THURSDAY, MARCH 6, .1924 -----GIRLS THAT ARE NEEDED

firth who while merrily happy yo Winsome demeanor no matter know-These are the girls that are needed to-day.

. Olrie who are gosuine, simple, sincere, Who will true confidence never be

Honoring heads that are circled with Cliris who are prayerfully looking to Ever for guldance through Leaving to Him all the path These are the wirls that are pegded to-duy.

AN "ALL-HANDS" PARTY A party where everyone helps with his hands to furnish the entertainment provides an evening of fun that globe. is out of the ordinary. Make invitaat the given time.

should find in conspicuous places marked: "This Way to the Dining Room," 'This Way to the Cloakroom," Way Out

"Handy" articles like handkerchiefs. gloves, and thimbles make suitable.

nuts, and let everyone take as large . Chug-g-g! The machine hammered Voices from below came to him. He that is caught. If a canning outsit holds the most nuts wins a sprise; so,

Let each player in turn go to it, thrust legs and no body, were boring into truce every little velu, every discolorin his hand and see how many beans the shelf. he can get on the back of his hand,

Again, let each player write as many in ten minutes. The reading of the a fresh one. quotations is usually very dmusing. Still another test is to ask a series of questions about the hand. Of course, your sixteen-foot drill!" the hostess must prepare them in adv vance. Perhaps her list will be somewhat like this: What famous lover wished himself a glove? Romeo. What place of the other, which was sent part of the hand is often eaten? Lady back by the same rope. fingers. What part of the hand is a good reference? Index finger. What famous woman had great difficulty in washing her hands? Lady Macbeth. What flower implies that a certain unimat has hands? Foxelove. A little thought will suggest other questions

When the flight of time makes it necessary for your guests to follow the pointing finger that reads "This .Way Out," doubtless "all hands" will

- THE JTCH'TO BE IN THINGS

Jane's house was a model of neathers, "Why, Jane," I said, "what treasure

She amiled w little. . "She has really worked a change in bluff. And then: the whole family." I went on. "Robert a positively, putting on weight!" Mischief dimpled found Jane's little mouth. "Now, auntie, don't pretend fell. you haven't guessed the reason," she said. "New maid! You know it's the same Hannah we had last year." "There most certainly is a change, dear. What le it?"

different from the irritable being you seemed to hear the telephone ringing But where? Below the men, or above? yet. Jane was at the head of so many The reply mount life or douth, things. There were committee meetings for this and luncheons for that, the drill hung at their feet, its sharp and if she had a free afternoon some point whirling-madly. The exhaustone was sure to ring up and invite her pipe detonated like a Gutling. Then, for an afternoon of golf with tex at cruck! The hipple to which the hose the clubbouse afterwards. Meals were was coupled had broken in the thread hurried, indifferent affairs of brolled just outside the steam-chast. Down steak or chops; poorly seasoned bota- went the machine, ringing against the toes, and pies and cakes bought at the cliff, leaving them dangling alone but ed." said f.

'came to,' us the boys say. One night the church, tired out. I had been going for two weeks as hard as I could, with musicules, parties, luncheons, committee meetings-goodness knows what! The children were still up, and put them to bed not one of the three had a button on his nightgown. I this catastrophe had left them limp every year. The lightning-rod man gone but when I drugged myself down stairs, and I had the rest of the evening to think things over.

"It came to me that I was giving no time to waste. The hot pipe burn- so far, not in the house, though we've the best I had to other people, all my ed their hands frightfully, but it offer- lost a free new and then. You'll notreabness, all my vitality, and that the ed their only road to life. ones I loved most in the world were | Both could not climb together; one hasturtiums are growing." getting what was left. I wasn't a must get above the other. companion to my husband; I wasn't a "Go first, Ham!" muttered Handy to playfellow to my children. Instead of his lighter mate. It was no time for being a good housekeeper, I was debute; life depended on prompt ac- mountains?" said the new boarder. merely overseeing things and giving tion. Sam swarmed up the hose above hastily. orders-while Bob worried about the the drill-runner's head. bills. Do you know what I decided was the trouble with me?"

"No, Jano; what was it?" wanted to be popular, to be flattered, the big man, for a short distance, kept blowed away the san-house and the to have my executive ability and my close below the other, lifting his two hen-houses. It didn't do anything to things very inconvenient, and put the talents admired. And for that miser- hundred and forty pounds so fast that the house, excepting, to tear off a

"Then you don't take part in things to outstrip him. Jane picked up the inblecioth she the hose had burst in spots. It sagged fixed everything all right," said Ohed. was hemming, "I try to see something of my friends. Really, I don't steam spurted out, threatening hands miles from the village, I've had the of etiquette. mins it as I thought I would. You and faces. With averted heads they house and furniture insured for full "The king took the greatest her smile grew tenderly remin- climbed in allence, toes clattering as much as they're worth, and I've got in the education of his sons, and they

The Bree Press' Short Story

On the Face of the Cliff ALBERT W. TOLSIAN

and Sammy Kline, bls tender. . were banking away at a sixthe face of a perpendicular bluff overlooking the river. Above their heads the gray rock rone shear forty fost; These are the girls that are needed beneath was a drop of a hundred and sixty to the dump.

Handy, a read-boarded glant, two Inches over six foot and fat he the bargain, tipped the scales at two hundred and forty pounds. Klno was wiry little sklplack, eight inches shortor, and weighing almost a hundred pounds less. Both, however, skilled workmen, and minded eight-score foot beneath them no more than so many inches. Dan had been a structural-stool worker on dixxy "aky-scrapers," and his mate had furled royals on every ocean of the

The drill was cutting down the hard tion cards in the shape of an out- trap at one end of the edge. In the stretched hand, and morely say that thin soll that overspread the rock grew you are bidding "all hands" to a party scanty grasses. One stilt of the triped touched the bluff; the other two stood near the outer edge. Straight down the front of the cliff hung the steamabout your rooms finger-board guides hose from the boiler beyond the sum-

Dan, turning the feed-screw bundle "This Way to the Lemonade," "This directed the steel point probing the "A good game with which to start the ovening is one that requires a sheet stretched tightly across a frame, with a small hole cut in it near the pound one after the other thrust a hand one after the other thrust a hand to guess the owner of each hand."

The machine top. He heard his mate panting, and looking down, saw him several, feet the bow with his face close below.

"Can you make it, Dan?" he baked. Greaned Handy, "I don't know."

"Hold tight; I'll help you as soon of the other thrust a hand only the hole. The young men are to guess the owner of each hand."

The machine top. He heard his mate panting, and looking down, saw him several, feet the bow with his face close below.

"Can you make it, Dan?" he baked. Greaned Handy, "I don't know."

"Hold tight; I'll help you as soon of the water. Through this he seare the other three or four inches under the surface of the water of the water. Through this he seare the other three or four inches under the search three or four inches under the water. Through this he search three or four inches under the search three or four inches under the water. Through this heart three or four inches under three or four inches under t the men go behind the screen and blue sauce of powdered rock, and the the drill-runner.

The earth showered over the bare feet the course he wants taken. When he sees a turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees a turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees a turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees a turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees a turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees a turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees at turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees at turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees at turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees at turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the rarefled when the sees at turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that the sees at turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on the sees at turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and all at once it flashed to the carefully and al girls to guess. It is needless to say four times a second the whirling drill or, and disappeared.

suddenly a harsh roar. The stone- top was still fifteen feet away. A trial to determine the size of each crusher, for which they were furnish- Inch by inch he rose. The roar of are thus wasted; for next to the green plereling whistle that brought a cry of hand is also amusing. Pass a bowl of ing food, had begun its daily grind: the crusher was suddenly out off. turtle, the hawkbill is the best for soup of jumped over the abyas. It was as if heard the cry of a bird. His eyes beans placed at one end of the room, a monstrous wingless steel wasp, all stared at the rock before bin; he could person who has the most beans on the back of his hand at the end of the promenade is adjudged the prise the entire ledge crashing down on the Handy's practised var told him it

> "Shut off the steam!" he shouted: and the machine stopped. "Send down Soon the long steel bar swung clinking down the cliff face, to take the

"Turn on your steam!" rose Handy's shout; and again the machine started. Kline had just finished a funny story that made the big drill-runner shake like a jelty; his roar of laughter almost drowned the puffing of the exhaust. He was looking far down the river, from which the last vestige of mist had disappeared, when his uttention was recalled by a startled exclamation from the sailor, 'The lutter, chancing to-glanco down at the inner edge of the shelf, had noticed a slight go home grateful for a pleasant even- crack between the sell and the bluff. As Handy stared, ustounded, the crack appeared to widen, Jarred by the vibrations of the drill, an old seam was actually opening. There came a rending. The shelf settled. Another second, and would plunge after the toppling muss to a quick death at the bottom of the "The hose!" yelled Handy, and jumped for it. Kline followed. They caught the hot pipe just as the ledge

The Inch-and-three-quarters canvas and rubber, wound tightly with marline, was fifty foot long. Its upper end was coupled to the pipe from the boller: its lower was attached to the steam-chest of the drill. Old und leaking, it was fairly well fitted to convey steam, but not to hold up two I remembered my last visit, and I steel. It must give way somewhere, For the bare fraction of a second

the rubber tube, the steam spurting

from its torn and There was breathless silence for a and his wife to make their summe moment. Then from far below rose boarders comfortable, according t the dull crush of the avalanche, fot- their notion of comfort; but some I got home from serving a supper at lowed by the fainter clang of the drill, quality they could not reasonably be They shifvered at the narrowness of expected to understand. their escape,

But they were in appalling poril, condition?" asked one boarder, a newly swinging over the abyes against the arrived, hervous woman, "Do you have smooth bluff, devold of foothold. When them looked over every year?" I woolded them for that; and when I a man has warning to brace himself

Forty feet above, the hose bent over he put 'em up. Home o' the folks in the crost. The only thing for them the village thought he chested me in to do was to climb it; and there was the quality, but we've never been hit

When the machine fell, leaving the gan to play on Handy's leg. Energia- more'n once in a dozen years. Let's one to stand or sit in the presence "I had the litch to be in things'it I ed by the pain from the scalding jet, are, it's full that some the storm that princes.

Weakened by the jark of the drill,

These are the girls that are needed Oan Handy, the drill-runner, above might break.

ationg for some purposes, and very sau fit out hundreds of these vessels. wonk for others. Kline, the sullor each of which carries a number of wouldn't justify your, thing them necuatomed to awaying upon roped, small bouts, with two men to each from him, would [17" was a far better climber than Handy, beat, a cook, who has charge of the Bosides, the latter had fer hundred vossel when the men are off after turpounds more to lift. He began to ties, and an extra man on the larger be conscious of a fearful ache in life vessely."

As the hose rubbed and out into the fellows: For afteen tons or smaller a of earth felt on the heads of the im- twenty tons, eight bouts and eighteen but enough struck'Handy's bare crown ty-two men. The small boats are is ill. Buddenly steam cented to pour from crash and his dropping gage that something was wrong. There were is fitted, water-tight, an ordinary winfootstops above, and a shout:" l'Hello, down there! Neither man replied; they were too ongineer's horrifled face. It disappeared quickly; and a shouting and runoff by the engineer, warned by the ing told that he was gone to bring depths of the ledge. The machine top. He heard his mate panting, and Each boat has an expert turtler, who the direction of the house.

"Hold tight; I'll help you as soon thirty fathoms below, which in those emerging from the kitchen window, fortilizer. After that has been thoroughly tried, steam enveloped them in a little white of triumph told that Kilne had acaded boat, the disherman signalling with his man with a bag creeping stealthilly rays.

The sun baked the cliff front. But work to support two hundred and forty mashes and is soon landed in the boat. I felt that I ought to do something prizes for the most successful guess. the morning mist still covered the pounds with one hand, while you raise As the hawkbill is hunted for the I could hardly overpower the man. broad river with an irregular, fleecy the other for a fresh hold. Each time shell on its back, when taken aboard blanket, plerced by the moving musts he reached a shorter distance. Grad- the vessel it is killed and the shell is sure of my voice. Suddenly I thought figure of a hand with his left hand. and tall smoke-stucks of larger craft, unly his progress became a series of removed. If it is wanted, the best of an accomplishment in which I ex-Appoint judges and award a prize for while the smaller puried unseen below, mere hitches. Each time he felt that puris of the meat are saved for food, celled all the other boys." From the base of the bluff broke he could not make another. And the but the rest is cast into the sea.

staccate of the exhaust-pipe. But for life. Ith senses were never keener amount of valuable material could be largest handful.

stacento of the exhaust-pipe. But for the livery little sound was magnified. The saved weight on each log, it would have puffing of a tug reached his ears. He Turti

He can get on the once of the three months will amount to the was already down fourteen fearfully hot. The sun peat on the three months will amount to shoulder-blades. An intense thirst thousand dollars. The value of the ing the beans on that position. The completing the battery of a dozen, tormented him. His mouth and throat shells varies greatly. The average good deal of lung power to remove his

Insects hummed round, rejoicing in quotations about the hand as he can was time to exchange the dult drill for tored before his face. A swarm of files, their wings. A painted butterny flut- twenty-five dollars a pound. taking advantage of the fact that his hands were busy, buzzed about his bald head, biting him intolorably. At last he felt that he could not climb, another Inch. Just then, right on a level with his bloodshot eyes, nopeared a parrow ledge. Could be but raise himself his own height and get his too-tips on that scanty shelf, freeing his arms from the unendurable Now, as this old negro is always col- "It was an embarrassing question, strain, he might have a chance yet. was comparable with nothing which to fish for a big wildcat that had been a few of his grapes. fore. He knew that he must cimils ed two big countsh hooks fast to a six- gust and wrath that came over his quickly, for he could not last much foot snood of light fron dog chain. face.

his strength into his arms, he lifted and of the snood to a stout coll of many other things that I need not himself by a succession of short, quick clothesline, balted his book with a repeat. He cooled down after a time, jorks. He experienced a peculiar high-flavored place of beef, and as and we parted on fairly pleasant dragging sensation, gradually growing soon us it was dark flung his tackle terms; as I left, the major said with stronger, as if ouch foot were tethered out of the second-story window of his a chuckle that he supposed it took a by an india-rubber cable, which bulled cable and awaited results. . harder with every inch he rose.

off. His arms became suddenly weak. All grow black round him. He swayed felt the hook jerked home when she country store. dizzlly. A little more, and he would tumble backward.

"Hold on, Dan!" The shout from above gave blm a spurt of courage. He opened his eyes just as a noose dangled down past bla face. Kline above, flat on his stomach, his head projecting over the edge, onglucered the rope down below Handy's

"Put your feet through It!" he men and twelves hundred pounds of go the hose, he grasped the line. But consciousness: his hold weakened.

"Holst away, quick!" bhouted he line. Just as Handy lost consciousness and lurched backward, the sailor caught him by the wrists. Hhe weighed forty-six pounds.

"Are your lightning-rods in proper has never been nigh us since that year tlee more or less o' them stunns where "You don't have eyelenes in this golden umbrollus, and three hundred heard." region, of course. I mean cyclonic and sixty soldiers.

"And what procautions duve you minds what to do. ed more slowly, and the sailor begun taken against fire?" asked the nervous woman, with a shudder. "Well, now, ma'am, us to that I've frightened." against the smooth rock, swed by the some extry on live stock. I guess you were among the most diligent and afdespenists stapulates beneath, torment- can yest easy on the fire question." fectionate pupils I ever had."

TAKING TORTOISE-SHELL

About the middle of February, when As Ned Tatbou was taking a trump turtless of Nassau are getting their he suddenly leaded over the readside feason of life-in-general. The family day." little vedsols roady for the summer fence and returnet with a half dozen docto crube in the waters of the Bullama peats. islands, running us far south us Grand Turk and the Calcos group, and even to the waters of Santo Domingo, in Dick, "but I don't think I'll yield. I munity to being at least burtly filled earch of the highly prized hawkbill have heard that turtle. This is the turtle that furnish- bad us the thief." ca the tortoise-shell, also galled caret. "I don't call that seculing," said Ned, fine sewing, or to plain advice on the These sholls are worth from five to flushing: wenty dollars a pound, according to blekness and markings.

A turtle bout is ordinarily a tittle chooner about thirty feet long and Stealing is taking something of real fourteen feet beam, but of course they value. The owner of this orchard the wing de a moth. Even a woman vary in size. They are seaworthy and would never miss a few pears." Now a man's muscles may be very simple in rig. The merchants of Nas-

The usual equipment is about soll on the cyles of the bloff, a allower vessels, five boats and cleves men; perilled men. Kilne got most of this, men; thirty tons, ten boats and twencomfort. Hosides, the salter's shuklast and quite seaworthy. When not in of the repermade it harder for the man use they are nested amidships on each side of the mast. Each small boat is equipped with roses were worth wouldn't have made the hose. It had evidently been shut an our for sculling, a water-glass, a the old hady cry as bitterly as she wooden hox twelve inches long and did ten inches square, in one end of which dow-pane; fifty or sixty fathorns of walking home one night, and as we ight rope attached to a conical not six passed Major Belcher's house it ocfeet deep with six-by-eight-inch mosh, curred to us that his grapes busy. Then over the edge peered the at the bottom of which is a half-inch probably ripe. fron hoop four and 'one-half feet in diameter, and weighted with load.

When the vessel reaches the hunt- as the spice of adventure that led us ing-grounds, the boats are but over into trespassing. We were entrying Kline had now almost reached the and scatter about for a mile or more, the feast when we heard a sound from

The man in the story sculls the the grape trollis. Presently I naw When he sees a turtle he carefully and all at once it flashed on me that melts because the rarefled ir abstracts "I'll got a rope!" exclaimed the sall- lowers the not and drops it over his it was a burglar making off with his all the heat from surrounting objects game, which immediately tries to ea- plunder. Handy climbed doggodly. It menns cape, but becomes entangled in the incommently, dancing to the explosive knew that men were watching his fight were attached to a turtler, a large by exclaimed. "Why, it fairly gave > proverbial fisherman's luck. Sometimes leaving his bag behind him, with the the crow-which works on shares-will contents scattered on the walk. I had take one hundred and eighty pounds just gathered up the spoil when the in three months, and again not half major and his old manservant apgone, the earth still fell upon him from lars to twenty-tive dollars. The most had done it. When ut last he did valuable are those termed "lanternbacked," and the clear shell is worth negro, "up north of the Balt Meadow had not been cleared up. Bridge," who is un indefatigable fight "'How did you happened to be right orman, and who makes his living from at hand when the burglar came out of his activities in the Housatonic River. the house? he usked, ing, turtling, bass fishing, shad haut- but I tried to explain that I was pass-The agony of the next two minutes ing or clamming, the idea came to him ing by and had just stepped in to try the drillman had over experienced be- hanging round his henhouse. He lush- "I shull hever forget the look of dis-

QUEER FIBHING

He was almost asleep when he heard . "I received no reward, but I carried At last he know he could not pos- the bedpost creak, and, feeling for the away the lesson that a man's most The movement was downward and sibly raise himself another millimeter, rope, found it taut as a drumbead. A cherished possessions may not be his outward, sickening and slow. Thirty He opened his eyes and glanced down, how! rose from the darkness outside, silver and gold, and that the distincevery room was in perfect order; the feet away hung the hope ladder by The ledge was about half up to his and the asherman grinned with de- tion between hooking and stealing is ments were well planned and well which the men had descended. It was known, he swung light us he felt the captive plunge and not so plain to other people as it somecooked, the children were quiet and too far for them to reach; besides, the them in, and rested them on the gock. run und pull on the line. When he times is to boys." contented, and her mending, basket flasure ran the full length of the shelf. The relief was inexpressible. The thought that the splitting, snarling flowing. "Too horror-stricken to shout or stop strain was off his arms, although the creature was quieting down a bit, he flowing. " horrible emptiness yet yawned under went to the window, laid hold and beall went wrong. Hearcely had the cut Fillmore Bennett, had its birth in emitted one long scream and, leaping for the wistaria vine on the side of the cabin, began to climb for the window ster, whose molodies have made him not budge. He gave a yell, run into a small closet and held the door shut be all-right by and by, tight. Not until broad daylight did window, and he discovered that the wildcut had bitten it in two and freed ently. The negro got his hooks back the the men behind him. Up came the ore found the cut dead in a patch of caught round a stump and, twisting round her neck, had strangled her stantly.

GOING TO SCHOOL IN BURMA

Church Family Paper, that the Klay of Huram came to him and asked if he agreed, the king asked, "What ages

"From twelve to fourteen."

Four came to school the next day, each riding on, an elephant, and with envy that fellow was winging." two golden umbrellas. Each, also, was escented by forty soldiers. Afterward "Well, if I were soing to envy a singer the whole nine came. He there were I'd select somebody with a better veloc. nine princes, nine elaphants, eighteen lifs was about the poorest I ever

Unlike Mary's Jamb, Doctor Marks anys, the elephants stayed outside, but Unloss a tempost backs in and kind of solves flat down with their faces to pipe-end open, the blasing steam be- gets stuck; but that doesn't happen the ground-it was forbidden for any able, value little ambition I was neg- a blow from one of Kine's shuffling blind here 'n' there; so real damage." the situation over, and made up their "You fellows may get

"Try one," he said. "They are fine." "They do look to pting," said Cousin and recetted. His place in the comde tecelver is as by a fe "What do you can fir" usked his chualf quietly. "Why -- or -- book gr. 1 suppose.

"Money is different," protented Ned. "It's all property," said Cousto Dick, "and the owner has a right, to it. Indeed, he may value the kind that lan't money the most. An old lady who lives near me has a ronebush of a rare variety that she has moded for years. It bears only a few flowers, und this year she had not her heart on sending them to her daughter, who

"Perhaps he wouldn't miss a cut them, some passer-by stroped the bush. 'That wasn't stealing indicy, but the loss of the small sum but the involved. Jimmie Trask and I were wasn't so much the flavor of the trapes the water-glass, which is immersed but I got no answer; and I quickly Salt, added to snowing three or four inches under the surface discovered that I was alone. I would lower temperature. of the water. Through this he search have retreated, too; but it seemed to Carbonic acid is

> "I was a good deal frightened, but Shouting might help, but I wasn't

"I never heard it done like that!"

"It had that effect on the burglar," Turtle-fishing is attended with the the three times, and the follow ran.

grass the fact that I had frightened away the burglar, his manner changed ultogether. In fact, when we had taken the Jewellery and silver into the house, he was in high good humor, and binted at a roward. I was feeling quite a here when it suddenly oc-In Connecticut they tell of an old curred to the major that one point which he knew would resist the teeth "What you were meaking in after Shutting his eyes and throwing all of the game. Then he lashed the other my Isabellast' he cried. Then he said rogue to catch a rogue.

THE STORY OF A RONG It was about time for closing business in the evening when J. P. Webfamous, came into the store, feeling he somewhat depressed. I said to Webster, "What

The fishline dangled loose from the not that make a good hymn?" "Maybe it would," he said, indiffer-

. I then turned-to my deak and pendemeanor changed. 'Stepping to the desk, he began writing the notes in-

In a few moments he requested Mr. Bright to hand him his violin, and he played with little hesitation the beautiful melody from the notes. A few moments later he had folled down the notes for the different-pasts and the ing it exactly as it appeared a few days later, and us it has been sunt the world over ever since.

A BRAVE SINGER "Envy hint" school the other

ENERAL SPECIALISTS

a broken heart is becoming extinct |

conduct There V re evidently advantages in specializing. It is pleasant to know one thing thoroughly, if it is nothing may have ambition to be quoted

Still, expect have their limitations. if one may dudge by their diverse conclusions or the witness-stand. Just Billings's wis in remolas true, and "things that all't so," When all is said, life is many sided, and there is a mall for some persons proacher: . "Oh, no, mass preacher and "Oh, there's added o' difference, massal De preis ier aln't much use for plain folks, 'chise he got ter stick to his tex'. But We 'zorter, bress ye.

BNOWLAKER

Bo I decided to lie very still behind and prisms reflect only to white light

WASN'T OPEN TO TEMPTATION the horth is ghivering in wintry winds, one afternoon- through a farming every department of society, it will Sunday School, mamma, and he asked with an occasional dash of snow, the country with his older cousin Dick, soon to time for the success of a pro- me if I ever played murbles on Bur-"I said: "Got they behind me, Satan." and he walked right off and left me."

au "an autle

who see if thus he from their mitural point of view. We may sympathize himself against so charge of being at "Why, what's to difference between massa-de 'zorter de kin branch!"

Bound is deaden by snow. Snow will not quanch thiret. No two snowflake are allke. Snow prevents pants from becom ing frost-bitten.

"If'm. And what did you have to say

All Clean

Seen and Unseen SURPRISE does more than wash a garment so that it looks clean. It dissolves hidden impurities without injury to color or fabric, and leaves the garment thoroughly cleansed.

Be Prudent

When baby needs a pair of shoes, I wonder what store ma will choose, for that partic'ar size!. When father must dress up his folks, in Easter hats or all-wool cloaks, who wins this gladsome prize?

What lucky dealers get the cash that people spend for plows and hash; for clocks and luscious pies? Just look these very columns o'er; you'll find an adv. from every store that's owned by Tradesmen

They offer things you want to buy at prices low for values high; their goods delight the eyes. Their plan's not new; they learned the trick when Pharaoh had but just one brick--"Be Prudent--Advertise."

THE FREE PRESS