BE SQUARE

We may name a hundred drawbracks That is mun must most in life. We must say it's all a "bottle" And a nover tending "atrife." Then resolve to most it bravely-I littend the test, and do and darathat the secret of true victory Lies in our word, Just be "Hauare.

There is something in the twinkle Of an honest follow's ove That can mover be mistaken And can never be bassed by. He his station high or lowly, . There's that dauntless upright uir. Which convinces all beholders That the man they see ly "figuare.

Heaven give such men influence Over those they dully ment. If they see a fallen brother They will help him keep his Make the "menks" a bit uneasy-Make the "false" act kind of fair, For the greatest rogue on record Will respect the man who's "figuare."

Ernest L. MacFarlin

remained that they rebelled when will- as infallible. locted to too severe struin. It had a great deal of studying together, Roy sensibly that since it was an im- right, then. Come along. Hurry up window because she had not cooked it rouding aloud, and saving his slater's possibility, the loss she thought shoul and get your rubbers." eyes. But Roy was now to anter un it the better. But suppose it was We started off down the roul I with meanness and outrages that dyspeptic oustern technical school, while Estelle possible. She bogan to wonder if she than fishing-poles across my shoulder, devil could suggest to him. And then, had hoped to uttend a local woman's were not too receptive of other people's and Gray-Eyes twirling a rubber over- after her decease, spending twenty college and thereby be spared, the opinions. Day after day she went shoe in each hand. As we trueged years in extelling her excellence and

"Heriously," Anid the doctor, speaking she said, "that you'd want to board a contempt, especially when she was the wife, and the wife praise the cook, student in return for her help about looking at you now in a way that and the cook praise the butcher and to show how serious it was, "you the house" steady work much sooper-than most folks. Hut these eyes must be humored, and college work won't humor

"I'm sorry to have you disappointed, girl who wants to come to college and the reassuring sunshine.

yes, Estelle, college is out of the ques- ed eagerly. tion with those troublesome eyes of the matter, and began to make plans for the next year in which college had S'no part. But she had an uncomfortable feeling as if her life were out of joint. Should not know-how to adjust herself to the changed outlook. Ever since am very anxious to enter college in through the dark spruces, out across dren here, heaven will more than make she could remember, she and Roy the fall. I have been assured so often the sunny meadows nearly to the amends. T. DeWitt Talmage. had talked over their plans for college, that it is impossible that it seems a river. And now the afternoon had and she felt as if the bottom had little presumptuous to set my own gone, as only Saturday afternoons cal' dropped out of something she had opinion against the opinion of every go; the shadows of the alders were long thought of as substantial. Estelle had one else, and yet I can't give up. For and purple; it was time to think upon that she might have less time for my books and tuition. Now if I od back at the unoffending Gray-Eyes. from New York, and when his turn for thinking. As she was about to could get a place where I could pay | Her hat was hanging by its stastic; came he reluctantly drew three hunstart upon an errand for a neighbor for my board and room by doing house her dress was wat and draggled. She dred dollars from his pocket, and takone day her attention was attracted by the throbbing sound which still has the power to thrill the pulses despito the case with which the world

"An airplane," Estelle exclaimed. "Come quick mother, and look!" They went through the gate of the white wooden fence, and against the blue of the sky saw the latest development among the blouds, now indulging to read somewhere that someone-I in hair-raising manocuvers, as if to vary the monotony of the journey, said that impossible was an imbecile The mother and daughter gazed silently ut the apoctacle still unfamiliar enough to seem a miracle. ".

"How queer it must seem to birds," philosophized Estelle. "They must feel us we would, if all at once we haw a super-man stalking around the streets, terribly big and strong and uble to do any number of things Mrs. Gilette ... laughed. "Docsn't sound pleasant a bit, does it? I don't which are so commun that sometimes -"Estella's cheeks were flushed, her don't care if I'am all wet. See his red It seems as if there must be a law eyes unnaturally bright. "Why, don't spots, and lan't be a blg one? I'm so which governs them, that Estelle should you see?" she cried. "It's the way glad I got, him! I wish he wouldn't have come across her grandfather's for both of us. Two impossibilities make his mouth go like that. Do you letter, that day, 'She was dusting the make a possibility." books in one of the cases in the library and had taken out a heavy volume about?" with a leather binding, when the letter !

dropped' to the floor. She examined live with his, and instead of working it and uttered an exclamation. grandfather to father. And it's the road them to me until Y loarned funniont thing; it was written when them." I was about a month old."

books," said Mrs. Ollette taking the the wife of the registrar. ponderous volume and turning its leavest. "No one has opened it. I work out," exclaimed Mrs. Gliette. I can take him and the poles, tou.". suppose, pince he left us. And very "But it seems so simple that I don't likely the letter his been shut up in know why no one thought of it." It over since he first read it." the idea. Estelle dropped her duster the campus to enroll, one of them acand scated herself on a hussock. "Bit commoduting her pace to that of the my fish, and Lwant to carry him my down and read the letter aloud, other who walked with a slight limp.

dorful new grandchild." the reports that had been received as she saw it. "Nothing's impossible," And I had made her stay behind all regarding the new baby and its mother. | she declared. Mrs. Ollotto road that portion with a rather uncertain voice, for the letter which she had never seen, brought back vividly the happiest time of her lfa. Then the letter pussed to bits an ever about what, he dails 'dominion was a hoy!"

or you or l. In our little talk I tried to remon with him and to show him that tir expect man to fly wan an rememble he to expect him to develop ullis and live under water like a fish. would mover think of his boing unsound in mind, but us his seems mubbs Then there was Joo Wallace, that crue I don't know that argument can help him, but it would do no harm for you to write and point out that he is ondangering his reputation as a think-With love to Mary and the little new arrival.

of the ulr.' Otherwise he is us unne

"Your father."

Mrs. Ollotte lot the letter drop Into har lap. Hor eyes met those of daughter and both laughed aloud. "It doesn't mount possible," Estelle excluimed. "Only eighteen yours age and grandfather was no mire it would never be. And yet it's already such an averyday matter that we wender how long wa'lt be interested enough not be too late yet. At least I could the banister is well turned, or the wall o look out of the window at an air- irv.

"It shows that we ought to be very sure before we prenounce, a thing bapossible," said Mrs. Cliette, "Put the letter away, Estelle. Homotime when Aunt VI is here, she will be glad to

Mrs. Cilette was very fur from huspecting what an improved it had been made on Estelle by hearing her grandfather's letter. Estelle had been hearbut the word "Impossible" very frequently lately. Ithe had yielded to its repetition with the feeling that would be altogether useless to hold out against it. But now the wondered of going to college. The coullet how many people believed air navigahad been the first to tell her tion mossible before it had been demonit was impossible. Though strated, it was underestimating, rather her eyes were as bright an any girls, than exaggerating to may not one in

"Heriously," hald the doctor, speaking errand. "I don't suppose, Mrs. Gliette," worms was not to be held in utter ly ingenious, let the husband praise the house, I need work about the house, spruce woods on each side, and alto- cheer others, but we help burselvos.

It was a matter of wonder to Estelle suppose, though," she added, "It's as lands to the river. that so few of her friends were sur- long as it's broad, for some college and friends all said blithely, "Why, have you," Mrs. Watts?" Estelle askyours," and then began to talk of Watts glanced at the girl's flushed for her.

"Dear Prof. Watts:

of the Mirror Lake High School, and I we followed the turnings of the trook, injustices, and fatigues of God's chi' plenty of pluck. Few, of the people writing the best solution of a mystery the stern consequences of being late. A train in the Western States of who met her during those hard days story which appeared in one of the for supper, and not a fish, not even the American was hold up by bandits, who guessed what a battle she was fight- city paper, I was awarded a prize of feeblest nibble! I was tired and cross ordered the passengers to give one hundred dollars, and that with a and hungry. There could be but one their money, She kept herself as busy as possible. little money I have saved up will pay reason for such fortune, and I soowiwork, the problem would be solved. sung quietly to herself as she waded ing six, but them in his pocket, > ing, they think I must be delicate and splashed through. ure afraid to give me anything hard to do. They needn't feel that way. "I had almost given up the idea of going to college as everyone said it was impossible. And then I happened suppose it must have been Napoleon-wouldn't give up till I'd tried everything. L'don't care how hard I work "Very truly yours. "I'. H. I forgot to mention that I ing the water as I went.

led my class in High School, though that might not help me in getting a Gray-Eyes. I looked back, She ha "Don't you call that un uppealing the line. Something thrashed letter?" usked Mrs. Watts looking up | water: then: (Iray-Ryes was wading know how the birds feel about it, but from the carefully written shoets. But toward the bank, holding that someit doesn't seem as if I would ever out- Mrs. Cilette did not answer. She was thing tight in her skirt. She knelt grow the thrill of seeing a man in staring perplacedly at Estelle, "Why, down in the tall grant. my dear child," she cried, "what is the , "O Tom, come quick!

"She could come here, mother, and for her board, she could read me my as I strung the trout on a branch of "Mother, look! Here's a letter from lessons. And it would be her part to Mrs. (lilatte, looked at Mrs. Watts. "That was one of your father's "It's a perfectly wonderful idea," cried "I don't see myself why it mightn't

On the day pollege opened, two There was something fascinating in Freshmen walked side by side scross strated. "I did, awful, the other day," mother," begged, "Let's hour, what Suddenly the faint purring of a motor caused them to lift their eyes. A moving speck in the northeast was swiftly the tears. I should have liked to stay The first part of the letter, as Estelle approaching, taking definite form as out there on the meadows alle night, had assumed, was devoted largely to it neared them. Estelle laughed softly and let Gray-Eyes go home alone unswered the other Freshman. STILL MISSING

of news more or less intelligible after. Johnny-"Say, paw, I can't got these. We came in sight of our stable, and a lapse of eightden years, and at the 'rithmetic examples. Tempher said I could see the men sitting about the conclusion was a paragraph which set somethin', bout findin' the great com- big door in the twilight. We should mon divisor." . "Haw Rundall to-day, the first time | Paw (in disgust)-"Great Scott! sob that had been in my throat so in over a year. And you'll be sorry Haven't they found that thing yet? long popped out in spit of me, I felt to hear, my boy, that he's as grazy Why, they were huntin' for it when I Gray-Eyes' hand touch mine. .. She

I should never have thought of letting Jane go Jishing with me, but "Cruy-Eyou" was different. The was not my slater, that was the main point. He's working away at an invention Bull she was a girl, and girls have no now, and I really feet apprehensive business to want to go tishing. I felt about his future. At present unless mean and abased that I, a man, should you touch on his monomania, you promise, in a moment of weakness, to share my birthright with a woman. to throw off libe delindon, there is no wynto and satirist of the school yard. knowing how man he will be worse. - what if he sould find it out? What would be say on Monday morning? On the wholes I was in a pretty defected state of mind, and was digging for worms in a hulf-hearted wort "Oh, let me blck them up!" she cried, going down on her hunds and kneed lng man, by holding much an attitude of way, fown by the kitchen-garden, toward something clearly impossible. when Gray-Eyes herself came skipping out of the house and across the laws. in the noft parth. "I'm not afraid.

"You feel all right this afternoon? I inquired, politely. strong, pren't you?"

way. I'm afraid I didn't think how fur it was when I told you about it. l get tired myself sometimes." Her fuck-brightened. "I don't mi walks," she said, decidedly. "I hever Gray-Eyen looked up unriously.

"That's an awful pobbly breek, wollloruized, looking up at the sky "My foot are all big blue bumps after I've been wading in it. Hurbs too." "Perhaps I'd botter wear my rub wrd," she suggested.

"Ioe Wallace saw a trainp up there without the aid of glasses, the fact little too tendy to accept that verdicty."A great-big one with black whiskers." life, according to his own statement, la Estelle began to do w. great deal of "I shouldn't be afruid," she said. 'You two weeks at Craigenputtock, fifteen been hard work getting through High hard thinking. Hhe had put the idea would take care of me, wouldn't you?" miles from any settlement, not speak-Echool. Fortunately her brother was of going to college out of her mind as "Why-ch, yes, of course," I made ing a word to her, and at Cheyne How, in the same class, and they had done for us she could, considering very haste to answer stoutly. "Well, all London, pitches un omelet out of the

"You know enough already, don't you?" Joked Dr. Strong. "Why do you want to be a blue stocking?"

Want to be a blue stocking?"

Why do you the impossible be made possible?"

Mrs. Watts, wife of the registrar be depressed long on such an after be depressed long on such an after be depressed long on such an after the college Estelle had hoped to attend, dropped in one day on an Estelle.

Statelle.

prised by the had news. All of them, girls uct as if they felt above the work bunchberries and pulled off her shoes over the ground! I am sure we will and stockings, while I baited the hooks be there sooner than I at the start of the sort. Aunts and uncles, cousins "You haven't the letter with you, and pondered deeply. I ought to let expected," . Why, such a spirit inher fish shead of me us we waded spires the driver, grouses the wagon-"Why, yes, I have, Estelle." Mrs. not expect to have everything done the spavined legs of the horses. Com-something else. Some of them is face and thought how sweet it was of I had been kind to bring her along. Applause rather than dispuragement; deed, wondered at her disappointment, her to be so interested. "Now listen," anyway extremely kind. None of the Hociality rather than ostracism! Her. Perhaps no one, not ever Estalle's she said as she smoothed the crumpled other fellows would have done it. And sion instead of anuthemal Pasan in-

> Tiptoeing over forms and mosses, or and pass them in to the pleasures that "I am a girl of eighteen, a graduate | wading unkle-deep in the cold water, never die! For all the neglects, and "I shall have to tell you that I am slong, patiently untangling her line a little bit lame. I really am very when it caught in the branches overstrong and not ufraid of work, but head, and finhing with eager hopofulsometimes when people see me limp- ness in the very peols I had just

"Why don't you catch-soothing?" she called, quite innecently. "How can I when you so splanhing found that way?" "Why, I don't. Not half us much as

"Well, I don't keep singing loud | tuining and steadying power, Thousword and I made up my mind that to the river. You catch me taking a girl fishing again, I knew how it would be. You won't get anything in that pool. Didn't you see I started down-stream again, lash-

> There was a little scream from dropped her pole and was pulling at beauty? How do you take him off?

suppose it hurts him? Poor thing! I "Estelle, what ure you talking wouldn't lose him for unything. Come Y hurried back.

'He lan't so very big," I remarked. "He is. He's a monster. Ever so much bigger than the ones you and Uncle Al got the other day. Ever and ever so much," "Well hurry upl It's most suppor time. You'd better let me carry him.

"No. I' going to carry him myself," said Gray-Eyes, decidedly. "But you'll smell all fishy," I remon-"I don't care!" she insisted. "He's

"All right, carry him, then." I had to swallow hard to keep back the afternoon, und had splushed in "'Impossible," an imbecile word!" the pools when I passed them to scare away any trout that might prefer her hook to mine. Gray-Eyes kept giving me little side glances us we walked along.

have to pass thum, too. The little

"Here, Tom, you take it now," she I did take it, little wrotch that was, and marched past the stable door as if I were a conquering emperor instead of the meanest beggar on earth

Gray-Ryen followed a little way behind. My father met us on the lawn. "Well done, won!" he sald, approv-"Wo'll make a fisherman of And behind my father, a crowd of sunts and comins, their hands Titled in admiration, came to marvel, to ex-cluim, to brulue me us I stood there the evening light, holding up the front. But no one thought of Gray-Eyes, und Gruy-Kyes never told .- C

SPEAK ENCOURAGEMENT

oil, us well no the cruets of vinegar You want to catch right hold of their and cayenne pepper. The vast ultiheads and pull quick, before they have tudes have more burdens than they time to get their feet braced. Then can earry. If you can unbuckle the thy won't break to please. I know, strup one hole, so us to make it less Uncle At told me. Isn't that the way? | tight, do so. "flear ye one another's I nedded. The fear of Joe Wallace burdens, and, so fulfil the law of was strong upon me. Why did I Christ" If a mechanic does for you promise to take her lishing? It taight a nice job of work, let him know that this afternoon? constructed, if the goods that come from your grocer are excellent, when you wettle the bill let him know what thorough antisfaction he has given you. if, after long endurance from poor "Bocatise," I continued, "it's a long shoemaking, you get sandals that neither pinch nor chure, let the man who sits wearly pulling the waxed through through the leather know that ind he hap moved you from pedal martyrdom. If a book that you read consoles or instructs or inspires you, inform both author and publisher of that cheering fact. If a musical instrument charms your household, so inform turner and manufacturer. If a coat nts, thank the tuller. He more economical of your consure and more prodigal of your encomiums.

Take warning from Thomas Carlyle, Gray-Eyes laid her hand on my arm, making his wife, une, miserable. For to suit him. Inflicting upon her all the necessity of leaving home. But now it through her duties with an upright along, my heart grew lighter. After deploring his injustices. Appreciation seemed that college was out of the crosse between her brows, indicative all, this was not so bad. The road was while living! Bo that our sentiment of concentration. Night after night shady and cool and mottled, where the and habit, and while anon coming to "You know enough already, don't she wrestled with her problem. Could sunshine came through the leaves, like approbation, let the

made you souff hard in the dust from baker. When the child rapidly ad-In spite of the negative form of pure self-satisfaction. It was a little vances in schooling, put him on the careful treatment your eyes are going the statement, her voice lifted on the brook, but in those days it seemed shoulder, and send an applauditory to stand by you all your life. Probably last word showing it a question. Mrs. deep and mysterious and awful. It ran note with him to his overworked (lilette laughed. "Instead of help about first through a ravine . with thick teacher. In that way we not only My maid is so competent, and Estelle gether fearful place, dark and cold even Seated in a carriage, you want to does so much that I am left with on the brightest and warmest of sum- make many miles in a short time. mer days. You never fished long here Ruppose you begin by blowing up the "I imagined that would be the case, but hurried on, with quick glances over driver, and then tailing him what a her mother was not at all surprised. But my husband had a letter from a your shoulder, to the warm meadows lasy and ugly team he is driving, and at overy jolt shouting, "Ouch!" dear," she said. "And I own I'm dis- next year and both he and I formed a. There the brook, was yellow and as though you were being injured. The appointed, too. But your eye-sight is very favorable impression of her. And shining, and ran swift with a rattle result of all will be slow progress and a too precious to risk, even for the sake I did want to get her into a nice and rasp of tiny pebbles. Long grasses grouchy driver and an unpleasant Jourof anything us important as a college home," continued Mrs. Watts appeal- hung over into the water, and hobbed ney. Say to the driver, if you do so education. And I've been atraid for ingly. "Some people have such queer up and down with the current. You truthfully, "I atrapped you have been some time that what you wanted was ideas about the proper way to treat could mark the brook by the alder a driver so long you are expert at the college girls who work for them. I bushes winding across the meadow- business. Those horses look as though-Gray-Eyes sat down among scarlet My! my! How fast we are going down the brook, I knew, but she need wheels, smooths the road, and limbers mendation instead of hypercriticism. I had been kind to bring her along, Applause rather than dispuragements remaps no one, not even Estalle's shoets, "See if it doesn't give you the mother, knew quite how deep the distance will be impression of a really worth-while leader, she might scare the fish; reprehension! Compliment instead of leading the model of the leading a girl who did not believe in making strik. And forthwith she began to other people shoulder the burden of her troubles. She put a bold face on "Prof. II." D. Watts: "Registrar of the Carey Woman's was better that Gray-Eyes should stay presence of an assembled universe

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS

A train in the Western States of One of the pussengers was a Jew "What do you moun by that?" asked

"Hurely," 'minwored the Jew, "you don't mind me taking u I per cent. discount on a cash transaction?"

MEAT AND DRINK FOR THE MIND Great books are meat and drink for.

the mind. They have a wonderful ausunds of youth have been saved from moral shipwrock by their influence and many a boy has been preserved from the cell associations of bad companions by the power of an inspiring book, which held him at home in spite of temptations to follow his associates to low places of umbsoment and souldestroying dissipation. The possession of a small library-even if it-be only hulf a dozen of the great books of the world-is worth a fortune to a Joung writes a City Brokerr -- "We simply could indt conduct our business without Long Distance. Any man who thinks his business is efficiently conducted should see a Telephone Exchange at work. My visit last week opened my eyes.

"Worth $50 a day"

We are all telephone "boosters" now." Visitors to Exchanges are

DUNLOP TIRES

"There's something in the Quality of Dunlop Tires that's missing from other tires. Don't know what it is, but when I make that quick stop I know instantly I have Dunlop Tires on !"

Q One motorist thus spoke for himself. He really was speaking for thousands of

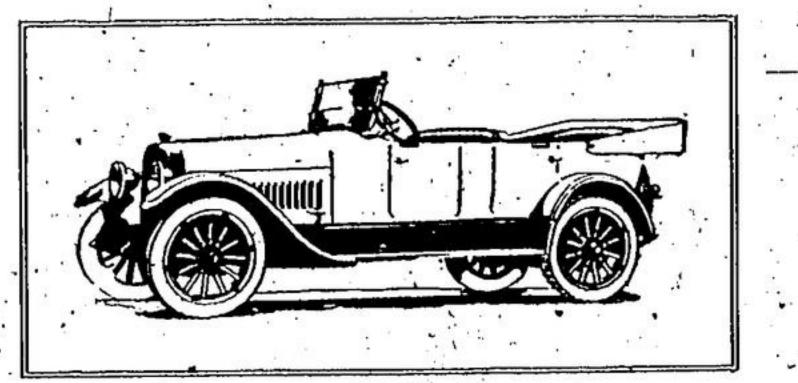

. Q. Live Rubber and Best Egyptian Cotton go into Dunlop Cords and Fabrics. No shoddy. no skimping. The day of the short-mileage tire is gone; the day of the high-mileage tire is here; and when "tire-mileage" is up for discussion now, you find the word "remarkable" generally precedes a reference to DUNLOP.

> DUNLOP CORD TIRES DELIVER THE MOST MILEAGE_ARE SAFEST TO USE

Dunlop-Tire & Rubber Goods Co., Limited

Branches in the Leading Office

Studebaker Motor Cars!

J. N. O'Neill & Son

Distributors of Dodge Brothers and Studebaker Motor Cars for Georgetown, Acton and Milton

L. E. Atkinson - Local Representative

ADVERTISING is the public expression of a master's will and wish---his word of power.

We want to say this to the merchants of this community:

You CAN make the public of this community buy more goods from you.

You CAN teach the public new customs, new tastes, new habits. You CAN make the public do what it is not in the habit of doing. Powerful and persistent advertising has revolutionized modern life. It sends people travelling. It has made them photographers. It has made the motorcar a necessity. It makes women change the fashion of their apparel twice or thrice a year. It selects the very food we eat.

A Note to the Public

Does not the publicly expressed will and wish of the merchants of this community influence you in your shopping? "Do you not go where you are guided? Are you not very attentive and responsive to the advertisements which appear each week in the columns of THE ACTON FREE PRESS.

Shop Where You Are Invited to Shop

Issued by Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association

Shop Where You are Invited to Shop

Refrigerators

THAT WILL REALLY KEEP THE FOOD WHOLESOME

No. 32 Challenge White enginel tined with retinned wire shelves, too chamber lined with galvanized steel, high. Primer at $20.00.

No. 364 Challenge-With ash case. insulated with certin und internal wool, white enamel bronze hardware, Size 28 % wide, 44 % high. Priced at $28.00. No. 366 Challenge-White enamel fined, clearable flues, self retaining cantons. Hise 33% wide, 45% high. Priced at $3350. No. 369 Challenge-Made of ash with swing hase, five walls insulated certic and mineral wood. Hise 254 wide 54 high. I'riced ut'836.00. No. 2 Labrador - Hanne au alenve, 16% Wide, 41 % high. Priced at $17.78. No. 4 Labrador-Golden oak finish, removable shelves, all metal provision and for chumber. High 20% wide, 44% bigb, Priced at $21.00.

The BOND HARDWARE CO. Ltd "We Have: What You Want"

> This Store's Policy

To represent goods exactly as to their quality: to sell to those who know and to those who don't know at a uniform fair price; to fulfill all guarantees and cheerfully correct all mistakes; to deserve your confidence, by always giving you satisfaction.

Savage & Co.

Jewellers

GRAND TRUNK STILTER The Double Track Route

MONTREAL .- TORONTO

Parlor Cars on principal day trains

District Passenger Agent, Toronto. H. S. HOLMES, Agent

Vull information from any Oran

Trunk ticket egent, or C. E. Horniva

R. NOBLE Ltd.

Acton Elevator

At Grand Trunk Station Just Arrived-Car No. 1 Feed Oats

RECEIVED FLOUR, FEED, NORVAL BRAN AND SHORTS, FEED FLOUR

A QUANTITY OF FEED CORN

AND OIL CAKE JUST

R. NOBLE Ltd.

Surprising Bargains

For Acton Ladies Summer Shoes

CANVAS TANS OXFORDS, ETG.

Very low prices on a lot of good goods in small sizes.

The quality is there and the prices are as low as the COME IN FOR BARGAINS

W. Williams The Shoe Man

Mill Street . Acton

Ohildren Ory FOR FLETCHER'S' CASTORIA