

Who are the men of the morrow? Seek ye the boys of to-day!

Follow the plough and the harrow; Look where they rake the hay.

Walk with the cows from the pasture; Seek 'mid the tasseled corn;

Try where you hear the thrasher Humming in early morn.

Who are the men of the morrow? Look at your sturdy art!

A nation's hope for the future Lives with the boy on the farm.

From the issue of the Free Press of Thursday, February 1, 1925.

The springlike weather has prevailed for a couple of weeks.

The skating has been very good on Corporation Pond the past week.

It was rather a rainy day yesterday afternoon to witness a baseball match in the Park and a hockey game on the Corporation Pond.

Mr. George Dron, who has been a resident of Acton for some time, has purchased a livery business in Kingston.

Mr. H. B. Scott, of the Busy Street, has decided to dispose of his business here in order that he may take one of several attractive positions that have been offered to him.

The first baseball match of the season was played on the diamond in the Park on Saturday afternoon.

The contestants were nine selected from the juniors and the seniors.

The grounds were in good condition, and a considerable number of spectators enjoyed watching the game in the warm, bright sunshine which prevailed.

This is the first opening of the baseball season on record.

The Bachelors' Tea, given by the men of St. Alban's Church, was a grand success.

The Town Hall was filled from 7 to 8.30. The programme was given by bachelors and those who were set on their feet.

Mr. St. John, of the busy street, has decided to dispose of his business here in order that he may take one of several attractive positions that have been offered to him.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FOR SUNDAY, JANUARY 31

WHY PEOPLE FOLLOW JESUS

General Lesson Title—Jesus Feeds Five Thousand Men.

Scripture Lesson—John 6: 1-71. Golden Text—Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst.

Devotional Reading—Eph. 6: 10-18.

The Text Explained

I. The Sea of Galilee, which is the Sea of Tiberias—The explanation is found for the benefit of readers of the gospel not familiar with the older name, in a time when the name given by the Roman Emperor Tiberius had wholly superseded the former, at least among people outside of Palestine.

Followed Him—Matthew adds "on foot out of the cities." The signs which he did on them which were such abundance, both the first and all succeeding parties put up at the Chateau Frontenac, individual groups from across the line are also swelling the list of guests and it may be mentioned that the "Chateau Frontenac" next Monday night will be the main event.

The combination of the last week in luxury at the Chateau Frontenac with the hotel opens a half-mile toboggan run, brilliantly illuminated at night, sends the devotees of the form of sport whirling at a 60-mile an hour dip straight to the main entrance of the hotel. These are only a few of the winter pleasures, so lavishly furnished, which are to be had in the city.

For those who prefer to take their outings more seriously and with a greater expenditure of energy, excursions on snow-shoes or skis have been arranged which will carry the enthusiasts to places famous in history, such as St. Anne de Beauport, the Montmorency Falls, and across the ice bridge over the St. Lawrence to the island of Orleans.

High lights in the winter sports programme take in international hockey matches, of which Princeton-Sons of Ireland is a fair example. The same Quebec team will also meet a team from Dartmouth University. The big winter event, however, is the Quebec 6 and 7 seed the holding of the International Snowshoe Union during which world and Canadian Championship snowshoe races will be run. It is expected that nearly 3,000 uniformed snowshoers will be present from all over Canada and the United States. All sorts of old-world French-Canadian customs and unique features will distinguish this event.

Following the Mardi Gras festival and carnival on February 16, the International Dog Derby will be held on February 18-19-20. It will cover 132 miles in all and will be over a distance of 48 miles a day. Many teams from Eastern Canada and the United States and the New England States, and even as far as Chicago are scheduled to take part.

The Curling, Bonspiel week and the open championship Bob sled races will bring the season to a conclusion on February 27. One of the most popular features of recent years is the team of husky dogs under the guidance of a soundly appointed and experienced Indian guide, and led by the redoubtable "Mountie," which takes passengers for long months across Canada and which are sometimes used to pull skiers.

At a recent committee meeting of friends of foreign missions, the leader having given out the hymn, "Watchman, what of the night?" a grand-daughter of a former missionary in China, told the following incident:

Her grandfather, who was a friend of the late Mr. J. D. Brown, of Hongkong, took him to call one evening upon some American friends. The two daughters of the house, being asked for some music, sang, quite ignorant of its authorship, "Watchman, what of the night." As they turned from the piano, they were surprised to see tears streaming down Sir John's face.

"Many years ago," the governor explained, "I wrote that hymn, but until this moment I never heard it sung."

Few coincidences make such an appeal to the imagination as the scene of two American girls singing to a titled Englishman his own song in strange lands.

The Friend of all Sufferers—Dr. Thomas Electric Oil is a valuable remedy for all those who suffer pain. It holds out hope to everyone and relieves it by stilling suffering everywhere. It is a liniment that has the same effect everywhere, and can be found wherever enquired for.

STAYING "THROWED"

The boyhood friends of Andrew Jackson, so the story goes, could never quite understand how Jackson became so popular to everyone and remained simple people citizens at home.

"Why, Jim Brown, right down the pike here," they said, "could throw Andy three times out of four—and look what a fellow he is?"

"How did that happen to be a fourth time?" asked some one. "Usually it's three times out of four and it's 'Sure it is, but Andy, you see, never hits the same way as you know when he was beat. So by and by Jim would get tired of throwing him and stay thrown himself. And then Andy would think he'd beat him."

There is a whole sermon in a nut-shell in that simple anecdote. The thing that counts is not how many times you are "thrown," but whether you are willing to "stay thrown."

Your adversary, whether he be a person or a misfortune or a difficulty, or just a hard job can be tired out in the end by throwing you just as surely, if not as swiftly, as by your throwing him. It is surely a question of which of you gives in—in his mind—first, and "stays thrown." Remember that!

WHAT TWO MEN SAID

"Why is it," writes a woman, "that you never hear of the prattle in which men are three times out of four and about the shops?" She thinks their talk is quite as naive as that of the woman.

Here is a dialogue which I remember getting in a quarrel once, and which though I confess I don't worth remembering:

"Hello, old man!"

"Hello, yourself!"

"How's that?"

"So-so. Anything new?"

"Same old story."

Then they looked each other in the face for a quarter of a minute and one of them asked, "Where did you get that tie?" and the other said, "Where did you get that hat?"

"Then they actually shook hands and separated. They were men. Did you ever hear of more meaningless talk than that between two women?"

WHERE KING CARNIVAL HOLDS SWAY.

UPPER—The Tozier party at Kent House; a snow-hall fight.

Special holiday festivities at Christmas, including superb fireworks displays at the Chateau Frontenac club and the Chateau Frontenac Club on December 30 by the International Intercollegiate ski competition in which two entries from Yale and entries from McGill, Loyola and University of Montreal, Ottawa College at that city, and Laval University of Quebec, competed in a five-mile cross-country race and in "ski jumping." The former was won by McGill and the latter by Loyola, while Loyola also won the Frontenac Winter Sports Club trophy for the best aggregate of points in the competition.

The opening of the New Year was featured by hockey games in one of which Princeton University played a Quebec team, Sons of Ireland, and were defeated. There were also basketball games and a variety of other sports.

Continuance of fine weather and favorable snow conditions have brought the winter sports well into their stride and after the first American invasion by the "Tozier party" of about 270 people from Boston, there came a further descent of many thousands from various states in the Union to partake in the keen, invigorating and exhilarating sport offered in such abundance. Both the first and all succeeding parties put up at the Chateau Frontenac, individual groups from across the line are also swelling the list of guests and it may be mentioned that the "Chateau Frontenac" next Monday night will be the main event.

GRAVE DANGER

The night of a tramp steamer says this, "I had a dream of a stormy night, 'why was I called out of an old chair?'"

"Well," he said, "if that's all, I'll be off right but it's a 45-spook, seven 'elp' up!"

Children Thrive On It

Doctors recommend it because of its high percentage of DEXTROSE—the energy producing element in food!

EDWARDSBURG CROWN BRAND CORN SYRUP

Hearing Restored by Radio

Miss Elsie Hayes, 35-year-old girl of Winnipeg, was induced by a friend to listen through a headset to a concert from radio station CNRW of the Canadian National Railways at Winnipeg recently, though she had been totally deaf and dumb since she was three years old.

At the conclusion of the program she heard her mother ask her if she had heard the music and nodding to her in reply, responded with a sound closely approximating the word "mother." The following morning on her way to work she was able to hear the rumble of street cars and she is now noticing the music of a phonograph when played with a loud needle near her.

Specialists in the treatment of the ear say it is quite possible that radio vibrations may have given her the first sound from the outside world after 22 years, but that such a condition would only apply where there is a sense of hearing actually retained without being used during that time.
