Premier King was Defeated at the Polls

Hon. Mr. Meighen Falls to Secure Majority of Members

The administration of Premier King was defeated in the general election last Thursday. At the same time the policy of Hon. Mr. Meighen, the Opposition leader, was not sufficiently endorsed to enable him to form a government. His elected followers number 116; Premier King's group, 89; and the balance of the House of 246 members is made up of Progressives, Labour, and Independents. Those at Quebec and in Ontario, and in the present hold the balance of power.

Province	Lib.	Con.
Ontario	11	69
Quebec	1	4
Prince Edward Island	2	4
New Brunswick	11	10
New Scotia	3	11
Manitoba	7	11
Saskatchewan	15	0
Alberta	4	3
British Columbia	0	1
Yukon	0	1
	100	116

In addition to the above, the Progressives have 2 seats in Ontario, 7 in Manitoba, 5 in Saskatchewan, 8 in Ontario, 1 in British Columbia; the total of 23. The Labourites have 1 in Manitoba and the Independents 1 in Quebec and 1 in Manitoba. Three ridings are still doubtful.

Premier King and his ministers have been in conference during the week. They evidently intend to carry on until an early meeting of Parliament is called. The difficult problem of reconstruction of the Cabinet is under consideration.

MRS. CHARLES NICKLIN

Morrison
On Friday, October 30, in the village of Morriston, where she had been living with her elderly daughter, Mrs. J. Elliott the last three years, there passed away in her eighty-seventh year, a pioneer homemaker in the Township of County, Annie Patmore, widow of Charles Nicklin, who predeceased her about twelve years ago. The late Mrs. Nicklin was born in the Township of Morriston, two miles west of Pomsony, Ontario, the daughter of Mr. Wm. Wilbur, but formerly of the township of Wilbur on the farm in Pilkington. She was married and lived on the farm for a long time, and after the death of her husband she moved to the farm near to her brother, Mr. Wilbur, where she lived for a long and useful life. Until a few days ago she was an active member of the Methodist Church near by. In the early days when trained nurses were almost unknown, and until she became so often called upon to be both nurse and doctor, and until she had given up her young people, for a few years ago she had been a member of her neighborly kindred, and especially her willingness to help, and her many friends and relatives. She was the mother of six children, seven of whom survive, five of whom are still living. Three daughters, Mrs. Alma Elliott, of Morriston, Mrs. Minnie Pitt, of Hamilton, and Mrs. Emma Pitt, of Guelph. The funeral service was held in the old home church at Pilkington on Monday afternoon, and interment was made at Elora.

During his residence in the village he was a devoted member of the Methodist Church of the village, and was a member of the school. He was a true friend and neighbor, and was respected by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Lamb, and his children, Mrs. Catharine Lamb, Mrs. Arthur Lamb, and his daughter, Mrs. Robert Lamb, all of Toronto. The Overholt-Johnston Nuptials

A pretty autumn wedding took place on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnston, first line, Esquimaux, when their only daughter, Edna Maude, became the bride of Mr. Melbourn C. Overholt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Overholt, of Brantford. The bride attended the drawing room on the arm of her father, to the strains of Zohern's wedding march, played by Miss Hazel Overholt, sister of the groom. The bride looked lovely in her wedding gown of white satin tulle, trimmed with seed pearls, and wore a bouquet and necklace of pink, white and yellow flowers. A splendid wedding breakfast followed, and the bride was presented with a most beautiful and costly gift, a diamond bracelet. The groom was dressed in a suit of dark grey, and wore a white tie and white boutonniere. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. J. E. Zimmerman, B.A., pastor of Acton United Church. Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the bridal couple left for their honeymoon. The bride and groom will reside in their new home at 127 St. George Street, Acton.

Turnips and Potatoes Escape Frost

The heavy frosts of last week were rather alarming to the numerous farmers who had turnips and potatoes still in the ground. Apples, however, in the trees and in the orchards, suffered severely from the frost.

Dr. Anderson Won By Majority of 1268

The election was largely a contest between Conservatives and Liberals.

The election in this county last Thursday resolved itself largely into a contest between the old-time political parties. As the Progressives had no candidate in the field, many of them naturally felt no compunctions in reverting to their old parties. In the election of four years ago 3,210 Progressive votes were cast for Mr. Ford, the nominee of that party. A total of 12,655 votes were polled at that election of which Dr. Anderson received 12,610. Mr. Fisher, 1,644 and Mr. Ford 3,210.

The majorities for each candidate are given below:

Dr. Anderson—Majority 1,268

The election in Acton was conducted with a good deal of good-natured vim, and a good vote was polled.

The Vote in Acton

The election in Acton was conducted with a good deal of good-natured vim, and a good vote was polled.

Notes of the Election

Fourteen polling places in the county gave—Campbell—majorities. The five towns and eight polling places in the county gave Dr. Anderson majorities.

The Township of Nassauwagony was loyal to its own Candidate Campbell. Each of the three polling places gave him a majority, a total of 222 votes. The Township of Acton gave a majority of 152; Campbellville, 61, and Knatchbull 156.

Burlington led the towns in its support of Dr. Anderson. They gave him 564 of a majority. Oakville was close with 485, Georgetown, 348. The Dr's own town, Milton, contributed only 126 to the majority. Acton was more evenly balanced with Liberal votes, and gave the Dr. only 39 majority.

There was no vote done for the candidates by their motorist friends. They hunted after votes from morning till night.

The Grifts had their first innings in about thirty years in manning the polling booths at an "Electoral" election. The customary faces were absent. The Deputy Returning Officer, Poll Clerk and an Assessor were absent.

There wasn't much cheering when the final results were announced on Thursday night. In fact, there's not much cheering yet.

The result in Haltone, indeed, all throughout the Dominion, leads to the conclusion that the majority of the Progressives have resumed their original political predilections.

Acton Citizens' Band paraded the streets the night of the election to give some eclat to the occasion, irrespective of any political aspect. They gave a concert at the Government Building and collected donations for the purchase of prizes for the Halloween parade and contests. The people were in a generous mood, and contributed liberally for the purpose.

It is rather significant that the compiled counts was by Premier King and Hon. Mr. Meighen in Ontario and Quebec are almost equal in each case. Mr. King secured 71 and Mr. Meighen 72.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY

The little economies of many women are amusing in their way as are those of Mrs. Jerome, who lives in a little eastern town, and is known to her neighbors as a careful, thrifty housewife.

She stood before the hat-rack one day this spring and looked ruefully at the tattered straw hat which her husband had bought her. "You've had this new hat to work in," she said to her daughter, Emma, who was wiping the banister. "Well, there's that other straw hat," replied the daughter; "he doesn't wear it for best or when he goes to town. He hasn't had it on for two years."

"But it's a nice hat," objected Mrs. Jerome. "It cost a dollar and a half." "But he doesn't use it, ma, and he might just as well take it to work in," said Mrs. Jerome. "You're right, ma, but he doesn't take it to work in for fifty cents."
