The demand for lime is so great that the Toronto Lime Company is rebuilding one of their old sawmills which has been out of commission for years, to sufficiently increase the output.

The Toronto Lime Co. has bought another one of another double house.

There are few fishermen on the river since the tannery filter dam has been away for many months. It is believed that the fish are left in this fast stream.

W. Hitchie, who is now on a farm in Nassagweys, is shortly to remove to his farm on the third line which he has bought. Mr. Kelly the past five or six years.

MIMOSA

Mr. Editor, as it is some time since you have heard from this hamlet I thought I would send in a few words. I have been having, haying, harvesting, I suppose you were aware, long before we are here, a new school. The result of this is that we thought the old school would fall down and hurt or kill some of our young students, and as it is always better to save a life than to take one, we decided to build a new school out of the old one, and the Trustees wanted a guy to work, they picked me on.

Well, the first day we had 15 men tearing out all the wood work, and so it was from 15 down to 1 some days. When having stoned, men got scattered, and so it was 10 down to 1. Then, but I will have to give the name of Fergus the priser for quick work, as he brought down five loads of stone and coal, and so it was 5 down to 1. Then, the boys are having a delightful time this year the old school.

The officers and boys of Camp Cedarbridge appreciate very much the kindness of Mr. W. Gowdy for his assistance and efforts on their behalf. And the boys, joining the troupe upon formation.

LIMEHOUSE

The Methodist Sunday School, Action, has just returned from a very enjoyable outing at Camp Pine Crest, Muskoka. This camp is is the summer home of the Toronto Y. M. C. A. and is also available to the public. It is situated on Clear Lake, two miles from Muskoka, and 110 miles north of Toronto. During the last week Mr. Gowdy's family, Mr. and Mrs. Gowdy, and their two sons, went to Muskoka, a distance of 17 miles, and from there took a trip by the supply boat through Lakes Rosseau and Muskoka. The boys were very interested in the part of Canada they had never seen before. The boat stopped at the mouth of the Muskoka River, and the boys were allowed to go ashore and explore the falls. The boat then continued on to Muskoka.
