The Acton Free Bress

THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1924

GOD'S DREAMS

Dreams are they but they are God's dreams Bhall we deery them and acorn them That white shall call black man broth That greed shall pass from the market That last shall yield to love for

That man shall meet with God fac to farebreatns are they all, Int shall we Meanine them(lod's droams! Dreams are they-to become man's Can we say may as they claim us? That men shall cease from their but That wor shall soon be abating.

That the glory of kings and lords shall That the pride of dominion and shall full. That the love of humanity shall pro

Dreams are they all, But shall we despise them-Cod's dranms! -Thomas Curtis Clark

CHEATING THE CIRCUS

The cry. "Here comes the circus!"

certain adults, however, it apparently breaks, now leading a virtuous declared that we had damaged a little such implacable enomine had been led therry tree on her premises. I could to choose the same refuge. was seriously -burt and, furthermore. It is true that he looked the part they that she loved it so much that she was inconsciable. However, the estimated that thirty dollars would enable her to bear up under the truele affliction. what I was roing to do.

'Why, madam," I said, "I'm going "But you can't do that! "Certainly I can," I replied. for a thing and not have It?"

"But I want the tree!" as so many people think, that she could "put something over" on the C- without having to pay the city Josh had built his cabin was about the region. Among men who depends that they were working thomselves in- eleventh and thirteenth prizes for government a big bill for manhole halfway between the similarly situated ed largely on their rifles for their to such a rage that his peace talk Plint corn, all grown in south-western covers that our heavy wagons broke patches of bottom land that belonged ment Josh alone was barred from the would soon be of no use. "Set down!" Ontario. in our haul from the railway yards to Lugg and Jedkins. When Josh local turkey shoots, or, if he was he shouted, breaking in on their flow to the lot. They charged us more, built the cabin he did not know that allowed to shoot, it was with a heavy of accusations. than fifteen dollars for each cover. he was settling in the line of fire be-, handleap. , He had often heard-men The two angry men turned burning broken the covers; so for years we for an excuse to go on the warpath. In a sweat of apprehension, Jush sud- sat down and Bert followed.

paid the bills. " the secret of those broken covers. Were "sweet on ouch other." C- certain of the town officials re- by the possibilities of the situation.

on us. "I can take you to the junk tragedy that troubled .him. there will be no bill for broken man- | deep frown was on his forehead. He which he had handled Ted, he forced

GEMS OF THOUGHT

In a moral point of vinw, the because it is the most healthful, and ate it; and holy, because it brings the Delty perpetually before his view, giv- Ted had seemed to be losing his disendearing view of the divine benignity -Lord John Russell.

Bigotry has no hand, and cannot martyrs to virtue, both in endurance canyon to where the trull leaves the by our passions, that we suffer more of the bluff over the river. In a cold chill as he thought of his empty striving to conceal the accidental, con-wise and profitable study of the Bible itself .- H. C. Trumbult.

in praising or loving a child, love and pralso not that which is. but that which we hope for .- Goethe.

KNOW THYSELF

nold. "It is I who have fulled, not into punic. He did not want Ted to Josh was in a quantury. It made or otherwise seek the refreshment of ridges. which they are most in need, the "Gimme yore rifle! Bert Lugg disturbances would more readily dis- tryin' to shoot mel" gasped Ted, dush- suck of potatoes. . Josh full that, 81 ruled his voice. "Come on out here, Crais St. W. Montreal, is oriering to appear. Oftentimes we do not really ing up with extended hands. know ourselves well enough mentally, . By that time Josh was in the grasp time to make the trip. and physically, to be able to apply of so much indecision and confusion. For a few seconds Josh stood tengue- were on his face, the proper remedies when we need re- of mind; that he was incapable of tied with indecision. Buddenly he "You're shore on

The Bree Press' Short Story

Josh Miller's Disarmament Conference

RAY PALMER TRACY

mit!" he managed to stammer.

Ted bounded forward; fear, thige went the weapon from his grasp. ! Instantly he realized that to have his man would be far worse that the ducked to one side with surprising simbleness. At the same time, half unconscious of what he was doing, he brought his rifler to his favorite post-tion with the muzzle trained on Ted's stomach. The young fellow halled as if he had been auddonly turned

They stood staring at each other for perhaps three seconds. Ted threw an anxious look toward the pile of rucks behind blm and then spun back o Josh, "Well?" he inquired uncer-

Josh felt an unprecedented thrill o ower. For the first time in his life or was holding a gun on a human being, and the result was gratifying.

one ever harmed a guest o' mine!"

As Ted unhesitatingly turned and

On one point Josh's fellow moun-

He felt himself grow in importance.

to wainted a lean finger toward his revelation that it was unloaded.

OBH MILLER of Mule Creek | rifle was empty, and his pride would was a prealler man, though not allow him to let Ted discover the no more becallar perhaps than fact. He broke out in a cold awest at millions of others in untry. But the peculiar atreak that rifle behind him and backed away. distinguished him from the mass so pronounced that some people referred to him unkindly as "touched." They were wrong; he was merely benevolent old fraud.

It wild fall when Josh quietly drift ed Into the Oregon Bloklyons and squatted on a rich bit of land at point where Mule Creek emption into the Rogue River, Immediately rumor spread among the scattered habitants that another eithen with shady past had gone beyond the range of telephones and sheriffs.

The advent of Josh into the solltude made a special group there of four such characters, There was minds. To the children it means "Knife" Wilks, retired horse thief and to Jee. clowns and peanuts and rare fun. To the instigator of two successful juil means only a chance to cheat the raising watermelons. And there were management. Mr. Frank A. Cook, logal Bert Lugg and Si Jedkine. Ugly tales adjuster for a large circus, tells in the of a Tonnesson feud, strife, killings American Magazino a few of the many and a forced flight reached the comtricks that folk, honest enough as a munity close on the heels of those general thing, play on the circus when two men. However, nothing definite was known about them except the One time, says Mr. Cook, a woman remarkable coincidence by which two > of the Blaklyons had assigned him. uscribed to him. Ills tall, gaunt form and the wiry activity usually associated with bad men; his long white hair dashed toward the cabin Josh once and matted heard somehow suggested more felt a thrill of power. At the the refuger; he was becomingly watch- same instant the big bay horse leaped ful in the presence of strangers. But from behind the concealing ridge of he falled to be convincing. He was boulders, kept to the trail for a few a triffe too reductant to lay his riffe yards, and then swung toward the from his knees when he-was in com- river; Bert had sighted Ted in his pany that, was beyond suspicion, and headlong flight for the cable." Just he was too careful that nothing should as Ted sprang through the door Bert's prevent a visitor from noticing the rifle flashed, and a build when whin-four deep notches in the stock. But ing overhead. the chief reason regarding his badness. Although it came nowhere hear Josh he spurious was 'not that the manned the old man could not have disappearin which he hinted at his former wick- ed into the shelter of the ben vines my brothers' boys! An' one Lugg is fifth and tenth prizes. edness sounded a bit fanciful, but more suddenly if it had hit him. Once worth all the Jedkinson in Christenthat not a single rumor about him more he suffered a paralysis. He be- dom!" declared Hert. floated through the rugged peaks on gan to pay dearly for his moment of little later when several acts of gen- rife and peering through the pea vines my brother!" retorted Sl. "An' If erosity and kindness were traced to at the grim Lugg as he dashed toward every Lugg thar ever was could be cepted a few dollars and kept the his door people dismissed him us a the cabin, he felt like anything but hanged for it they wouldn't near pay second, aixth and tenth for Alsike cherry tree. She simply had thought, the old fellow and said that it was a hero.

We never showed in the town of gled among the abrupt bluffs where was admittedly the best marksman in murderously at each other. Josh saw second place for rye; first, eighth and habit he took his ride with him:

Every time the circus was to show in Josh was filled with pleasant thrills power. About halfway from the trail to the moved the manhole covers along the He was sure that the instant that cabin Bert stopped his horse and disroute and substituted others from a either Bert or Si discovered what was mounted. Then with his rifle ready he heap of old ones that had been dis- going on the war would start. He advanced cautiously, He did not glance carded years before! They charged watched with hourty approval Ted's toward the pea vines, and Josh knew us for those rotten old covers when frequent trips up the trail. He liked that Bert had not noticed him where we broke them. Then when the circus the black-haired, alert young South- he stood, half screened, just before had gone, they put back the ones they orner, and he liked Phoebe. Her blue the last shot. eyes and happy manner vaguely re-

· Josh slowly made up his mind to We showed again in C- a few minded him of an ideal he once had fulfill his boast that no guest of his years ago. Before the day of our cherished. But when he considered over came to harm. That Bert would arrival I told one of the town officials the grim-lipped fiert and the sullen not take kindly to being interfered that I know the trick they had layed Bi he saw lurking the possibilities of with when he had his viotim at his mercy Josh dld not doubt. For a pile from which you get the old covers | The spring with its sweet odors und fleeting moment he speculated on the you want us to break." I said. "And brilliant flowers had gone. Josh's revenge that Bert would take once he I know just where you store the covers gorden was presenting him with a got the opportunity to act freely. The that are removed before we arrive variety of vegetables. He was sitting prospect so shook his nerves that he Now," I said, "If you want this thing in the doorway of his cable, suppling himost abandoned his resolution. But, alred in public, all right! But I think himself and considering his peas; a stendily dwelling on the case with was out of cartridges, and his pocket- himself to his feet. His legs felt stiff.

book was empty. He had almost de- and his head felt light. clded that his second crop of peas were "What ye aimin' to do?" he inrips mough to sell to the half-broad quired mildly in a voice that sounded the Jedkins place. A day or so more and the pear would be better, but he led the pear would be better, but he Ted coming. Josh frowned still more severely. He had a sudden premonition that trouble was at hand. Lately with fury. He jerked his head toward "At ain't almin' to have time past had been leaving his rifle all the killin' around my own digpear and bought cartridges the day before. He hurriedly got a bucket din'a!" patch of pea vines. From force of 'Josh had been working for nearly than continued firmly; "Jes' to prehalf an hour when the sound of a ritte event accidents ye lay that gun o' bottom land and winds along the face moment Ted came into view round a ritte. But he could not turn back. ellintory step by assuming an air of "Htep lively!" he ordered. loped recklessly round the same point, at Josh's rine as if he were calculating Becretly he had long been weary of Josh had no difficulty in recognizing the chances of a miss by a weapon the foud; nothing except his pride into a timbered draw and throw of Josh. "No further kin keep me from In choosing a wife, a purse or a his pursuer. Along the bluff where doin' what has got to be done! Any schooltescher, look to the breed. There the truit was broken and narrow the body that gits in my way is goin' hardy young mountaineer could easily to be sorry!" Bert spoke with so hold his own against the horse, but much venom that Josh felt cold chills felt that it was necessary for the two across the bottom, where Josh's place run up and down his back. lay, there was a long open stretch. "What's Ted ever done to ye that Josh feared that Bert would guin makes ye want to kill him?" he deenough on the straightaway to fire a manded, though he knew very well

While Josh was anxiously speculate "The Jedkinses air a triffin ing on Ted's chances Ted cleared the account lot, an' the Lugges have no long ridge of boulders that concealed a truck with them!" declared Hert at great length of the trail from the white heat. "Ah seen that hour daws cabin and that served as a gateway in ther speakin' to my gull For a ing a straight course he swerved and has been considered an insult since headed straight for the patch of peas. we was to home, in Tonnessed!

Tod's unexpected action throw Josh | caln't 'low it to pass' they. Were I what I should be, every be killed, and he especially did not no difference whether he drove Bort one of my pupils would reflect my want him to be killed in Mule Creek home and let Ted go afterwards, or work. I hold the key to the situation, bottom. He had carefully striven to whether he held Hert a prisoner until Hert and Mi. "You fellers hotter all I set the pace, and if my soul is in dis- build up the impression that this was 'Ted was at a safe distance; in either | yer knes an' go. 'Ted an' Phoebe don't order, the school will be in confusion." just the kind of situation with which case Josh knew that he was going to had ary a one o' ye. Yer sack o' How many teachers remember this he was accustomed to deal, and he bring down the wrath of the old moun- spads is down by the dock, HI." on those gloomy days when everything felt that he would be expected to talneer on his head. While he was Bort and HI looked at each goes wrong and they have continual or- straighten out the trouble. In his debuting how to deal with the trouble shooplahly and walked over tol their casion to scold orersprimend. If, in fright be did not know which way so that no blame could be laid at his guns side by side. Phoebe started 35 leading universities and found to stead of punishing the children, they to turn ville found that all he wanted door a man with a long rife turned after them with anhancement until they would leave school promptly and take was to be allowed to pick his peas in the corner of the cable was to be allowed to pick his peas in the corner of the cable some exercises in the fresh sir, go to peace. He reached for his rifle. Then With a sinking fooling Josh roreg- with even more unusument at Josh. a concert, devote longer to sleeping, he remembered that he had not cart - nized Hi Jodkins. Hi had told Josh some days before that he was going to answered hastily. "He's been listen. kerosene (coal oil). to bring his boat up the river after a in' at the door the bull time!"

could not have plaked out a worse Ted!" freshment of body or mind. You should shinking bonnectedly. If the wespon turned the mussle of his rife on the excinimed, graphing the old man by for full particulars. Also ask him to Bl did not move. Astonishment and inger were minufed on his sullen face. What's catto' yo'?" he demanded. "Nothin' is eatin' me," replied Josh "But I don't aim to have any newldents happen around by cablet Her hore need Ted speakin' to Phoche, an he was settin' out to shoot him when 1.00

hat and waved buck.

For several minutes the old would lave done if they'd knowed this here gon was empty?" he said

CANADA GROWS GOOD SEED

Canadlan seed growers have again

Exposition recently held at Chicago.

in winning to out of 25 prizes, including the kund, championship which went to Major Strange, of Fenn., Alborta, with Marquis variety. Major Strange, a prominent and successful member of the Canadian Bood Growers' Association, also won fifst prize in white field your. Second prize for hard wheat went to a Montana grower who had obtained his seed from Indian Head, Bank. Third to twelfth urized inclusive were awarded to Can-adlan soud growers with the exception only of the sixth and eight, which Montana claimed. All but two of the prize winning samples, including the Repeating his victory of 1927, Mr.

Highands, of Lacombe, Alberta, wen the growers located chiefly in Alberta.

Among the various winnings for Only thrue exhibits from Canada

Among other winnings were first and Much attention was attracted by the exhibit put on by the Provincial De-which consisted of a collection of very been under the impression that West-

THEN PANDEMONIUM REIGNED

fall term. Through open windows of the maples of the campus; the alr is sparkling with vitality. My father is sitting at the side of his deak, with a class book in his left hand and a load pencil'in his right." Thus Mr. Carrol Perry in A Professor of Life draws the picture of the famous economis Arthur Latham Perry. Hefere him

"Contlement this is the rest of the matter; here is the whole thing in a nutshell. Buying and selling is ox-change of values." The professor rose from his chair and walked to the front of the platform, warming to his work. And what constitutes the basis of value? Nothing is the basis of value.

nothing ever can be the basis of value.

save human effort-that is, labor. It is labor that gives life to buying and selling; it is labor that creates profituble exchange? Let me tell you. In ull exchange whatsoever we observe two desires, two efforts, two satisfactions. That is the meaning of buying

Father sat down, throw back his head, slapped his right know and exploded with laughter. The class howleighbor and said. "Bully for Blank!

uguln, and with a twinkle in his blue my dear Blank, the principle remains unchanged, for you would be bought.

THE COURTEOUS THING

young bride to the Manue for matri-

"According to my custom," said the sald, John, this is your lawfully wed-

John turned in the direction of his newly-acquired partner and stammer-

OF COURSE

an ordered and unked if he know all modestly, "but I know most of them."

'what would you do in case of fire?"

"Blow the call for lights out, gir."

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT. AIR

Beats Electric ur. Gas

explain how you can get the agency,

"Well, now," continued the officer,

"Not all, porhaps sir," he ed, 'I'm pleased to meet you.' ' the hugle calls.

"In the excitement of the becaulou."

Then pundemonium reigned and she would be sold!"

ed with delight. 'Each man nudged his to himself and chuckled.

Ted run into my cabla!" "Ted speakin' to a Lugg gail" roared HI furiously. "What is the young scrub? Ah'll gin him the hoopin' his life! Ah don't keer if he is growed uplf He took a step toward the cabla door. "I'ut thet gun on thet plle o' huaks!"

epeated Josh ominously. 81 halted abruptly. With a fas climited gaze he eyed the und of Josh's unwavering rifle. Finally he wrenched his eyes away and glanced at Josh. Then be advenced to the plle of husks the more thought. He thrust the and placed his rifle beside Bort's. As Josh watched him he reflected un-"I-I never let anyhosty take in happily (hat should the scheme he had in mind fall, bereafter he should have both factions to contend with. and impationce were written on his face. Josh thought he intended to

"Now go over an' net on that atun! naid Josh, waving HI to a rock about nity feet distance from Hert, and a gun taken from him by an unarmed a site space from the husk pilo; recom It's high time to have a peace Bl halted in his trucks, mulishly. tiert sprang to, his feet. "Ah ain't goln' to have no truck with any Jedking!" declared liert passionately. "All nevah speak with any triffin trault like a Lugg!" retorted Sl. "Het down!" ordered Josh grimly "This here peace talk might wind up in a buryin' or two if you folks don't) mind yer p's and q's!" The two men glared at Josh for moment, but the ready ritle with its his went, and Hi rejuctantly edged over first and second, were of the Marquis and perched on the rock that Josh had variety; the exceptions were Ruby and Kitchener. At loust the first three Josh dropped his ride to his side. prize winning samples at the interna-"Now who started this killin' busi- | tional May and Grain Show, since and reputation of never missing was too much for them. Bert sank back on

"But Lugg's pap shot my gran'pap, been of the Marquis variety. " u voice filled with authority. "No if it's any of a furriner's affair!" "That's a-lis!" Hert huried at him, championship for white outs against "Si Jodkins's gran'pap knwed my all North America. In the regional gran'pap! They was workin' on a contest 28 out of the 35 prizes offered rullroad down negh to Nashville, Jes' for that section comprising Canada like a sneakin' Jodkins, he crept up and the out growing states west of an' knifed him in the back! They was Chicago were won by Canadian sood > barley exhibits was that of Geo. Avery HI, bounding to his feet. of Kelso, Bask, who captured first in "Het down!" interrupted the two-rowed class. In the alx-rowed his ride came to his hip. "fil sunk back on his rock und glared class, Mr. Avery took a second prize. from Bort to Josh in speechless ruge. In the Trobl-which included the large kernelled barleys grown under irriga-"Them no-account Jedkinger killed tion, Canadian growers took third.

competed in the white field pea division and they stood first, third and "Thom triffin' Luggers killed my which to base even a mild exploit. A rush boastfulness. Grasping his empty gran'pap, my pap, my two uncles un' fourth. eighth places for red clover seed; seed; second, fourth and fifth for sweet for the home to stretch 'em!" The little bowl of bottom land snug- jaineers held him in high esteem. He rises to their feet and were glaring sike; nighth and twelfth for Timothy;

partment of Auriculture of Alberta and we always had to pay for at least tween two watchful warriors. But he remark after some of his feats of eyes on him, though some of the flame half a dozen. It seemed curious, for was not kept in ignorance of it long, marksmanship that they would hate died out as they observed his detercreditable cars of perfectly matured it was the only town where we had An admiring half-breed told him that to have old Josh take a shot at them. mined attitude and the muzzle of his corn. It was a decided revolution to that kind of trouble. But we had Lugg and Jedkins were only waiting Lying there in the pen vines bathed unwavering rifle. In a moment Si the many Americans who have long orn Canada was well beyond the north-A little later Josh accidentally dis- dealy remembered that it was a whole- "Now listen here!" said Josh mencovered semething that he believed some respect for the deadly accuracy neingly. "I ain't the least idea but ern limit of the corn belt. er employee of the city who had a was unknown among the settlers. His of his rifle that had brought Ted to what both the Luggees and the Jedgrudge against the government told me son Ted and Bert's daughter Phoebe a stop. Once more the old man felt kinses air the salt o' the earth! Buy a momentary exhibitating sense of what I want to know in what difference does it make to a feller whether he is the walt o' the earth or not critter's is to himself. Which is with the most us folks look at 'it? There ain't a livin' critter that's got a life able, but every critter is sure wrapped > others think it is! What do you ed at such other, but Josh notice! hopefully that they were thinking; the ldra was evidently new to them. Pinulty Bort grunted disgustedly. "You've got a fine Idea, but yo and speered. "A Jedking is so wuthleas he uin't even valuable to hisself!"

"Set down!" commanded Josh. SI healtstad in the very act more he wank back on his rock. "The Jedkinkes air wuth enough so's every Jedkinn's life has got a Lugga's life and selling; and a market for products less to a Jedkins? It don't make a mile of difference what the Luggers think o' the Jedkinson, or what the Jedkinson think o' lite Luggeon! An' another things this uin't Tonnessee; this is the forest reserve and full o go kickin' up a muse? Fust thing ye know there won't be neither na There was a long silence. Suddenly Bert spoke. He was probably un-he said. Then roused by the sound overbearing rage.

that was never known to err. Hlowly had held him to it. He selved on That Bert Lugg had discovered what he turned and reluctantly did as he liert's words. "Ah've always reckoned that?" he promptly agreed. Josh was delighted. "Well, shak hands on it un' call it off!" he sur families were standing on equal terms. Finally he won his point, and the the first time. He was accounted by two men shook hands. They hat burely finished when there was a clutter of hoofs, and Phoebs Lugg. mounted on her pany, came dushing down the trull. Bhe baw the group and hoaded strulght for it. Across the front of "Pap!" she called, bringing her horse have consideration enough for your had been loaded, he would probably autonished 81. "I'ut yer gun along the hand and shaking it vigorously." children, if not for yourselves, to know have handed it over to Ted and pray with Bert's on that pile o' husks!" he "Bhucks! It warn't nothin" said and without experience or money make ed that so harm come of it. But the said, ferking his head thward the spot. Josh, embarrased and happy. "You $350 to $500 per month."

take Phoebe up the trall an' tell her about it! She's jest dyin' o' curios!

HOW'S THIS ONE? Scotland, without having seen it, and valking and Ted leading the pony. last summer he went over to have a At the pile of boulders they turned look at the place. "The drive from the and waved. Josh took off his battered nearest rallway station to Glen Acera was a matter of twelve miles. The Bostonian bired a Highlander to drive stood reviewing the stirring events of the past half hour. He was filled An the cart jogged along the Hon with pride over the part that he had tonian said: "I suppose you know the played. Suddenly he felt a delicious country hereahouts pretty well, my thrill as a thought occurred to him friend?" that was to furnish him with a subfact "Aye, like foot of 't," the Boot an for speculation through many lunely swered. hours. "I wonder what them fellers

"And do you know Glen Arcra?" "Aye, weet," wan the reply. "What wort of a place is it?" the American anked. The Scot amiled grimly. "A-week he said. "If ye saw the de'll tethered on it, ye'd just say, 'l'our brute!"!"

lemonstrated their ability to produce wheat of outstanding merit, by the many winnings made ut the recon-Hay and Grain Show at the twestyfourth Appual International Live Stock In the class of hard red spring wheat open to all of North America, Canada succeeded from a field of DI exhibits. CLEAN CLEAR AND HEALTHY

PRETENDING ing places with grief and gloom and are How often in the morning we the from restful major, with butter's miles ad aning our charte while thipper maps. The old world seems a daley. we chirp a cheerful note, and all our when seem bless and dre milite and remore. We'to glad we use establing, we gambol and we slow, will, worther will and whiting that life's a gladeoper | thing. And then the grouth approaches fresh tisen from the buy, no thought of give in broughes, no limb blythe! and gay. He desen't slug or scamper. or rules a foyful sound, and he's a distinct damper on everyone around. He suffers from the willies, he haves no cheer up tunes; he overlooks the lilles to talk of musty propes Itle funtody are contagious, our gladness fades away; we think the world out rageons, and strike for higher pay. And thus one groughy duffer can make our joy take wing, and make us sigh und auffer, where we whould amile and ding.4-Walt Mason.

BEARDMORE & CO. Wears twice as long as ordinary leather

Ever Tanned

Store News

Announcing the Arrival of Another Shipment of Our Famous Shoes with

BULLDOG SOLE

We have a full line of Men's Heavy and Dress Shoes, also Boys' and Little Gent's

At Very Attractive Prices

Every Pair Absolutely Guaranteed

स्थस्थस

Acton Co-Operative Store

PHONE 46

Did you ever pause in a post office long enough to take a squint at the floor shortly after a number of people have received their mail? If you have you were probably struck by the number of circular and form letters and hand bills that littered the floor.

In fact, you doubtless were struck with the fact that many of them had been thrown in the basket as soon as they were removed from the envelope, the recipient never even taking the trouble to give them a second glance.

But did you also notice that you don't see anyone throwing the newspapers, and especially the home town newspapers in the waste basket or on the floor?

Did you notice that newspapers are always carried away, instead of being tossed

Well, right there is a mighty good argument in favor of advertising in the newspapers. The circular letter---a costly form of advertising--goes into the waste The home town paper goes into the home. Remember this and spend your advertising money accordingly.

Advertise in the Columns of Your Home Paper--The Acton Free Press

Best Paying Methods