Brief Local Items

- Good Friday to-morrow.
- Hot, cross buns to-morrow.
- Yes, this is April Fool's day.
- Here's for a happy Easter to all.
- March certainly went out like a lion.
- The wrong road has few detour signs.
- Good Friday is, of course, a public holiday.
- Welcome to the Easter home-comers.
- March was a pretty fine month after all.
- seldom do we have a March with so little wind.
- How'n't your supply of new-laid eggs for Easter?
- There is neither good sleighing nor good wheeling now.
- Potatoes sold on Guelph market at $2.50 per bag on Saturday.
- The snow disappeared rapidly with little inconvenience.
- Remember the sick folks and the shut-ins with flowers to-morrow.
- April first. One quarter of 1926 gone already? Do you realize it?
- The crocuses and the snowdrops are blooming in the sunny places.
- The candy Easter eggs in the confectioners shops are quite attractive.
- Weather note: Just a little while, and the ladies' summer furs will burst into view.
- One-a-penny bun; two-a-penny bun; one-a-penny, two-a-penny, hot cross buns.
- Shelburne Library Board will receive a grant of $120 this year from the town council.
- Easter lilies are quite a luxury. Twenty-five to thirty cents a bloom are the prices charged.
- Each little bun will bud and wake and twigs will put forth their green willows lean, it's spring!
- Still the shipment of turnips continues. The shippers are paying 17 cents per bushel this week.
- The snow passed off with wonderful rapidity during the week, but there were no floods in this district.
- Reason vs. Rhyme: March winds April showers bring forth whiles; April flowers are sweet and come.
- Newmarket is setting the pace for towns of its class in striking a new tax rate for 1926 than that of 1925.
- Now that the Provincial Highway is open, motor traffic has already a very pretty considerable volume.
- The frosty nights and cold, sunny days have militated seriously against the maple syrup harvest during the week.
- Get out your bird houses now. The birds are coming now in numbers and are looking about for summer homes.
- The violet will shortly grow; slopes washed bright with rain; harebells will follow after snow, and gold-in-brain.
- Bring in those eggs you've been hiding for Easter-boys. The pullets will want to see one or two of those fine days.
- The waterfall at Fairy Lake spills away has been a pretty sight as the surplus water from the melting snow poured over.
- The first hot-house radishes grown in Acton were delivered to local stores at H. B. Blasho & Son's greenhouses on Tuesday.
- New York bricklayers are to get $14.00 a day this season, which makes one wonder if a college education is necessary.—Smith Falls Record.
- Those who are driving autos without 1926 markers had better be advised. The police have been warned to enforce the law in this respect.
- Twenty weeks continuous sleighing is a pretty good record. That's what will be recalled for years respecting the winter of 1924 in this section.
- The annual meeting of the Ontario Educational Association will be held at Toronto during the Easter week.
- New maple syrup is coming in freely now. The ruling price here is $2.50 per gallon. It sold on Guelph market on Saturday in jars at $1.00 a quart.
- Come on in, the water is fine. The invitation extended to the citizens of Brockville by the mayor, who recently presented the city with a swimming pool.
- Mr. George Town who has an unusually large amount of snow in his back yard, is worrying for fear there'll be a flood that will carry away all the fishwives.
- Mr. Leale Martin, with commendable enterprise, is making a fine showing of Easter flowers in Hynd's store for Easter week. The display has attracted general attention.
- It's pretty hard on a newspaper man when—when that gets so mad about something he sees in print that he desires to "move forward" that paper again!

Local Place Names in Hailton
Some Canadian background was the subject of an address before the Guelph Historical Club on Monday night by Mr. M. C. Hammond, of Guelph, editorial staff, himself a Hailton boy. The speaker drew upon extensive travel and study for impressions and incidents connected with points of historic importance. Local place-names were shown to have many names of significance, as in the case of townships and villages in Hailton County, which were named after persons and places in the Thirteen Colonies. The close connection of existing relics in Central Ontario with the names of Lewis and Clark, Cook, and other worthies was noted.
