BY ON THE LID AND LAUGH

Build for yourself a strong back. Build your back with care. When the strongest your hands can make it. Put all your troubles there. Hide all your thoughts of your future. And each letter cup you pour. Look at your handwriting within it. Then sit on the lid and laugh.

CONFEDERATION AND AFTER SIXTY YEARS OF PROGRESS

Idea of Confederation

Who first conceived the idea of linking together in a strong dominion, the scattered colonies of North America, it would be difficult to say. Probably it was many other important movements, the idea of Confederation was a gradual growth, assuming its definite form of a few men of vision until the time was ripe to make it a reality. Most of the confederates were men of vision, but the idea of Confederation, but the idea is much older than their day. They however, had the courage to trim and fashioned it into a practical scheme.

Of the thirty-three Fathers of Confederation, the most prominent were: John A. Macdonald, Charles Tupper, Alexander Gait, and others. The idea of Confederation was not a sudden flash of genius, but a long and arduous process. It was the result of many years of discussion and debate. The confederates were men of vision, but they were also men of action. They were men who were willing to sacrifice for the good of their country.

It is only just to Alexander Gait to mention that he was not only a confederate, but also a man of vision. He was a man who was willing to sacrifice for the good of his country. He was a man who was willing to stand up for his principles, even if it meant that he would be unpopular.

THE COMMON

Who can account for the subtleties and intricacies of words? Ordinarily we use "common" as a term of reproach. We say of certain people that their language is common, their dress is common, their speech is common, meaning that they are undistinguished, ordinary, and unimpressive. Our great object in life is to get away from the vulgar, to rise above the commonplace, to be different, to be unique. We are constantly striving to be something more than we are. We are constantly striving to be something more than we are.

The Old Man

ANNUAL AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS, 1927

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has made a preliminary report on the annual agricultural statistics of Canada for the year 1927. These statistics will be based on returns collected next June from individual farmers upon a schedule issued to them through the local agents of rural schools. The schedule is a very simple one, calling only for the names of crops and the numbers of farm animals alive on the farm in mid-June. Upon the receipt of these returns, the Bureau will be able to compile a preliminary report on the agricultural production of the year, and to make a comparison with the statistics of the previous year.

The present plans for the collection of these statistics have been followed annually since 1917, and the estimates based thereon have come to be considered reliable upon by all interested in the production and distribution of Canadian grain. The collection of these statistics is a very important part of the work of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and it is hoped that the returns will be complete and accurate.

FRIENDS OF YOUR WIFE

Of course they are tedious at times, and you are not quite so gracious to them as you might be. It is hard to be patient with them, but it is necessary. They are your friends, and you must be patient with them. They are your friends, and you must be patient with them.

CAN YOU REMEMBER?

I wonder how many readers of the column can remember these Acton events of fifty years ago this week? Mr. Harry Brown, Mayor of Acton, O. T. It is a pleasure to recall these events, and to see how they have shaped the town of Acton.

VERY LIVE BYOCK

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, while on her way to address an important meeting in Chatham, Ont., was met by a party of friends who were waiting for her. She was very much surprised to see them, and they were very much surprised to see her. They were all very much surprised to see her.

Delightful Holiday Location

Algonquin Park in Ontario, is one of the Dominion's charming holiday spots, particularly for the lover of fishing, canoeing and other outdoor sports. It is a beautiful area with many lakes and rivers, and it is a great place to spend a holiday. It is a beautiful area with many lakes and rivers, and it is a great place to spend a holiday.

AS USUAL

First Physician—"Yes, the operation was just in the nick of time. Second Physician—"Yes, in another twenty-four hours the patient would have recovered without it."

WHOLLY

Jack: "How are you getting along at home since you went away?" Tom: "Fine. I've reached the highest point of efficiency. I can now out-work any man from either end."

FIRESTONE DEALERS

Demonstrate This Extra Value

The Firestone Dealer in your locality will gladly explain to you the extra value of Gum-Dipping. He is prepared to demonstrate how the cords of the carcass are saturated in a rubber solution, insulating every fibre of every cord with rubber, which minimizes friction. Naturally, tires built of Gum-Dipped cords have extra carcass strength and stamina insuring longer wear.

THE CURE

As Mrs. Rivers bathed her eyes, she lifted her head and looked at the doctor. The eyes were hard and colorless, but she felt a little better. She had a headache, and she felt that she was not well. She had a headache, and she felt that she was not well.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

That is everywhere, the God who framed mankind to be free, the God who made himself his father, and the God who made himself his mother.

WHY HE LOST IT

Little Willie came home from school looking very fearful. "What's the matter, Willie?" inquired his uncle John. "I've lost the twopenny teacher gave for the last day in the class," wailed Willie.

GOOD OLD DAYS, NOT SO GOOD

"Talk about the 'good old days'! No days were ever so good as the present day. You live better than any of the kings of old. Where you switch on the electric light, he had a smoky torch. You go to bed on springs; he chucked on a plank. A few drowsy minstrelsy were the best he could get together when he wanted music. You turn a dial and a great symphony orchestra fills the room. And today a tin canner wire carries more power than his score ever boasted. You have a thousand kindly comforts that the emperors of distant days never knew."

OF COURSE HE COULD

The lady lion-tamer was a wonderful person. She looked for the fiercest lion, and he meekly came to her and took a piece of sugar out of her mouth. "Anyone could do that," said a man from the audience. "Do you dare to say you could?" retorted the lady indignantly. "Certainly—just as good as the lion."

NO. ONE

Milton Aum—"And what brought you to town, Henry?" "Do you dare to say you could?" retorted the lady indignantly. "Certainly—just as good as the lion."

The Thing To Do

To make your jams and jellies perfect every time

By Elizabeth Palmer
The old, anxious days of ketchup and pickles and what have you are over. Now even an inexperienced cook can be absolutely sure of success every time. For the new, short-handled method, with Certo never fails. You just bring your fruit and sugar to a boil, add Certo, boil it a minute or two, and it's done—ready to use. And the beauty of it is that this short boiling saves the color and flavor of your fruit, so that your jams and jellies look better and taste better. Besides, since you do not boil the juice away, you get so much more jam or jelly from your fruit that you save two cents or more on every glass.

The world progresses. To-day ailments that took weeks to treat, can now be cured in a few days. You can start to bring them back to normal size, and if you are willing to do so.

The Carpet-Bagger

VS. The Local Printer

Many business men, when considering the cost of any particular job of printing, look only at the small sum they may be able to save at the time on any order. They fail to ask themselves what the carpet-bagger leaves with them throughout the year in the way of business as compared with the local publisher and members of the staff. He also seems to forget that if he and his fellow business men would get more of their printing requirements done in their home town the publisher might be able to employ additional help, which would still further swell the amount of money to be spent in the home town.
