The Press of Ontario Will Stand for the O. T. A.

At the meeting of the District Press Association held at Elora two weeks ago, a discussion on the Ontario Temperance Act, and the proposed Plebiscite or Referendum, and the attitude of the local press towards it, disclosed the fact that there was a very strong feeling among the newspaper men that the Act should be retained and strengthened, rather than that there should be any loosening of its provisions. The newspaper men present freely expressed their intention of standing for the Act as the best measure available for controlling the liquor traffic. Last week while in Toronto the editor was in conversation with a newspaper official who travels from end to end of the Province in the administration of the duties of his office, and he stated very emphatically that the spirit found in the Elora meeting respecting the Ontario Temperance Act, characterizes every press meeting he attends in all parts of the Province.

Country Weeklies vs. City Dailies

An observant and philosophical writer contrasts the respective characters of the city and country papers in this significant manner: "Turning from the city newspapers to the rural weekly which comes to our home is like stepping from the slums of vile odor into an old-fashioned garden sweet with honeysuckle and the scent of perennial flowers. The pages of the big dailies are so full of murder, thievery, immorality, the breaking up of homes by infidelity and selfishness that the better news is obscured. One reads the paper aside with a feeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of such terrible and unhappy things. Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the smaller towns around us one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth only that which uplifts a community—the activities of the business men, the church news, the civic good accomplished by women, the school items, the happy social gatherings of the people, the marriages, births, and deaths, farmers' items and all the thousand and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours. Scandals are seldom published in the country newspapers, but if it so happens that decency demands it, the uglier details are omitted, or are given a kindly touch that is widely different from the unfeeling publicity of the city press. No wonder. The offenders may be our neighbors, or people we have rubbed elbows with all our lives. They are real human beings, while to the great dailies they are merely grains of a sort that are ground out hotly in their 'newmill'."

Educating Emigrants to be Good Canadians

The phenomenal increase in the volume of immigration now reaching our shores presents a subject of immense importance to the thinking people of Canada. Immigration is generally recognized as one of our social problems, but not everyone realizes that, by immigration, Canada is building up a new national life. In a normal family, each child may be regarded as a 'problem'; but when the family is increased also by adoption, an entirely new group of 'problems' is introduced into the family circle. The immigrant is an adopted citizen, and brings with him among his 'effects', a trunk full of new national responsibilities. Social workers are, perhaps, a little inclined to view immigration by its failures rather than by its triumphs. The individual of British or Anglo-Saxon stock, who 'makes good' is promptly and easily absorbed into the fabric of Canadian life; contributes to the taxes; casts an intelligent vote; and requires no 'specialized' treatment. The social workers are hardly aware of his arrival. The immigrant who drifts into their purview is likely to be one who has some physical or intellectual handicap. Possibly only that of a foreign language which places him at a disadvantage in competition with those who can speak and read English; but more often the failure of the immigrant to 'make good' is connected with some physical defect, through which he becomes a public charge or a unit in the statistics of correctional or remedial institutions. Unfortunately there are no statistics of the immigrants who succeed and become 'our leading citizens,' so that the record of immigration, as found in the reports of social work, is apt to be somewhat pessimistic in its outlook. It is therefore peculiarly interesting to find in the proceedings of the Convention of the Social Service Council of Canada just published a suggestion for the welfare of the immigrant which involves the setting up of no new, specialized machinery for Canadianization, but simply a more profitable use of our existing system of education.—Bowmanville Statesman.

A New and Growing Market

Canada is rapidly developing her export trade with Japan, and it is stated that at the present time Canadian wheat and flour are the most popular in the Orient, and that milling men in this country have practically a monopoly on the trade. Exports of flour from Vancouver to the Orient increased from 4,002 barrels in 1920, to 805,247 barrels in 1923. Canadian lumber also found a wide market in Japan and China, shipments of this commodity growing from 25 million feet in 1921 to 201 million feet in 1923. This new market with its large possibilities should have the effect of enhancing the prices of the products of farm and forest.

Worthy of Consideration

"The Women's Institute is always alert for the introduction of desirable improvements about town," said a citizen to THE FREE PRESS the other day. "I have been hoping they would undertake to place receptacles on some of the prominent street corners, for waste paper, candy bags, gum wrappers, cigarette cartons, banana skins, and orange peel." Such a utility would greatly aid in carrying out the slogan "Make Acton More Beautiful." Their public drinking fountain at the Government Building, and their animal watering fountain on Main Street are practical and appreciated benefactions. The refuse receptacles would also be so regarded.

Has Every Man His Price?

Sir Richard Squires is the next public man in the limelight. He is an ex-Premier of Newfoundland, and is charged with misappropriation of public funds. $22,000 funds of the Liquor Control Department are said to be stolen. Dr. Campbell, former Minister of Agriculture, is mixed up in the case with $400 of public money booked against him. The east cannot throw bricks at their more westerly friends, as the pot may be as dark complexioned as the kettle. "Every man has his price" is an old saying, and not true on the "every" end of it, but it would appear that the fellows with their hands out are growing in number if not in height. It is too bad that such is the case, but the right thing to do is to thoroughly investigate, cut out all the whitewashing, and punish the offenders adequately.—Brussels Post.

Our Imperial Relations

Had the debate upon J. S. Woodsworth's resolution in the House of Commons providing 'complete Home Rule for Canada' taken place a dozen years ago, it would have been very different, indeed, from that provoked before the Easter recess. In those days the present Opposition would have waved the flag and denounced as disloyal and un-British any attempt to weaken the Imperial bonds; before Easter, though the House debated for five hours this thoroughly-radical motion, there was no scene. No flags were flapped; no charges and counter-charges crossed the floor; Government Leader and Opposition Leader agreed in principle as to Canada's practical, if not legal, independence; restrained, serious discussion of a grave constitutional issue took the place of the fuss-and-feathers phrasology of an earlier day; no person's loyalty was impugned, no motives imputed, and the Labor member who fathered it quietly withdrew his resolution, agreeably impressed with its reception by all groups and parties. Not that all were agreed. Far from it. Mr. Woodsworth pictured Canada as still in the swaddling clothes of infancy, unable even to attend her own constitution; Premier Mackenzie King deemed her as free and untrammelled as if that freedom had been specifically 'stated in the bond'; Mr. Forke, the Progressive Leader, opposed the resolution, while sympathizing with its principle; Mr. Shaw, the Calgary Progressive, ridiculed the claim that Canada had power even to reform her own Senate, and Mr. Martell, Liberal of Hants, decided the Dominion as tied, hand and foot, by the decisions of the Mother of Parliaments, even as to matters of peace and war. As the Minister of Justice, Mr. Lapointe, put it, the thorough airing of the subject could do no harm, and might stimulate public thought in the matter.—Alymer Gazette.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Is it any wonder that the "dole system" prevails in Great Britain? The figures of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, published last week, show that the British liquor bill amounts to $8,000,000 per week.

Newcomers to Canada are giving immigrants some extra activity in assisting them to settle. Immigration officials have seldom been more busy in directing those thousands who are this spring coming to establish new homes in this great Dominion.

Russia is no more, so far as that name of the country is concerned. Canada's officials at Ottawa have been notified from the postal administration of that country that the name is now Union of Soviet Socialist Republic, and that this name should be used, instead of Russia, hereafter in addressing all correspondence.

Prime Minister MacDonald, of the British House of Commons, in his May Day message to Labor and the Socialist movement, expresses the hope that another May Day will see the League of Nations transformed into an "all-embracing parliament of peoples," and predicts the coming of a day of international peace.

Last week the Renfrew Mercury completed the first five years under the management of Rupert Davies, the present energetic editor and publisher. The Mercury had reached a high standard of efficiency under the Smallfields—father and son—but this standard has been exceedingly well maintained during the past half decade.

By a vote of 152 to 90 the Freeholders of Markham Village last week defeated the referendum submitted by the High School Board to spend the sum of $45,000 in additions, alterations and permanent improvements to the High School. The electors evidently thought necessary improvements could be effected for a smaller sum.

How much do the weeds on Ontario farms cost, we wonder? $20,000,000 annually is the estimate of Premier Bracken referred to the pest in Manitoba. Clean farming assuredly pays a big dividend and this sort of cultivation deserves more praise than is often accorded. The Noxious Weed Law and the "Don't-care-farmer" should receive more attention, to aid those who are endeavoring to farm properly to do so.

His Lordship, the Bishop of Niagara, held two confirmation services on Sunday at Grace Church, at 11 a. m., and at All Saints, Milton, at 3 p. m.

There are not many idle men in Milton. With their hands to the plow and stone works in operation, and the factories all going in town, any man, who is able and willing to work, should be able to find employment these days.

The Young People's League of the Methodist Church was honored last Monday evening with a fraternal visit from the Georgetown Young People's League, about fifty of whom were here. This has been a long-felt want, and our citizens are delighted. The village has a considerable credit, due from the county, and this with the various grants will give us the new road without a very great immediate expenditure.

On Friday afternoon last the new school building was officially opened, when a large number of citizens of the village and surrounding sections, were present to view the new school and listen to the addresses and music. The building consists of six classrooms of standard size, with teachers' rooms, cloak rooms, etc.; two large basement play rooms, as well as a boiler room and coal cellar. The building is heated by steam, and fitted with the most modern toilet system and is lighted with electricity. The latest type of ventilation is in use—the air of each room being changed every twenty minutes.

Dr. Waugh, Provincial Inspector of Schools, officially inspected the school, while those assembled sang "God Save the King."—Advocate.

The hall was closed by the police, and an attendant undertook to block the passage by standing on the threshold, and forcing the people to pass by him one at a time so that he could take up the tickets.

THE CAPACITY OF BECOMING EXCITED

A well-known journalist has said that no one can make a good newspaper man without considerable capacity of becoming excited about things. And that capacity for becoming excited is part of the stock in trade of most successful people. When two men sit up late talking business in a lighted office, their voices, if they have at least one qualification for making a success. The fellow who is so bored by the "stuffed" speaker, who thinks about starting in again next morning, may have twice the brains of the enthusiast, but he is not likely to go half as far.

No one will do good work who is not interested in it. Enthusiasm is the capacity of becoming excited about things that are worth doing.

An amusing stunt was performed last Saturday afternoon, when Mr. Lockley, conductor of the Oakville Council, and his band, while in the centre of the new bridge, while the band were parading to the opening football game at Agricultural Park, a selection was then played, after which Mr. Lockley officially declared the bridge open for pedestrian traffic and for the children to play upon. Some of the boys declared it was a "cracking" good bridge, and others tuned in on "London Bridge Falling Down," they again started on their march.—Herald.

The Meaning of Chevrolet's "Economical Transportation"

IT is more economical to travel by Chevrolet than by any other means. That is what it means to say that Chevrolet is the most economical form of transportation. This implies, first of all, that Chevrolet costs the least per car-mile—that it is less expensive to operate than any other make of car.

But, more than that, it means that Chevrolet is more economical than any other kind of transportation.

An investigation among Chevrolet owners of all classes, shows that it is not only more convenient—but also more economical—to travel by Chevrolet than by railway-train or trolley car. The information received gives an average of 30 miles per gallon of gas and over 1,300 miles per gallon of oil.

Chevrolet is easy to own. The G.M.A.C. plan of deferred payments will enable you to finance the purchase. Investigate the new Superior Chevrolet today.
