The Band Picnic
The Acton Citizens' Band are evidently planning for a good time at their first picnic at Huttonville on Saturday afternoon. A list of races, tug-of-war and ball games with appropriate prizes will be arranged. The prizes listed in Soper's window look quite formidable. The band will play a musical programme after the picnic supper when the prizes will be distributed. A list of twenty-five or thirty events has been planned. The Band is invited to the general public appears in another column. Owing to the picnic this Saturday, the regular band concert will have to be postponed.

They all visited Ypres, St. Julian and other places devastated during the great war. The Minister returned from France to England by steamer, but Mr. Dick by a passenger liner to London. The trip was made in a little less than three hours. The plans crossed the channel in fifty-three minutes. Mr. Dick enjoyed the holiday very much and has returned greatly invigorated.

Editor Eddy's Narrow Escape
While Mr. Lorne Eddy, of the Telescope, and some friends were driving in to town on Durham Street last Thursday night, a Ford driven by Mr. French, of Paisley, ran into the rear of the C.P.R. crossing and in passing caught their rear fender, smashing it and causing the car to spin. The car was thrown into the ditch and the driver, Mr. French, was thrown out. The car was damaged and the driver was injured. Mr. Eddy was not hurt.

He interrogated the lads and they finally admitted that they had stolen the bicycles from the home of Mr. J. J. Wilson.

Two Acton Men Who Staged a Motor Race on the Streets are Now Wondering Where the Fun Came In
They were assessed $10 and costs each—Shelburne Economist.

Don't be disturbed by the motor driver who disregards warning signs and signs that you are on a curve. You will forgetful have a chance to pass him easily a little farther on.

It is to be concluded that people who drop papers, wrappers and envelopes on the street are less than there are refuse boxes within two blocks? Or are they too ignorant to be tidy?

The Canadian National Railway workers have during the week widened the roadway at the Mill Street crossing. This makes a much improved driveway, and a safer course for motorists.

Not less than a score of citizens have said to the Press Editor during the week that they fully endorse the matter of personal care, a permanent caretaker, and a commission for Fairview Cemetery.

Why should so many men when driving motor cars forget their gally. On foot the rule is "look left" in a car they simply look the horn and smile to see the ladies leap out of the way.

Rambles Over England and Wales

Entertaining Description of His Delightful Tour by Douglas Gowdy

Mr. Douglas Gowdy, B.A., of Lunenburg, who has been enjoying a trip overseas since early in June, writes the following interesting resume of a part of his experiences.

Dear Mr. Moore:
It was my great pleasure to attend the final evening service in the Wesleyan Central Hall, Westminster, London, Dr. Dinnel's Tour, which was very successful in its results. It was unique in that this service marked the completion of eleven years service in this important church.

My pocket record shows some time to have elapsed since last I wrote to you. It was about the middle of last month.

Since leaving the Student Christian Conference in Derbyshire, where we met members of the British Isles and the overseas dominions, a great deal of the South of Great Britain and Wales has been seen.

From Swansea we passed through parts of the Duke of Devonshire estate and viewed the very beautiful Chatsworth House from across the top of the Hunting Tower, one is impressed with the foresight which actuated the mind of the Duke of Devonshire in the location of this great estate.

It is situated at the confluence of three most delightful valleys, with the Derbyshire hills forming a horizon on all sides. The war's effect has been in the fact that the gates have been closed to the golden lustrous pre-war days.

How great was my pleasure to meet with the Overseas Educational League in London. It was particularly interesting to see the flag in the Cathedral which was taken over from Canada when it was open in those memorable days of 1919 when Quebec fell.

At Bangor, Wales, we missed the Canadian University group for a few days, but we more than made up for the disappointment by being welcomed to the Hotel, Place Mansel, overlooking the Memorial Association of Manchester, who were taking their summer course at the University of North Wales.

Particularly interesting to the Acton people would be the large slate quarries at Bethesda, near Bangor. They certainly were an eye-opener to a granite-minded individual.

Our delightful motor drive through Montfranc Pass to Bettyws-coed and Shrewsbury, in Wales, was about the best of the holiday. The complete point of scenery for at Copel Curig we got an excellent view of the Snowdonia range.

I wonder if you have ever heard of the Victoria League over here. It is an organization of generously-minded individuals who wish to make overseas visitors feel at home in the Old Country, and so try to place them in contact with the best of the people who are interested in their special activities.

It was my first introduction to the League at Oxford. Mrs. Hildyard, of the Victoria League, New College, is the Hospitality Secretary there, and I assure you she was a most delightful help.

What a splendid time we did have among those historic old colleges—whether it be in scholastic or athletic achievement. The Victoria League is doing a splendid job of it.

Through the kindness of the Canadian High Commissioner, we received tickets for the Tower of London, for a number of the Highgate Apartments and to the Royal Mews at Buckingham Palace. We have also thoroughly enjoyed the National Gallery and even more so the Tate Gallery.

Windsor Castle, with Eton in the background was very attractive to us. We also enjoyed the gardens, which with its wonderful gardens, His Majesty Moore must have enjoyed these last years.

Greatly disappointed were we to find Sir Harry Britton had left for the Antipodes, and that Lady Britton's departure had prevented our meeting her for his constituency, so that we were forced to content with an inspection of the Mother of Parliaments on Saturday morning in company with other thousands from all parts of the world.

Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's occupied several days in themselves, which were quite worth while. I have quite different mental pictures of Queen Elizabeth since meeting her at the Exhibition.

We are in the throes of a Bank Holiday in the United Kingdom. It is very much improved with the Exhibition. This has been a rambling letter, but really, I have so enjoyed the trip; it has so longed for home.

One thing that I impressed me in this—No young Canadian had not been debarré from visiting this wonderful old land, for of the scores of Canadian young men whom I have met in this excellent hotel and elsewhere, the great majority have worked their way across by one means or another.

You might be glad to know that we discussed the Ford touring car which we had taken up around so happily, and will now proceed over to France to commence this most excellent holiday overseas.

Mr. Taylor of the Acton Chamber of Commerce, was away when I arrived, but he has sent me a personal letter—literally handing over the keys of the good old Chamber of Commerce to me. He enclosed the key to the Chamber of Commerce, which I have taken up to join them as their guests for their first holiday picnic. It was very friendly and interesting to meet a friendly spirit existing between the two communities.

The letters from "Home" have been very much appreciated, and I guess our brief descriptions and illustrations have been kindly received by the home folks.

All being well, and what strikes successfully postponed, even at the cost

How the Allcast Moisture System saves money

Tests have proved important savings in fuel where the warm air from the furnace is properly maintained—the saving has reached upwards of 20 per cent.

The Hygienic Vapor Pan in the Allcast is designed to supply the correct amount of natural moisture required for health and comfort— atmosphere that protects the family from winter ill.

Other exclusive, fuel-saving features of the Allcast are the free-draught Shell-burner Grates which insure perfect combustion, and the fuel-saving air-blast which burns the smoke and gases.

The All-cast is easily operated. It burns soft coal and all other fuels equally well. It is seasonably priced. Come in and let us show you its many important features or write for complete details.
