good big ones.

—Renew your subscriptions this week.

—A little more snow would make us all glad.

—There is no dearth of coal so far this winter.

—Skating at the rink is hoped for on Christmas.

—Brighten the corner where you are.

—Our Christians—especially hope it will be a "white" Christmas.

—The merchants are distributing their 1922 calendars.

—Nominations on Monday at twelve o'clock, for one hour.

—Christmas visitors are already reaching the old homes.

—The stores are already heavy with Christmas business.

—There has been good skating on the ponds the past week.

—Sunday's nor'east storm was a real old-fashioned blizzard.

—The rural school meetings will be held on Wednesday next, 28th inst.

—The York Times has received many letters from letter to poster.

—Test the goods offered by these press advertisers. You'll be well served.

—There'll be no lack of passenger trains on the train for the next ten days.

—Advertising is not a modern invention—read Numbers 23-24 and Ruth 4:4.

—Exeter Council has voted the House $750 salary, and $50 to each Committee.

—The real Christmas spirit is a beautiful development, and we're real up the day itself.

—Oakville L. O. D. E. is giving $200 to the Public Library of the town to buy new books.
