Following an illness which extended over a number of months, the death occurred at the home of his daughter. A letter from the West says that of the Church, with outside entrance, Mrs. A. G. Ede, Woodstock, on Wednesday, December 9, of Thomas Moore, formerly well known in the lumbering business of Ontario. Mr. Moore was Toronto, were riding when arrested the Town Hall, where a splendid ban- and Australia. They spent a week, or terms of the courtesy and obliging in his 86th year, and was born in County Antrim, Ireland. He came to this country when he was eight years old, settling at Acton. After farming with his father on lot 1, concession Erin, where Mr. Andrew Murray now resides, he went to Collingwood, where he entered the Robert Kirk Co., Ltd. Later he became superintendent of that company, but resigned, to establish his own sawmills at Mooresburg; in. Gray County. His next move was sash and door factory. He rented this factory to the firm of Moore and Wallace and went to Oliphant, where he invested in timber lands and a sawmill. When he retired from business a few years ago, he handed the business over to his son. After Hving in the West for a few years, Mrs. Moore, who was a daughter of the late Samuel Cunningham, J.P., of Greenock, passed away, and he came to Woodstock four years ago to live with his daughter. He is survived by two sons, T. J. Moore, of Wiarton, and Dr. S. E. Moore, of Regina, and two daughters, Mrs. J. A. McLaughlin, of the Methodist Church and also of > Ulster. In investigating the genealogical tree of his ancestery, Mr. Moore satisfied himself that the family was decended from the Earl of Dragheda, and he therefore could adopt the earl's coat of arms for his family crest. Notwithstanding his age Mr. Moore spent several days in September in visiting Toronto Exhibition, and during his stay in the city made a visit to his cousin, H. P. Moore, then a patient in the General Hospital. Buriat took place at Chesley on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of Forest

Lodge, No. 393, A.F. & A.M. Buying for Christmastide

Getting around to the stores in good holiday season for the acquisition of holiday gifts has three distinct merits: one, that the selection of goods is more complete; two, that buying having been done in time, the man or County took part in the three-days woman who has performed that act boys judged fresh carcasses, live hogs by the forelock is a merciful thing crushing burden of late crowding. We have now come close to the peak of the holiday rush, and the retail trade this year is apparently going to be bigger, than ever before.
