boside a black-haired, restless young

Soon they were inconversation, e rather the young man was. He was a lank, boyinh fellow full of life and tgor to talk about blennelf. The older tellow of ninoteen or twenty.

ald, he spoke so distinctly.

He was a rullroad freman,

how vormed he was in the rules.

stood, and was not sitting in Judge town, something of known and steady value, finds that the monthly pay month he has to lay uside will not be

"And it is a good thing for a young

AN INGENIOUS MIND

There are just as many young people

us. Emerson reminds us of this:

Perform the feat as well as they;

This, however, is no reason why the youth of to-day should not pro-

We opresives must pligrims be.

the past's blood-rusted key."

HELPING EDUCATE A NATION

moun the flatterers, of course, for birth to unything strong and whole-and make you believe in yourself.

heyand you, to be worthy of a confidence whose inspiration you foot

even if it is not put into words. It

PICTURES ON MEMORY'S WALL

It was a thrilling story that McGro-

"I had abandoned all hope," he but life seemed to rise before me in a sories of grin, realistic pictures."

upon you, stick to them.

The National University of Mexico

And find a loftjer way."

in five months."

plece of property..

The Acton Bree Press

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1924 _____

NO CHANCE

A man alood up and faced the world With angry lips and scornful glance "A fallure, yen! A broken wreck, But stop: I never had a chance, My youth was plached with want and I longed for pow'r; I fled. I stole I never had one decent chance, How date you hedge my soul?" An old grey widow standing there, Of gentle face and humble ways. Looked showly up and on the man; Vixed all the question of her gare, "No chance of what?" she asked in An attentiant on her patient eyes. The broken man burnt out: chance? Imean, a chance to rise!"

Then spoke that dame with strong re torough: There came, my friend, such chance The chance to help the weak, th To cheer the lonesome on their was Hy chances such as these plone, We rise, we climb, we reach pu guals, .

-----"WANTED, EXPERT FINISHERS"

-M. O. W. Erskine

Pass Judgment on our souls."

"Here's a suggestion worth considering-one profession, or trade, that is not overcrowded," said Ted, recently The road toust turn at last, graduated from college, turning with The road that leads back home; a smile to his sistor.

was overdone those days," responded Where the kreen couch is fixed, "Wanted, Expert Finishers'-some- To welcome each in turn ody's advertising for them." "Finishers? Finishers of what? I'v heard the term before, but I haven't the The road must turn at last, furniture or something in the tailor- Over the dreamless sleep "but it's suggestive just the same - Deep where the shadows full plenty of expert starters there are, but And from the star-lit night very few finishers, expert or other-expressed dawning of her brother's Where the worn hunds are crossed meaning, and also annoyance. Ted Under the stient hill; was so ant to moralize and to make her Where the far crowds are bowed, feel vaguely in the wrong. "Anything personal intended?" she Here is the man all levednaked after a moment, with a rather What is there mure to say?

"I didn't may so, did I?" Tod re- Greater than men might know. sponded with an amused lifting of his When in the bitter fight. But Rhods sat dreamly "thinking On to the greater light; it over," after Ted had left the room. The light of "Peace on Earth," "Did it apply to me? Am I apt to But dimly understood, pertly, and then fall to 'carry on? Faith in its brotherhood. Expert finishers? The phrase is oddly auggestive."-Only a few moments later Rhoda's mother joined her in the window. "I see you have finished Lottle's little romifers," as she looked out at the little pink; clad form going blithely Each one to find in turn down, the gravel walk. "No, mother, I didn't quite finish them." Rhoda answered. "But I prom- When the dark night is on ised to have them done for her to Each one can hear her say: wear over to Lily's this afternoon. "See-the green couch is fixed. Lily has some just like them, you Where the winds kneel to pray; know, and they're both so wild over Here is the rest you're carned those little cross-stitch rabbits. I Under the ross-crowned sod; couldn't bear to disappoint Lottle-I Hafe in my guarding arms. began them so long ago, you know- Here is the peace of God." but they really weren't ready for her to put on. I didn't have all the buttonholes worked, so the poor child not show." "But she might better have worn her "Well she didn't mind," Rhods reinto her face. -made me so uncomfortable. I could tell by her tone that she doesn't like way we're not doing. It seems some of the children are losing interest and dropping out-because they can never be sure who will be there to teach them you know. Mrs. Brundage said that twice they have had to put in anybody they could get at a pinch-because our girls didn't go." out of town, too!"

Brundage feels."

it, mine and Mary's. I completely forgot it. But did Mary forget, too?" "She must have." Meta said briefly. "Anyway she wasn't there, and the week before that was my day-with Patty. I had a chance to go motoring that day with Aunt Lou, so I sent word to Mrs. Brundage-I took it for granted she would be able to pick up somebody in my place. But I'm afraid whoever went didn't know much about the work-from something Mrs. Brundage wald."

"Too had!" said Rhoda briefly." "I've come to the conclusion lately, Meta 'said soberly, "that it's a whole lot easier to begin things than to finish them! Mother has been point ing out that to me-and Mrs. Brundage get discouraged and leave things un-

"Expert finishers!" Suddenly that udtertisement in the morning paper and Ted's comments upon it, rushed into Rhoda's mind. She said the words aloud-laughing at the puzzled look on her triend's face.

try to live up to," she said, dimpling, say, keep out-if I am an old-fashloned ers now if "we'd just add to that above given in our Globe the other 'Export finishers'! It's strange, Mets morning: ment."-Bertha Gerneaux Woods.

JUST OVERTOOK HIM

Private Banks had been the most he had always fled for shelter and years? If it were a manufacturing of his former companions came across telegram to Ottawa. As it is, the town duced to a large, husky girl as Mrs. connected with the Musicians' Protect uside, he usked him how_be had mot meekly, "it was this way. I never did bundent on the subsidy from the rink exactly most her. Hhe just kinder to keep them alive. They earn theh

A WONDERFUL PIECE OF BURGERY Philadelphia, Jan. 31 .- After he had now place it is not very perfect, and use of an unuesthetic, announcement venient to move to another part of was made at the University Hospital the town, but this is soon overcome, by dint of kicking, clawing and wrigthat Cletus Moore, eight-months-old and at least the younger element look baby, who was rushed from St. Louis! to Philadelphia for removal of a tack sace at the rink with some enthusiasm little tall disappeared over the wall, McTavish interrupted bim sharply and opposition, live town near Toronto. scope, would recover, and would be for their funds, the local members ed: able to return to his home within the subscribe, one or two, wealthy men "You won't be a liaptiet! Then we aged, "a p'eture of me lending you cout $700.00, Low price for quick sale. chip in, and later a contest is given to and be a Prophythrian!"

Bufe through the storms that break. "What is it? I thought everything Lash of the swirling foam; The gray World Mother walts Back through the ancient gates.

remotest idea whether it refers to Where friendly maples bond Out at the journey's end; Over the droumless sloop. Only the lost winds call.

"Oh!" The prolonged monosyllable Here is the man all loved, Yot the great heart is still. And the ralm-mist is gray,

He looked through fame's red flare begin things courageously, even ex- Where the scarred world might know

> Calling her son back home. Where the last dreams abide, Now the World Mother waits. With her great arms held wide: Arms that were built to hold Children of plain and town. Rost when the sun goes down.

GETTING BACK HOME I think there must be in the breast had to use safety pins. She didn't of every normal-minded man or woman seem to mind the pins and I was an inherent desire, sooner of luter, to careful to put them in so they would "get back home." The road must turn at last, the road that leads back home. I was struck quite forcibly with this old rompers -anfety-pins are untidy!" the other day. When the editor called to see how I was getting along with peated, but a thoughtful look had come my latest attack of rhoumatism, he had, among other reading matter he "Rhoda, what are we going to do brought me, a New Year's card from about that sowing class at the settle- his friend, Mitchell Cobban, of Winment house?" Meta Raymond ran up nipeg, an Acton boy of long ugo. By to the perch that afternoon to ask the way, Mitchell's father, James Cobabruptly. "Mrs. Brundage called me up ban, was a warm friend of mine, and yesterday-and, well, she was perfectly our friendship continued until the day courteous about-it, of course, but she we laid him away in Pairview Cometery, a score of years or so ago. "Some day I'll wunder back again. To where the old home stands."

sentiment which I spoke about above. ing owner managed to stagger away. It was centuries ago, and we haven't home again some bright day he will He reached a tree, and on a second accomplishment on any line. The call "But the idea!" Rhods flushed at the find that "The Old Man" will have just trial managed to climb to the first of to-day is a call for initiative. Men Mrs. Hugh Walker. criticism. What can she expect in as cordial a welcome for him as any fork and from that refuge to shout for are needed who can suggest remedies all this heat, and some of our girls of his younger cronics-and it will be help. very largely for his father's sake. ut of town, too!"

Very largely for his father's sake.

The state of course, but at the same As I hinted before, I think there is than never—came rushing. He wild few can suggest the cure. Every lad for the season. time," Meta hesitated, "at the same in all of us, whether we talk about it, from his precurious perch and fell in as he grows up should busy himself

Thoughts that breathe and words that

New Year's card brings back a picture -plotures, all different in detail, yet every one alike-the plature of some well-remembered spot, with un oldfashioned house, where we know every corner, and hidden nook, with its familiar furniture, and surroundings; and, pariching and hallowing the whole, the memory of the old folks there; u

"VILLAGE BANDS IN DANGER" "I don't know why it wouldn't be a the radio woing to become a menace good name for our class to take-to to our Citizens' Handy If so, then I "We call ourselves the Willing Work- fogy. I found this, under the heading thing Ted was saying this morning music, from some far-away city, are while he was reading an advertise- | patting themselves on the back for their progress, but they should not forget the crushing of a village industry, namely the local band. It h all well enough to bount in Western Ontarlo of the boundts of an orchestra In Pittaburg or Chicago, but what bashful and retiring little mun in the to become of the home tooters who army. When women visited the camp have kept the rink alive these many stayed there until after they had left, concern, the local C. M. A. would have He It came as a surprise when one convened long age and sent a long him in civilian searb and was intro- | bandsman, being unorganized, and not tive Association, are left to take their medicine, the victims of progress, like many unother group since the uge of nachinery begun. Luckity, the bandsmen are not de living in the stores and factories, and except on practice-night, are just like other people. On Thursday nights they go down to their rooms, and then for two hours their efforts fill the air for blocks around. When they atart a forward to the next concert or appear- her small mistress. As the tip of the The Town Council passes a small grant the disappointed missionary claculat-

Western train recently was a welldressed, fine-looking man-He found a seat just in front of me

mondy for music. They become in fact, alvery real part of town life. and their name appears in large letters on the bills for the summer garden parties. Many a politician has sough and gained popularity by claiming the to once played in the local band, at if he could "double in brane" so my the better, for it added mystery at accomplishment to his record. In the smaller places the band a peared at the rink one night a wee us a rule, say, Friday night, and the the entire younger net came out, boy and stris coupled off. On other night the boys "shinnled" or hockeys pround with the freedom of the or caston. The rink band may have bee only four or five men usually, but ( the night of a hockey game the bat suddenly grew in strength, with manold members playing away as the watched the game without cost." Wolf: what about it? I'll say this The radio may be all very well for little untertainment in the home. of an evening, for those fortunate folks who have lote of time, and nothing else to do-who are prepared to walt for the "statio" to clear, and breaks to connect, and numbers to come on. 'But as for real band music the radio is no satisfactory substitute for the real. genuine living music, such as Acton Band discourses, and has been playing where after it is gone. for the last fifty you'rs or more. No sir-ee; no radio set will ever take the to make himself save some of it, even place of our band for real good skating. if only a little. I have found, when I know, for I've been in the band, and my money was gothe too fast, it help-I've skated in the rink-though Pd ed me to buy a place of property make a mess of either exploit now, something of permanent value. Paying And I believe the present management for it gave me more real pleasure than of the rink, for they are real live, up-

instead of the radio for rink music

follow in another way," he continued "It gives him a feeling that he owns nomething, and has something to look ters, who have been actually mauled after and be interested in. A perby them and have yet survived, is long. | manent place of property is a great Far fewer in the annals of African steadier for any of us." exploration and hunting are those who Two stations farther the man got off. have come into direct personal con- Inrectly the young fireman slipped tuot with an angry elephant in his back to the seat boulde me. He did untive wilds, and have lived to tell not know that I had overheard. the tale. One of them is Capt. W. T. "You know," he said, after a brief Shorthose, who has recently related conversation, "what I am going to his terrible experience in his book, do? I have a nice little piece of land Sport and Adventure in Africa. He right at the edge of town which my Hornby. had shot and wounded a bull elephant father gave me; and I am going to after following it for six hours, and build a house on it, and pay for it the creature had thundered away into by the month. I can save fifty dollars butcher, and will take possession tothe bush. Renewing the pursuit, he every month out, of my wages, and soon caught an undefined glimpse of then I can rent the house, and at that a gray bulk some eighty yards diss rate it won't take me very long to pay tant and fired again.

he writes, a nice little home all mid for." "The enroyed beast." "dashed off a few yards and, catching | And as I caught a glimpse of what our wind, uttered 'n shrill scream of that change, of purpose would mean to unger, and came tearing down his this young man and others throughout track straight at me. My two track- years to come, I was thankful for that but the safety catch was off. Hastily careless agreement with the boy's Q. W. McKenzie. putting it on, I fired as soon as I careless mood .- The Christian Endeavpossibly could. He was on me in a or World. second, and, dashing into the thick grass on my right, I fired at his head. "Neither shot seemed to affect him. and he nimbly sworved and caught me a blow with his trunk. Never had I seen anything move as that ele- of ingenious minds in our world to-day phant; the speed was terrific. My fate us there over were. There really was irrevocably scaled, I thought, but ought to be more than in the years had little time to consider unything past, for opportunities for discovery as I was 'smudged' from place to are greater to-day than ever before. place, squashed and beaten, expecting . Why then should not our boys and every moment that my head would girls apply themselves to the solving become a pancake, or that I should of the many problems which everyhave a tunk thrust through my heart. ,where face them? Somebody must Being physically strong. I kept my find remedies for disease and social muncles as taut as possible and walted. Wrongs, why shouldn't we do it? It I was suddenly hurled into the air and. Is easy to be a repeater and to keep luckily landing on thy feet, was able doing what others have done before to start crooping away. "Scarcely had I moved when the in furfated beast leaped upon me with snort, and the 'smudging' process began again until I saw millions of Hard to outdo the brave, the true, stars and seemed to be thrust into the bowels of the earth. "Suddenly I became aware that the elephant was no longer mauling me we shouldn't attempt to solve some of and started crawling into the, long the world's big problems. It is a What impressed me about Mitch's grass at the beast's left, I seemed to mistake to underestimate our ability. the way we're doing-or rather the New Year's card was this couplet, remember him tearing at something There is no reason whatever, why on the ground." It was the hunter's rifle, which the duce men of the type of Newton.

elephant broke in two places at the Edison, and Alexander Graham Bell. There, you see, is the same enduring stock while its battered and half-faint- Contus is just the same thing how as And when Mitchell wanders back listening fearfully for another charge. by any means reached the limit of time, Rhods, we did undertake it-we or display it to others or not, a strong a helpless heap us they reached him. In trying to work out the problem weren't' forced into it-we began so undercurrent of sentiment. If it were He was suffering agony and supposed of how he is going to bless the world enthusiastically—I can see how Mrs. otherwise we would not be very normal that half the bones in his body were by the contribution he is able to make. in our makeup, for the literal meaning broken. The natives improvised a James Russell Lowell sounds the church. of sentiment is briefly, feelings or hammock from his water-proof coat true slogan; are awakened by ideas and ideals of they sent out word of his condition, moral worth, or as the peot Gray and two days later white friends reach. They must upward still, and enward, ed him on motor cycles, and not long afterwards a doctor. Bix days later, although he still weak shukan and frightfully brulsed, he had the reassuring knowledge that all his organs were intact and that nothing was broken except The elephant, though it wounds were probably mortal, escaped.

SEED IDEAS

Hig Ideas do not arrive ready-made. campaign to reduce the number of il- appointed Coneral Preight Agent at Many people are under the impression literates within its borders. It makes Quelph, and will shortly remove to the that un inventor, when he starts out, the suggestion that all citizens able Royal City. Since coming to town sees his muchine with all its parts to do so give a part of their lelsure "Jack" has always taken an active to perfected. Instead, he generally starts time each day to serving as voluntary interest in town affairs generally. He with the iden of what he wishes to school teachers without pay. The uni has been un obliging und courteous accomplish, adds to it, builds up around Versity offers to supply blackboards, official of the railway and made many of home find a responsive note in the it, and gets his machine together bit roading charts, and all the other ma- friends during his stay here. Both little couplet of Mitch's New Year by bit. The writer, too, generally gets terial necessary for an improvised he and Mrs. Cameron and daughters the inspiration for his book in what school and also agrees to give every will be missed by a large circle of might be called a sect-idea. Howed in volunteer teacher a special diploma friends here. the soil of his sub-consciousness, wat- after he has presented for examina- . Georgetown's splendid Soldiers' pred by reflection, it becomes in time a tion one hundred pupils whom he has Memorial will be a work of art, a last-Do not despise your idea because i is little-most sands are. Give it a the holder will be given preference representative of Mappin & Wobb, of in the beginning may accomplish help towards promotion. great things in the ond.

HEALTH HABITS

1-Eat only plain, wholesome toodsome fruit, some roughage, each day. 2.- Est at regular times, avoid fattery, while it may be responsible nunching between mouls. 3.-Let fried foods plone sleep and play. W .- Cot out of doors overy day. U .- Tuko regular exercise. 10 .- He clean in mind and body.

4.-Drink plenty of Water at twice dutly. 8 .- Avoid close.

COULDN'T INFLUENCE THE KITTEN

The four-year-old descendant of line of liaptist ministers , was found tintoe struggling to immeded her kitten in the rain-water barrel. The kitten you equally frantle in her ofgling, managed to free herself from

A WORD THAT PAID Neighborhood News--Among the passengers that got on Town and Country

Horticultural Society le 3n pro ess of organization for this commun-

Mr. W. E. Bush made his annual man listened with Interest. So did vacation with London friends last but I did not do it on purpose. I fust and to hear what the young follow Miss Elsie Scott entertained a number of her girl friends to a social evening at her home on Friday evenold ble seat mute, and had been a ing of last week, in honor of her sister. vock five months. He explained Mrs. Kelth, of Toronto, and Miss aoudly how well he knew the road Eleanor Wood, of Guelph. low much he knew about engines, and A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Noville surprised them on

"I make good money," of course, he Thursday evening of last week, when was bound to add that nalvely. "My they assembled at their home for a check host month was a hundred and social evening. novembeen, But it all goon," he was The manquerade carnival, held at the proud of that; "I haven't saved a cent King George rink, on Thursday even, ing of last week, was a splendld suc-The man listened, and then he sale cous. A large crowd of spectators, us La a tone that implied that he underwell as skaters, assembled and the costumes, were attractive. Mrs. Nicholson, of Caledon, is stay "You, money does no quite easily ing with her brother, Mr. Wen. (Peurso easily one scarcely knows how or son, while Mrs. H. Theobald, who has lightens the burden of it for anyone been with her father for some time, else. "Hill, it is a good plan for a fellow has gone to Hamilton, where she and Mr. Theobald will reside. The Y. P. C. I. have been holding when he woos it. very successful meeting in Burns' Church on Tuesday evening of each the wicked. But such as keep the law week. The membership roll is now contend with them. reaching near the hundred mark. The scattering my funds idly, and then programmes have been splendld and to-date fellows, will yote for the band had something to slow for it. very pleasant evenings', have been "A man on a salary, who buys a lo or a house or a few acres of land near

The 17th anniversary of the Chris- porch awing later than usual one tian Church, Willsburg, will be held moon-light night. From a near-by on February, 17, with services at 11,00 window her mother inquired: "Mary, a. m. and 7.001 p. m. On Monday what are you doing up so late?" greatly missed; and first thing he knows, he will be the owner of a good evening a supper will be given in the basement of the church from 6 to 1 mother." o'clock, followed by a programme in the church,-Advocate.

The Board of Managers of Knox Presbyterian Church offer for sale the Manne property. At the organization meeting of the Public, School Board, Mr. W., E. Mc-Cready was elected chairman for the

E. W. and Mrs. Proston, of Carlisle, Pa., are visiting friends in Milton and L. H. Tansley, of Shelburne, has bought the business of James Turner,

Milton's annual bonspiel will come off on Monday, February II. Invitafor it. In two or three years I'll have tions, have been sent out to other clubs and a number of crack rinks

The officers of St. Clair Chapter. No. 75, C. R. C., were installed at the regular convocation last Thursday ers speedily got out of the way. I stranger, who had spoken to kindly, evening by Ex. Comp. M. S. Sprost, pulled for the frontal shot when the thoughtfulness the things he knew to assisted by Vy Ex. Comp. S. R. Bews elephant was about fifty yards away, be best ruther than in flippant and and Ex. Comps. J. M. Mackenzie and > Matilda Rixon, widow of the late John E. Bell, died at her home at Guelph on January 19, in her 88th year, after a long illness. Mrs. Bell was a daughter of the late James Rixon, Hr., and was born at the homestead, Trufalgar, about a mile out of > .The skating party, held at the arena Tuesday night under the auspices of the I. O. D. E., was a most gratifying success in every way, and was the event of the season. No finer exhibition of fancy skating and dancing on the lee hus over been witnessed

> .David Hutcheon, County Treasurer, was not ut Tuesday's meeting of the County Council. He is confined to his bed by illness. It is hoped that he will be out ugain within a week or so. In the meantime, Mr. Irving, last year's Warden, will be in charge of

> A grund concert will be given in the Princess Theatre on Thursday, Pobruary 14, under the auspices of the Halton Agricultural Society. Capt. Larry O'Brien, with the Shamrock and Thistle Revue Co., will provide the programme.-Champion.

GEORGETOWN

The Citizons' Planet will play at the carnival in the arena to-morrow night. Mrs. Lawson and Major Grant were at Guelph' attending the funeral of The Arena Co. have given final notice that any boys playing tag on His native companions-better late with existing conditions, but only a the ice-will be expelled from the arena About thirty members of the Methodist Lougue had a sieigh ride last Friday evening. On their return they enjoyed games and a luncheon in the

Mrs. E. C. White passed away at of E. C. White, who manufactured the times make unclost truth uncouth; first unvelopes made in Canada in Georgetown over sixty years ago. who would keep abreast of truth. Mrs. Mutilda Milburn, who passed Lo, before us gleam her camp-fires! away in her 80th year at Toronto, last Launch our Mayflower and steer boldly Friday, was a sister of the late Mr. Frank Taylor, and aunt of Mrs. J. W through the desperate winter sou, Bossey, Georgetown. Nor altempt the future's portal with

The Bunday School classes of Dr. und Mrs. F. R. Watson were entertained to a sleigh ride on Theaday evening. A luncheon at Mr and Mrs. John Millur's. 7th line, was s. feature.

Mr. T. J. Cameron, agent of the is asking the co-operation of all the Canadian National Railway at Georgecampaign to reduce the number of il- uppointed General Preight Agent at taught to road and write. This di- ing monument to our hero dead and a ploma is not marely a mark of honor; oredit to the citizens of our town. A chance to grow. A squirrel can tuck if he is seeking a position with the Montreal, who have the contract for into its mouth several potential ouk government, and if he is employed in the memorial, met the Mayor, Reeve trees. The idea that has vitality in any capacity by the national railroads and other members of the Council on it, even if it is tiny and undeveloped the possession of a diploma will be a Tuesday morning and made all arrangements for the completion of the work. The large bronze group for the top of the monument is being made in lengland at the present time. It is expected that all, will be completed to the people who inspire you and ready for unveiling on the King's with self-confidence. That does not birthday, June 3 .- Horald.

OUR LOVAL FRIEND, WORK

for vanity and concell, does not give some. But there are people who, while ufter de . Illnow, you discover that it | they do not flatter you, believe in you is not here drudgery, just a -neces-There is something in their uttitude to out, or a least, to havring a reasonwhich is a challenge to you to develop uhle amount of spending money. One powers hitherto neglected, to uttempt who is convatescent knows few keeper feats that up to this time have seemed Joys than getting back to work. The lohig of fumiliar tasks, once dispatched wearly or impatiently, comes to be authoraction beyond twords. you have friends who have this effect Illines frequently brings together allonated friends. The values of estrangement seem unspisakably trivial. up against a bankground of suffering il and danger. And an attack of Illness does us a service when it brings about | reconciliation between purselves, and that under-rated but loval friend, our "As I sank for the third time my past

FINE BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY A murmur of sympathy rolled from the lips of listening friends; but just Garage, repair fund 9 cavity vulcanas McGregor was preparing to resume. sing plant. Res dy for business, little 4,500 population. $480.00 will buy this "And did you happen to notice," he complete husiness. Vulcanizing plant

AXIOMS FOR 1924

Business neglected is often lost Above all, that I be not a coward.

The bull dug wins because he hangs A merry heart donth good like nedicine. High interest generally means los socurity. Let yourself and not your words apenk for you. There is nothing in the world world dolm: wrong for. A man's true wealth is the good b does in the world. When speed sacrifices safety, 'twee better to go slow. .To be of use in the world is the Impossibilities are merely the half earted efforts of quittors. Happiness is neither a vested right nor u self-austaining state. A cultomer offended in harder be won than a strong city. The bluggest room in the world is th room for improvement. Being overlastingly on the Job beats carrying a rabbit's foot for luck. If you are good in everybody nearly only way to be happy.

mistake probably doesn't know, one They that forsake the law praise

No one is useless in the world who everybudy will see good in you.

ECLIPSE FOR THE MOON

A young couple were occupying the "Looking at the beautiful moon "Well, its twelve o'clock. You had better send the moon home."-Everybody's Magazine.

For Every Use About the House

For washing floors and linoleum-washing woodwork and windows - for the many uses about the house-SURPRISE wears wellwashes well in any water and is soft on the hands.

Telling the Story

When the merchant tells the story of his goods in his newspaper advs., he automatically reduces the amount of time required to wait on a customer. The more completely the story of the goods and what they will do for the customer is told, the shorter will be the time required to sell them. In most cases this saving alone will pay for the ad., while the additional business it brings in will be so much

Newspaper advertising is being everywhere advocated by the largest advertisers on the continent as the best method of developing business. It takes some of them a long time, but gradually they all find out that the paper that's read by the whole family round the table is-the medium through which to reach the people by those who have something to sell. And the little town paper is the one that is most closely scanned in the home.