THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 1, 1922

Let Us Have Standard Time

The annual middle over time continues. Some towns and cities in various parts of the country have adopted daylight saving time, others, and many of them, stand by standard time.

Police Court Fines to Municipalities

Results of the recent delegation from Western Ontario, who asked the Minister of Justice to remedy a seeming injustice arising through the Province claiming police court fines, were seen when Sir Lomer Gouin introduced his bill to amend the criminal code.

The Utility of Hydro-Electric Power

Acton's importance as a manufacturing centre is well demonstrated in the amount of electric current now consumed, in comparison with that of some neighboring towns of similar population.

HUMOR IN NAMES

The recent marriage of a couple whose respective names were Peter and Lave does not create a record in curious coincidences in nomenclature.

THE THIRTEENTH EGG

One day during vacation Joan decided to make an angel food cake. "I will come out and show you how," suggested mother helpfully.

PUNCH AND JUDY

Well, here we are, Judy! Do you know Thursday came round quickly! Have you got some good riddles in store for us this week?

PRIME MINISTERS OF BRITAIN

How many could give right off the names of Great Britain's Prime Ministers in say the last two hundred years?

CHINESE TRAFFIC RULES

As a means of preventing automobile accidents the Traffic Safety Association, an organization composed of leading Chinese of Shanghai, has issued a list of suggestions.

ANTIQUITY OF GENOA

According to tradition, Genoa was founded in the time of Abraham, by "Janus," first king of Italy, descendant of the "Gonos," and great-grandson of Noah.

HABIT WAS TOO STRONG

The force of old associations, as Edward Port learned one Sunday morning, is something against which he was on guard.

MISPLACED CONFIDENCE

The tendency is to talk loudly when excited. Most people seem to think they had weight to what they have to say by raising their voice.

GENTLEMEN ALL

A small boy, aged four, had just told his uncle that he had started on his school career.

Great Britain's Greatest Prime Minister

Under whatever conditions of stress; under criticisms the most caustic and severe; under circumstances when the average statesman would quail in considering possible results to himself and his public reputation and position, Lloyd George, the Prime Minister of Great Britain, is invariably accorded the confidence, not only of the people at large, but of the great majority of the members of the British House of Commons.
