

A CONCERT FOR THE FATHERLESS

Light was coming and dreary. A wild wind from the north was sweeping over the hills of western Kansas. The air was thick with frost...

A delicate little woman, thin and aged, evidently in the last stage of consumption, vainly tried to brush the little one. Black locks were changed and sootling faces were turned toward the noisy child...

At a distant end of the car were the members of a Denver company. Some were cross and some complained of the cold car and the smoke from the rest seat.

But the baby face touched a tender chord as the old man passed beside them and told the sad story of a mother and a fatherless child.

It's a pity you killed it! I said to a young man a dead Great Blue Heron. Why? It's only a crane! he answered. It's no good—said all the trout. Odd fish, they call it...

Home is the human nest, and the woman who falls as a home-maker falls as a woman.

Home is the child's birthright. The world should unfold to a child from the home—concern, with its education should be there, that centre meaning love, protection, trust, hope, discipline.

O' Wills, Wills, cried a teacher to a hopeful little pupil. Whatever do you think your head is for? Wills, who evidently thought this question of the teacher's was a question that teachers were always asking, considered it deeply. "I mean, sir," he replied at length, "to keep my mind in."

EASILY GAUGED

Old Benjamin Dwyer was accustomed to treat his guests with sweet cider, and although the barrel stood in the darkest corner of a dark cellar, he never carried a lamp on his trips for a fresh supply.

TWO JOSHUAS

A thief appeared before the judge on the charge of violating the prohibition act. The darkey was from being so much that the judge thought he would have a little fun with the poor fellow; and so he asked him his name.

KEEP BUSY

Nine-tenths of the miseries and the woes of mankind proceed from idleness; with men of quick minds, to whom it is especially pernicious, this habit is commonly the fruit of many disappointments and schemes of life.

NEEDED A VETERINARY

Doctor (to patient)—"What's all you?" Patient—"Indeed, I don't know, I only know that I'm sick."

THE FARMER TO THE LAWYER

"There was a certain prominent physician who had a serious objection on one of his patients," said the farmer. "During the operation the physician became rather nervous and excited, and instead of removing the membrane he was after, accidentally took out the man's conscience."

REVERSED?

Dougie's mother, who was a peaceful, giving body, made him a pair of high-top shoes. They weren't very well made, however, and one day Dougie came in crying bitterly.

HER GREAT DISCOVERY

He leaned back in his chair and regarded the tea-table with a contemplative frown. "Think he picked it up singly between thumb and forefinger, as if working it."

FACT AND COMMENT

Had it not been for work man would have perished by boredom ages ago. Had a true home only when we discover a place where we dare to show our best and do not care to show our worst.

HOW HONEY MAY BE USED

Honey sweetens life in many ways. This is apparent when we see the various uses to which it is put. Formerly it was used as a spread on bread, but today there are a great number of other ways of using it to vary one's menu.
