DIED

STOVEL—In Guelph, on Wednesday, July 5, 1922, Harry C. Stovel, first editor of The Confederate, Mount Forest.

IN MEMORIAM

McPHERSON—In loving memory of Christina McPherson, who died July 11, 1910, in her 35th year.

We watched you suffer, day by day,
It caused us bitter grief
To see you slowly pine away,
And could not give relief.

Brief Local Items

—Cut those weeds to-day.

—This is turnip hoeing time.

—Yesterday was "The Glorious Twelfth."

—The wheat and barley harvest is at hand.

—The Orange and Blue predominated Yesterday.

—Put your heart into your summer holidays.

—Flowers are everywhere at Acton homes now.

—Local news on every page of the Free Press.

—Wild raspberrying parties are very popular again.

—The Orangemen sweltered on their "walk" yesterday.

—Building operations are lively in all parts of town.

—Home early-sown fields of oats are beginning to turn already.

—The work on the new highway makes quite a stir about town.

—Acton had a full quota of baseball fans at Campbellville on Saturday.

—Another week has passed without repairs to the Milton-Acton highway.

—Have the Free Press sent to your holiday camp or summer visiting points.

—Please do not throw your paper bags, wrapper or envelopes on the streets.

—No, the Orangemen don't mind a little shower or two on the Glorious Twelfth.

—The Free Press will be sent to any address in Canada to January, 1923, for $1.00.

—New potatoes and green peas were popular on the Orangemen's menu yesterday.

—Bootleg whiskey doesn't appear to have lightened the burdens of anybody except the foolkiller.

—A good many farmers have had difficulty in curing their hay, because of the frequent showers.

—Sunday was a great day for the motors. Most every one in the community was in commission.

—The sum of $3,500 has been placed in the Dominion estimates for improvements at Oakville harbor.

—The walls of the Second Block are going up rapidly. They show quite an attractive style of architecture.

—Orange lilies lasted until the Twelfth in some gardens and every one of them was put into commission.

—At a garden party at Carlisle, near Campbellville, at the Methodist Church, the total proceeds amounted to over $1,000.

—Why not enforce the Noxious Weed Act? It will be too late when the country is overrun with their ripened seeds.

—The Acton crossroad from the town to the seventh line requires attention. Numerous depressions should be filled with gravel.

—The workmen on the new highway are making rapid progress with the grading now, between Acton and Crewsons Corners.

—The stone crusher is at work on the second line, and the roadway at lots 31 and 32 is receiving a liberal coating of crushed stone.

—A good many houses are being repainted this season. There are a number more which would be greatly improved with a coat of paint.

—Boys and girls who jump on passing rigs run the risk of serious injuries. Little Herbert Taylor narrowly escaped fatal injury last Thursday.

—The Lishman Block is going forward now with fine progress. The foundation walls are about completed, and the super-structure will soon follow.

—The "old swimmin' hole" is in great demand these days. Remember your bathing suits, boys. The police say they are not very comfortable in hot weather.

—The frame house on Main Street next to Mr. Neil McDonald's residence, is being raised, a new foundation is being built under it, and it is being otherwise improved.

—A number of Acton golfers, who use the Willoughby links at Georgetown, are loud in their praise of the golf grounds and of the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby.

—Dozens of people have their wants supplied through the Free Press. Lost goods are found, sales are made, houses and farms are sold and rented, and articles not needed are disposed of.

—The High School Board, we understand, have only received one application in answer to their advertisement for a Principal, and the salary asked for is $3,000! What do you know about that?—Milton Reformer.

—The Adanac Orchestra, of Galt, formerly Eitel's Orchestra, 4 pieces, has been engaged to play during the summer months on every Thursday evening, at Suburban Park, near Acton, by auto, via Crewsons Corners. Don't forget this Thursday evening.

—There is a neighbor of ours, who rises early, while it is yet dark, and hoes his garden at five o'clock in the morning. And we rise up and call him an industrious man. There is another neighbor who rises early, while it is yet dark, and mows his lawn at five o'clock in the morning, and we call him all sorts of things.

FOREGOING A THRILL

"I am now in communication with Cleopatra," said the medium, deamily. "Does anybody wish to converse with Cleopatra?"

"Gosh, I'd like to!" exclaimed a little man in the rear of the darkened room. "But the minute I got home my wife would know I'd been up to something."

News of Local Import.

An Abundant Raspberry Crop

The first raspberries from local gardens have been marketed. The crop will be an abundant one, both of wild and cultivated berries. Both black and red raspberries have been picked during the week. The strawberry crop is now finished for the season so far as the marketing of fruit is concerned. The yield has been unusually large; the quality exceptionally fine, and the prices more reasonable than for a number of years.

Kitchener Paper Changes Hands

It was learned from authoritative sources that the Kitchener Daily Record, Limited, of which W. D. Euler, M. P., is president, has purchased the business and good-will of the Daily Telegraph, Limited. The Daily Telegraph, which was started as a weekly over seventy-five years ago, and as a daily in 1896, will discontinue publication on Saturday, July 15. It is understood that the formal announcement of the amalgamation will not be made until the latter part of the week.—Guelph Herald.

Cutting Wheat in Oxford County

Wheat cutting commenced in Oxford County Saturday, following a week of high temperature which has speeded up the ripening process. Cutting will be general in the county during the course of the next week. This means that the crop has come on in the middle of hay cutting, and the farmers are seeking more help to cope with the double duties impending. The wheat is well filled, according to all reports, but the crop will not be up to last year's average. The hay crop, on the other hand, is one of the heaviest on record.

Guelph Drunks Arrested over the Week-end

The police had a big week-end as regards drunks, no less than four of them being picked up between Saturday night and Monday morning. Two of them were brought before Magistrate Watt in police court Monday morning, G. Clark and Leonard White, and after pleading guilty were fined $10 and costs. Two others, J. Carter and R. Howarth, were let out on cash bail by Chief Hauck, but did not respond to their names when called Monday morning and the Magistrate ordered that a warrant be issued for their arrest.—Herald.

Oakville's Tax Rate is 47 Mills

The new tax rate of Oakville is 47 mills, the Town Council having struck it at Monday night's session. This is a considerable increase from the past year's rate of 43.7 mills, it being accounted for by the fact that the town is undertaking a number of local improvements, including sidewalks, and is building a school. The general rate covering ordinary expenditure has been reduced. Oakville's total assessment is now $2,797,187; business assessment, $116,837; income assessment, $88,880; exemption, $438,655. The new rate will produce a revenue of about $165,000.

An Auctioneer's Vicissitudes

For three hours the auctioneer hall tried to rouse his listeners to the proper pitch of enthusiasm. But either the weather or their lunch had disagreed with them, and they simply would not be roused. The sale was one of horses, and lot after lot went for low prices. At last the low-water-mark was reached when a sad and sorry animal was led into the ring. "Now, gentlemen," shouted the auctioneer, "what offers for this lot? Will somebody start the bidding?" There was a pause. Then a voice came from somewhere in the middle of the crowd: "Two dollars!" "Gentlemen! Gentlemen!" protested the auctioneer tearfully. "The horse is alive!"

Danger of Running Wagons on the Sidewalk

The practice of boys coasting on express wagons and running them on the sidewalks has been pointed out from time to time. The report of an accident in a nearby town brings this lesson home more fully. Mrs. Herbert West, of Kitchener, narrowly escaped death when she was knocked down to the pavement by a coaster wagon on which three youngsters were coasting down Peter Street on Saturday night. Her hat saved her from crushing against the concrete pavement, and doubtless saved her from sustaining a fractured skull. She suffered a severe break of the right arm and was considerably weakened by the shock.

A Horse in a Guelph Cellar

A peculiar accident occurred Tuesday morning at the corner of Neeve and Howitt Streets, Guelph, when a horse belonging to the Cartage Co. fell into a cellarway. The horse was standing on some boards over the entrance to the cellar, but the boards were not strong enough to hold the animal, and down it went. In going in the horse landed on its back, which made him difficult to get at, as he had to be turned over. Help was secured, however, and the horse was taken all the way into the cellar, and after some time it was taken out by the same entrance. He was uninjured except for a bruise or two on his back. The accident attracted quite a gathering of people.—Herald.

The Fruit of the Season

The strawberry season in the Milton district came to an end Monday. Taking it altogether, the growers received good returns. The strawberries were large and pickers made money fast, as fewer berries than usual filled a quart box. The crop this year proved to be unusually heavy. Raspberries are ripening fast and are appearing on the market in fair quantities. The crop will be a fair one. Wild raspberries are also plentiful and pickers are already securing them in pailfuls. Cherries are almost a drug on the market. At Milton cherry growers are offering the people choice fruit at 25c a basket if the purchasers pick them for themselves. R. J. Mahony, President and C. W. Baxter, Manager of the Niagara Fruit Growers, Limited, say the fruit crop in the Niagara Peninsula this year will be second only to the record yield of 1920. Plums are an exceptionally heavy crop.

Batteries, Terra Cotta, Moody and McNally; Limehouse, Tarswell and G. Milliere. Umpire, Hamilton, of Georgetown. Terra Cotta will come here next Saturday and it is hoped that they will have a stronger aggregation to represent that hamlet.

Coal Prices Next Winter

Considerable Anxiety as to Probable Cost to the Householder

Present indications are that anthracite coal will be scarce and prices high for the coming winter. What will be the price of the anthracite that is to be mined after the strike is over is rather an anxious question. But as to the present costs, the facts are approximately as follows:

Throughout the past coal year, anthracite coast the retail dealer, from $8 to $9 per gross ton, 2,240 lbs., at the mines, with freight rates, $2.64 per gross ton to the border, and $1.50 to $2.50 per net ton, 2,000 lbs., from the border to Acton, or to points in this section, the mine price and the freight to the border being payable in U. S. funds. The coal has reached here at a cost of $12.50 or $13.00 per net ton on the cars. To get it from the cars into the bins in homes costs about $2.00 more. Total cost about $14.75 to $15.25. The customer pays about $16.00. The retailer's profits, per ton, therefore, are about 75 cents.

The cost of coal cannot come down until mining costs are lower and freight rates less. The latter are gradually coming down. Wages at the mines have doubled since the days before the war. A little less coal has come out each year, and the cost for 1920 was two and a half times the cost of 1914. Everything used in mining is higher, especially timber and timber is the big item. For every ton of coal mined at least nine board feet of timber are used. The cost of those nine feet goes to make the price of anthracite higher. Besides this, freight rates has doubled since 1914.

When anthracite miners are working they earn $225 a month on the average. There are many individual instances of wages reaching $400 a month. The publication "Anthracite," of recent issue, gives these figures from payrolls for monthly amounts: $486, $401, $440, $437, $393, $376, $495. The price goes to a wage-earner at Mt. Carmel, Pa. He is married, has two children, is 28 years old, an Austrian by birth, and has never earned less than $7,000 a year. In 1920 his wages amounted to $8,739.65 for ten months' mining.

Anthracite mine owners find good quarters for their men at a nominal rental of $10 a month. The men have coal at cost and light and water on the same basis. There are even chicken coops and gardens. Some of the miners "passed up" these homes however, because there were no garages.

Dealers think there is no need for anxiety as yet as to next winter's supply of coal, but as shown, above there can be diminution of prices.

TO BE KEPT APART

Sparks and gasoline. Caps and dynamite. Electric wires and metal objects. Children and matches. Electric bulbs and combs or hair pins. Careless people and campfires.

LLOYD GEORGE FAVORS TEMPERANCE

Slowly but surely the prohibition question is coming forward in England, but as yet it is no new that the attitude of many prominent leaders in the country is unknown.

At a recent anti-prohibition meeting one of the speakers claimed that Prime Minister Lloyd George was a supporter of his case. A local temperance advocate queried Downing Street on the subject and received a letter from the Premier's secretary, G. H. Shakespeare, in which he stated:

"I have never known the Prime Minister to take alcohol except on medical advice."

MIGHTY "I CAN'T

Often where there is plenty of ability, it is nullified by a lack of self-confidence. "I can't" is mightier than any talent, mightier than genius, even.

You will seldom do more than you think you can. Opportunity may be without, and ability within, but your doubt of yourself will keep the two from ever coming together.

Some young people complain of their endowment when they have far more than the average gifts. Some grumble that they have no chance when they are surrounded by opportunity. The thing that explains our failure is the conviction that we are going to fail. We will sometimes do less than we think we can, but we certainly will never do more.

IF YOU WANT TO REACH THE TOP

The people who will not start till they can start at the top, sometimes spend a long time in idleness. It is a fine thing to have just the position you want, but if you are not able to get that, take any work for a starter. Those who end on the top round of the ladder, seldom are unduly particular about the way they start. Think of the multitudes of successful men who started out by doing "chores" back on the farm, and there never was a boy industrious enough to get much satisfaction out of doing chores. Think of Lincoln splitting rails, and Garfield following the tow path. Think of the millionaires who began as peddlers, and the great scholars who started in the district school. If you want to reach the top, do not be too "choicy" as to how you start.

CONSTANT SEARCH FOR TANNIN

The oak is one of the best known natural sources of tannin, although it is found in many other trees. The spread of industry has increased the call for tannin to such a degree that search has been made all over the world for some new tree capable of supplementing the oak, hemlock and other trees in furnishing this indispensable substance.

A certain degree of success has attended the search in Argentina, where there is found excellent tannin can be obtained. The wood of this tree is very hard and durable, and it grows in large forests. It has been known as a tannin producer for something over thirty years, but only in late years has the extraction of the tannin been conducted in Argentina. Formerly the wood itself was exported.

YOUTH IN AGE

Vanderbilt at eighty added £3,000,000 to his fortune; Wordsworth earned the Laureateship at seventy-three; Thiers at seventy-three established the French Republic and became the first president; Verdi wrote Falstaff at eighty; Gladstone became Premier for the fourth time at eighty-three.
