

The Acton Free Press

THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1924

BIRD HOUSES

I have houses built, bright with paint and newly filled. Who will be for rent in spring...

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FOR SUNDAY, JUNE 8, 1924

ESKEL, ENCOURAGER, THE EXILE

Genes Test - I will seek that which was lost, and will bring back that which was driven away.

THEY ARE IN A CHOICE

Beautiful for situation, bright with paint and newly filled. Who will be for rent in spring...

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the issue of the Free Press of Thursday, June 9, 1904

Mr. Minsler is improving and enjoying his residence on Young Street. Mr. William Hayes is improving his premises with a neat cedar hedge.

Mr. W. J. Humphries has been persuaded to remain in town and continue the management of Mr. Nobis's business here.

Rev. Mr. Cameron, of Georgetown, occupied the pulpit of Knox Church last Sunday.

Saturday was an off day with Acton Baseball Club, and the fourth game in the series resulted in defeat.

COOK-MARCHING - As the Congressional Pageant, Georgetown, June 2, 1924, by Rev. J. J. Drysdale.

DIED - MCDONALD - At her home, at lot 24, corner of Main and Warren, on Sunday, June 1, 1924, Marjorie McWarren, widow of the late Graham McDonald.

TURNING A JOKE TO ACCOUNT

The Rev. Thomas P. Hunt relates in his "Autobiography" an instance of a practical joke which he turned to his advantage.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FOR SUNDAY, JUNE 8, 1924

ESKEL, ENCOURAGER, THE EXILE

Genes Test - I will seek that which was lost, and will bring back that which was driven away.

They are in a choice, beautiful for situation, bright with paint and newly filled.

Thirty years ago, from the issue of the Free Press of Thursday, June 9, 1904.

Mr. Minsler is improving and enjoying his residence on Young Street.

Mr. William Hayes is improving his premises with a neat cedar hedge.

Mr. W. J. Humphries has been persuaded to remain in town and continue the management of Mr. Nobis's business here.

Rev. Mr. Cameron, of Georgetown, occupied the pulpit of Knox Church last Sunday.

Saturday was an off day with Acton Baseball Club, and the fourth game in the series resulted in defeat.

COOK-MARCHING - As the Congressional Pageant, Georgetown, June 2, 1924, by Rev. J. J. Drysdale.

DIED - MCDONALD - At her home, at lot 24, corner of Main and Warren, on Sunday, June 1, 1924, Marjorie McWarren, widow of the late Graham McDonald.

TURNING A JOKE TO ACCOUNT - The Rev. Thomas P. Hunt relates in his "Autobiography" an instance of a practical joke which he turned to his advantage.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

I went back with the hammer, and the man paid the fifty dollars, but laughed longer than the dealer in hardware.

There was a laugh, but not at me. I was teased by a gentlemanly man in the present. I did not care about the ham.

Canadian Editors to Visit Flanders Fields

Members of the English Newspaper Society...

The Canadian Pacific S. S. Malta on which the members of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association will sail on June 11...

After the convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association in Toronto, June 6 and 7, some 150 of the most prominent newspaper editors...

The first party of call are Chierbourg and Southampton, arriving at Acton, Saturday, June 21. On Monday, the party will be at Brussels...

portant points and the battlefields, and will be received by King Albert. Three days will be spent in Paris...

From Monday, June 23, to Thursday, July 10, will be spent in London, where a great deal of entertainment has been arranged...

When the party leaves London on July 10, they will be taken in charge by members of the English Newspaper Society.

The Irish Literary Society is receiving very careful attention at the hands of the British Literary Committee...

In Holland, the "Frosacks, Loch Lomond, Loch Katrine, the country of the forest and the land of Burns, as well as the great city of Glasgow will be visited.

A stop will be made at Belfast, where Mr. Robert Barr, head of the Belfast Telegraph, has promised the party a taste of real Irish hospitality.

When the party leaves London on July 10, they will be taken in charge by members of the English Newspaper Society.

The Indians held that Niagara claimed its yearly quota of victims. Even today, when the wind is in a certain direction...

"Niagara is booming!" It is calling for another victim and long indeed is the roll-call of the lost. All guides point out the spot where the French and British armies met in 1759...

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Less Pot-washing

SMP Enamelled Ware has the smooth surface and polish of fine crockery...

Try this test. Take an SMP Enamelled Ware sauce pan and an all-metal sauce pan of equal size. Into each pour a quart of cold water. Put on the fire at the same time.

The SMP sauce pan will be boiling merrily when the water in the other is just beginning to simmer.

SMP Enamelled WARE "A Face of Porcelain and a Heart of Steel"

Three finishes: Pearl Ware, two coats of pearl grey enamel inside and out, with a white enamel top and bottom.

By members of the English Newspaper Society. The Irish Literary Society is receiving very careful attention at the hands of the British Literary Committee...

In Holland, the "Frosacks, Loch Lomond, Loch Katrine, the country of the forest and the land of Burns, as well as the great city of Glasgow will be visited.

A stop will be made at Belfast, where Mr. Robert Barr, head of the Belfast Telegraph, has promised the party a taste of real Irish hospitality.

When the party leaves London on July 10, they will be taken in charge by members of the English Newspaper Society.

The Indians held that Niagara claimed its yearly quota of victims. Even today, when the wind is in a certain direction...

"Niagara is booming!" It is calling for another victim and long indeed is the roll-call of the lost. All guides point out the spot where the French and British armies met in 1759...

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Railway Time Tables

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS AT ACTON

Going West: No. 29, 10:30 a.m.; No. 21, 10:25 a.m.; No. 23, 10:20 a.m.; No. 25, 10:15 a.m.; No. 27, 10:10 a.m.; No. 29, 10:05 a.m.; No. 26, 10:00 a.m.; No. 28, 9:55 a.m.; No. 24, 9:50 a.m.

Going East: No. 26, 7:05 a.m.; No. 24, 7:00 a.m.; No. 28, 6:55 a.m.; No. 28, 6:50 a.m.; No. 24, 6:45 a.m.; No. 26, 6:40 a.m.

TORONTO SUBURBAN ELECTRIC RAILWAY: Westbound: No. 52, 8:40 a.m.; No. 54, 8:35 a.m.; No. 56, 8:30 a.m.; No. 58, 8:25 a.m.; No. 60, 8:20 a.m.; No. 62, 8:15 a.m.; No. 64, 8:10 a.m.; No. 66, 8:05 a.m.; No. 68, 8:00 a.m.; No. 70, 7:55 a.m.

Eastbound: No. 64, 7:45 a.m.; No. 66, 7:40 a.m.; No. 68, 7:35 a.m.; No. 70, 7:30 a.m.; No. 62, 7:25 a.m.; No. 60, 7:20 a.m.; No. 58, 7:15 a.m.; No. 56, 7:10 a.m.; No. 54, 7:05 a.m.; No. 52, 7:00 a.m.

SUNDAY TIME TABLE: Westbound: No. 55, 11:40 a.m.; No. 57, 11:35 a.m.; No. 59, 11:30 a.m.; No. 61, 11:25 a.m.; No. 63, 11:20 a.m.; No. 65, 11:15 a.m.; No. 67, 11:10 a.m.

Eastbound: No. 65, 10:42 a.m.; No. 63, 10:37 a.m.; No. 61, 10:32 a.m.; No. 59, 10:27 a.m.; No. 57, 10:22 a.m.; No. 55, 10:17 a.m.

Freight delivered by special express freight. Freight picked up at any address in Toronto.

E. T. THEFTPOID, Agent, Acton

A Complete Line of S. M. P. Products Handled by Jas. Symon Hardware, Acton

New Lumber Yard With Builders' Supplies

The Georgetown Lumber Company, Ltd. OF GEORGETOWN

Have opened a branch lumber yard in Acton, and will carry a complete stock of Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash, Doors, Frames, Interior Trim, Hardwood Flooring, Hydrated Lime, Hardwood Plaster, Plaster Paris, Beaver Board, Fibre Board and Cement.

We also do Contracting and Building, and will be pleased to quote you on remodeling or new buildings.

Mr. A. M. McCann is in charge of the lumber yard, and Mr. John Miller will have charge of the contracting and building.

PHONE YOUR INQUIRY TO 1140 or 1230 AND YOU WILL RECEIVE PROMPT ATTENTION

North American Life Assurance Co. $5,000.00 Whole Life Contract

The apple crop of Canada last year, according to the 26th of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, entitled "Canadian Growers' Apples," was about 677,100 barrels. This was about one million barrels less than the crop of 1922.

Wife Mother who knows the virtues of the "Royal Worm Extirminator" always have it at hand, because it proves its value.

JUST FOR SHOW - An Easterner on his way to California was delayed by the floods in the country, and he had to stay in a hotel in the town.

He liked pie, and had were caught with the chocolate, mints, apple and berry pie, and several other varieties. He called the waitress to him.

"I'm afraid we ain't got any rhubarb pie," she said. "I'm sorry, we ain't got any rhubarb pie," she said.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

"What's the matter?" asked his companion. "I'm all in, can't you carry her further?" "Not another inch," said the other.

Perhaps that bride's fate, who stood silent at the altar, was sadder than that of the other ill-starred bride, who went rowing in a little boat with her young husband on the river above the falls.

Overwhelmed with the awfulness of the deed, she was seized by the young man, who was walking with her bride on the bank of the river, and she fell into the water.

7 OUT OF 10 HEADACHES

Are caused from eye strain, if you suffer from headaches you ought to question the condition of your eyes.

Often, with vision apparently normal, eyes greatly need the help of glasses.

A. D. SAVAGE Optometrist & Mfg. Optician, Savage Optical Building, 1141 St. Patrick St., GUELPH

Optometrist to the Canadian Pacific Railway Co.

T. E. Gibbons EXPERT SHOE REPAIRING

PROMPT ATTENTION TO ORDERS LEFT

T. E. Gibbons MAIN STREET - ACTON

JONES ENGRAVING CO.

25 Richmond St. West TORONTO CANADA