Brief Local Items

Now for school work in earnest.

—Be loyal to your own community.

—The strawberry crop is ripening now.

—The duck shooting season has opened.

—Georgetown's tax rate is 40 mills this year.

—Now for autumn with its glories of changing color.

—The sunflowers are all up to 85 in the shade on Tuesday.

—The good old summer time is getting in full time these days.

—Get ready for Acton Fair. It has numerous attractive features.

—Good morning! Have you renewed your Yester Year's subscription?

—Fall foliage and beautiful, but winter varieties have arrived.

—Acton Fair price lists are in the hands of Secretary Hynde.

—Harvest festival services in the Methodist Church next Sunday.

—The lawns have lost their verdure, and are burned brown in places.

—The question is still being asked: "Are we to have a Yester Year?"

—The horse-martined dry weather interfered a good deal with fall seedling.

—The drains, laid right, are more nearly everlasting than any other farm improvement.

—The tax collector is inviting you to pay him for payment of the first instalment this month.

—Were it not for the activities of our bird friends, insect pests would become dangerous enemies.

—The town of Georgetown is to be congratulated upon the sale of $60,000 of its property.

—The search of coal and lignite prices of other fuel will reduce the volume of Christmas present buying.

—During September Dr. Dilox, of Toronto, is expected to preach at both services each Sunday in the Baptist Church.

—These are busy days for the thrashers. They work hard all day and move their machines to the next farmer after supper.

—Acton carpenters and builders are crowded with work. The Georgetown lumber mill is also taking building contracts now.

—Wingham Council offers $300 prizes to citizens keeping the best and neatest looking places. The Horticultural Society has charge of the contest.

—Monday was teachers' day for getting back into school. A score of them came to Acton to depart from Acton during the day.

—To all the school pupils who had grown tired of the long summer vacation, the ringing of the school bell Tuesday morning must have sounded like music.

—The pastures have browned badly the past fortnight owing to the continuous dry weather and hot sun. Two or three days of steady rain would accomplish encouraging results.
