Another case has materialized out of the somewhat promiscuous sale of liquor the night of the dance in the Nassagawaga Township Hall, on April 22.
Already two young men were fined for having liquor; two more were fined for being intoxicated; one was imprisoned in the County Jail for driving a motor car while intoxicated, and Mrs. James Forbes was fined $500 and costs after pleading guilty to the charge of selling liquor to the glass to several of these young men.
A charge was laid against Jim Forbes by Inspector Reedy for the alleged selling of liquor by the bottle on the same date, and a warrant was issued for his arrest for a few weeks.
But on Monday Chief Chapman, of Milton, discovered him in that town, arrested him, and lodged him in the County Jail. Forbes offered bail and Police Magistrate Moore fixed the amount at $2,000 and remanded the case until Saturday at 10 p. m. at the Court House, Milton. Mr. Thomas Cox, for whom Forbes was working at his lumber mill on the second line, went bail for him for the above amount.

Arrested in Milton on Monday and Allowed Out on $2,000 Bond.
