THE FARMER FEEDS THEM ALL

The King may rule over land and sea, The Lord may rule right royally, The soldier rule in peace and strife, The halberd rule on the ocean wide, But this or that whatever befall, The Farmer, he must feed them all.

The Writer thinks, the Post alas, The Craftsman follows whatsoever he, The Doctor heals, the Lawyer pleads, The Minor follows the pretence leads, Just this or that, whatever befall, The Farmer, he must feed them all.

The Farmer's trade is one of worth, His pasture with the sky and earth, He pasture with the sun and rain, And no man knows for his gain, And men may find him out may fall, But the Farmer, he must feed them all.

God bless the man who sows the wheat, Who feeds us milk and fruit, and meat, May his power be heavy, his hand be light, His cattle, his corn, his all his right, God bless the seed his hands set forth, For the Farmer, he must feed us all.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the issue of the Free Press of Thursday, June 12, 1902

Saturday's showers were very refreshing.

Some of the fruits of the past week came deliriously near to doing serious damage to garden stuff, flowers and plants.

A baseball match between Henry's tannery and Henry's glove factory was played in the park on Monday night. The team from the tannery won by a score of 2 to 1.

Moore, Fred and Little Hyder both played with Westwood Lacrosse Club at London in their championship match on Saturday.

At the annual session of the Hamilton Conference, which closed at Woodstock on Tuesday, Rev. T. Albert Moore was elected president by a very flattering majority. Acton hosts congratulated her worthy son upon his preference.

FREE SEED TESTS

Farmers and seed merchants will be gratified to hear that the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, Hon. W. B. Motherwell, has determined to restore the privilege of having seed tested at his government laboratory free of charge to the extent of ten samples from each applicant. This free privilege covers a period extending from the first day of May in one year to the last day of January in the succeeding year. During the months of February, March and April a fee of fifty cents for each test will continue to be made owing to the congested state of the laboratory at that period due to the testing of trade samples, and samples submitted by seed inspectors under the Seed Control Act.

While the free privilege is open to all the vitality of seed can be readily ascertained by farmers and others by planting a hundred or two hundred grains in a cover pot or box of soil, which is kept moist, but not wet, and the pot or box placed in a sunny window, but not subjected to either excessive heat or cold.

Laboratories for seed investigation, conducted by the Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, are established at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Calgary, but there are also district inspectors having headquarters at Truro, N. S., for the Maritime Provinces; at Quebec City for Quebec Province; and at St. John's, Nfld., for Ontario; Ottawa serves for Eastern Ontario; Winnipeg for Manitoba and Saskatchewan; and Calgary for Alberta and British Columbia.

SEVERAL WATCH-DOGS

What would you think of keeping a snake instead of a watch-dog? If you live in some parts of South America you would probably find one necessary, for poisonous snakes are so common in these parts of the world that a thousand serpents die from snake bites.

In India a little creature called the mongoose keeps snakes away from houses; but it does not thrive in South America, where its place is taken by a harmless snake known as the murena. The latter is thick and muscular, and about four feet in length. One of its favorite articles of diet is poisonous snake.

Having scented a poisonous snake, the mongoose attacks it, and kills it. It never retreats in an attack. No sooner has this happened than the murena, whose life is at the base of the brain. Then it gives it a bite which proves fatal. If this snake does not succeed, the murena catches hold of its enemy's lower jaw and breaks it back.

Several murenas have been established in South America in order that large numbers of murenas may be available for distribution to the owners of snake-ridden houses.

Wise mothers who know the virtues of Mother Gray's Kidney Pills, will always have it at hand, because it proves its value.

MEANEST MAN

Who was the meanest man that ever lived? Surely the doubtful distinction was earned by the Irish knight referred to in Dr. Pausanias's Hellenica. "Recollections of a Parisian." This man, whose name was Ploet, had established an unenviable reputation for avarice. His wife, who used to keep a coffin in her bedroom at Dublin, in which she wished to be laid after her death, died away from home. Ploet thereupon dispatched the following note to his steward: "Kindly send me her ladyship's coffin, and make use of the opportunity by filling it with fruit and vegetables, as nothing of the kind can be bought here."

The order was obeyed. The coffin arrived crammed with eatables, which were taken out and replaced with the remains of Lady Ploet.

A GUESS

A leading citizen of an Ohio town was stricken with appendicitis and an operation was deemed necessary. The editor of the local paper, a nondescript sort, heard of this and printed this "verdict" about it:

"Our esteemed fellow citizen, Rufus O. Gethem, will enter the hospital tomorrow to be operated upon for the removal of his appendix by Dr. Smithers. He will leave a wife of two children."

"Pep Sprague and Brulise"—There is nothing better for the cure of rheumatism than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It will reduce the swelling that follows an sprain, relieve the inflamed flesh and draw the pain. It will take the ache out of a bruise by counteracting the inflammation. A trial will convince any who doubt its power.

JEREMIAH SAINT INTO PRISON

Jer. 38: 4-13.

Children Text—"He was afraid because of them for I am with thee, saith Jehovah."—Jer. 38: 1-3.

Historical Setting—This is the story of the prophet Jeremiah's imprisonment in the Temple by the king of Judah, who was then being besieged by the Babylonians.

Lesson Comments—

Verse 4.—Zedekiah, a son of Josiah, was now king. Jeremiah had incurred the displeasure of the king by declaring that the Chaldeans would surround and burn the city. This prince would isolate the courage of the army by hiding the truth.

Verse 5.—Though the king believed in Jeremiah, and was persuaded, he still would not let him go, for he was afraid of the Babylonians.

Verse 6.—The "dungeon" was a deep, narrow, and dark place, where prisoners were confined. It was a place of suffering and death.

Verse 7.—Zedekiah was a man who was divided in his mind. He was torn between his duty to God and his fear of the Babylonians. He was a weak and wavering ruler.

Verse 8.—The king was a man of many faces. He was a man who was divided in his mind. He was torn between his duty to God and his fear of the Babylonians. He was a weak and wavering ruler.

Verse 9.—The king was a man of many faces. He was a man who was divided in his mind. He was torn between his duty to God and his fear of the Babylonians. He was a weak and wavering ruler.

Verse 10.—The king was a man of many faces. He was a man who was divided in his mind. He was torn between his duty to God and his fear of the Babylonians. He was a weak and wavering ruler.

Verse 11.—The king was a man of many faces. He was a man who was divided in his mind. He was torn between his duty to God and his fear of the Babylonians. He was a weak and wavering ruler.

Verse 12.—The king was a man of many faces. He was a man who was divided in his mind. He was torn between his duty to God and his fear of the Babylonians. He was a weak and wavering ruler.

Verse 13.—The king was a man of many faces. He was a man who was divided in his mind. He was torn between his duty to God and his fear of the Babylonians. He was a weak and wavering ruler.

MOVIE IDOL TO DO A MOUNTAIN-CLIMBING MARATHON

CHARLIE THE CUT-UP

MT. WADYA IN THE CANADIAN ROCKIES, TESTS THE CLIMBER'S SKILL

Charlie Chaplin wants to make a picture in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. In preparation of such a picture he plans to spend his next vacation in tramp-dress over these mountains; no little patch-work climbing for Charlie, but a hike right across the Rockies.

There are few seasons yet expected to meet Charlie on the out-of-the-way mountain trails. They may fail to recognize the knickerbockered, officiously about young climber the baggy-trousered, mule-ear, or even favorite, but it will be Charlie Chaplin, getting a close-up of the wonders of the Northland, the wonderful that the man to put on the silver screen for the delight of the staring public.

Devotees of Charlie's art are all lively with excitement, for in recent years the screen, their idol's acrobatic efforts at mountain climbing and half-breed adventures in the region around Banff and Lake Louise.

NOT WITHOUT CONSIDERATION

"So you wish to leave to get married, Mary? I hope you have given the matter a serious consideration?" "Oh, I have sir," was the earnest reply. "I have been to two fortune-tellers and a clairvoyant, and looked in a, zodiac book, and dreamt on a lock of his hair, and have been to one of those interminglers, and to a case book, and they all tell me to go ahead, sir. I ain't one to marry reckless like, sir."

WOMEN'S VARIOUS VOCATIONS

There are to-day two women architects in Paris. Both passed their examinations with special distinction, and the fact of their being women was mentioned in the presence of forty-seven male examinees.

BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU SIGN

An elderly farmer up in Arras town, who came very nearly being put out of his house by some foreigner through the signing of a document, the contents of which he did not understand. It tells of a "Trust Impromptu" deal, and he was asked by the foreigner to sign it. He did so, and the foreigner was recommended to him as a trustworthy person to handle their business.

Nature's Mint

Makes $$ Out of C. c.

To the "New" being the days when soil suggests could be shaken from among the grass roots.

But that's good news, the days of opportunity are not yet gone for the boy with grit and push! To nature offers solid gold—green, white, red, yellow—all within the little plants of ground which he can call "my garden." Here he can raise beans so transparent, tender and snappy; tomatoes so fat and red; corn of melting sweetness. All these he can well to another far and near.

Heeds out but little. Perry's Pure-Bred Seeds are 100 a paper. They are the blue bloods of garden—the pick of acres devoted to scientific growing and selection of seeds. They are the "at the store" around the corner. Send for Perry's Seed Annual—checklist of garden lists. Tells which vegetables are best for the home garden. Write today. Get an early start on your garden.

Is the Golden Idea that Pays.
