Saul, the murderous enemy of Jesus. 1, 2, Saul's intense anger against Jesus and His disciples was not a matter of a single hour, "he breathed an atmosphere of threatening and murder." And we can help some if we're strong The word translated "breathing out" At church next Sunday. in the A. V. is literally "breathing in:" every breath he drew was a breath of threatening and slaughter." The extent to which he carried out his hatred in action we see in chapters 22:19; 26: 10, 11. In all his violence against the disciples of Jesus, and so against Jesus Himself, Saul had persudded himself that he was doing right (chapter 26:9). It is a striking illustration of how a man who intends to be conscientious can in reality be thoroughly and awfully wrong. His hatred knew no pity, he spared no one, neither man or woman. All that he needed to hate a nerson and to desire their death was to know that they believed in Jesus. It is very doubtful whether the Lord Jesus ever had a more bitter, a more gifted and a more dangerous enemy than Shul of Tarsus. 2. Saul the humbled penitent. 3-9. FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES-No.

The Advent of Tea to England

Tea was not used to any extent in England till about the middle of the seventeenth. century, although knowledge of the wonderful qualities of the beverage had reached Europe as early as 1517. During the seventeenth century, all tea was imported from China and cost from $25.00 to $50.00 per pound. Not until 1836 did any tea reach England from India. In that year the first shipment, was made from the now famous tea growing district of Assam. India today supplies fully half the world's tea requirements and provides some of the finest teas grown.
