As was expected Roove E. A. Harris. of Burlington, was honored with election to the Wardenship at the inaugural meeting of Halton County Council on Tuesday. Although Mr. Harris is one of the young members of the cing nicely. Council, he has had a long experience in public affairs and is well qualified to ably fill this important executive office, and perform the various duties pertaining thereto.

In Reeve Hillmor, of Oakville, Mr. Harris had a strong opponent. He is one of the oldest and most experienced members of the County Council and has given much time and attention to the business growing out of his posttion. The fact, however, that Mayor Forster, of Onkville, then Reeve of that town, was Warden two years ago, rend-lisher of the Burlington Gazette, is the third member of the county press who has been honored with this covetted position. Mr. R. D. Warren, of the Georgetown Herald, was Warden a dozen years or so ago; and Mr. A. S. Forster, of the Oakville Star, occupied the Warden's chair during 1920.

The still was quite a clever conwas concected from wheat, raising and molasson was contained in a fivegallon oil can; to which was attached a copper tuba . This tube led into the condenser which was a five-gullon beer keg, and the liquor was condensed by means of a cumningly devised copper worm connected with the tube and terminating when it passed through an apprature ut the bottom of the keg. When the fluid passed this point it was the bootlegger's finished product, and was caught in a vessel at the bottom as it trickled from the copper worm. The officers secured a two-gallon jug of the home brew when they visited which had been distilled the night

After the trial a number of the cour and county officers sathered around to inspect the bootlegger's outfit. Some of them got a sip of the product of the still, declaring it had plenty of kick, but was rather unpulatable and not in any respect inviting to the normal

The officers have other suspected parties in the vicinity of Milton who are due for a raid one of these fine
