

WILD GEESE

Although I am a city child,
I heard that that sounded wild.
"What's that?" I said. And daddy, smiled.
"Wild geese, a-honking."

Twas just before I went to bed;
The lights below looked dim and red,
The stars looked white high over—
Wild geese, a-honking.

Sometimes my mother calls me that.
She calls me "Goose." So, fit for fat,
I dreamt I was a goose, a fat
Wild geese, a-honking.

I jumped off from the window ledge,
I sailed beyond the city's edge,
To the V-shaped flying wedge—
Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run;
We passed great cities, one by one;
We were the first to see the sun—
Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high,
They pointed to the sky in awe,
They tried to hold us as we went by—
Wild geese, a-honking.

One who'd never seen us, knew the way,
He sought us, warm and smiling, bay,
He led us southward day by day;
Wild geese, a-honking.

We felt the scented breezes blow,
We circled to the bay below,
From the land of ice and snow—
Wild geese, a-honking.

There illus bloom'd and wild rice grew.
The second skies were balmy blue;
And there we stayed the winter through.

Wild geese, a-honking.

It was a very pleasant dream,
When we awoke, we were abroad,
To whom we'll say, "Good-bye,
Wild geese, a-honking."

Neighborhood News

OKILKE

Mrs Dorothy Miller has returned to Oakdale from New York. Mr. and Mrs. E. K. McFarland and family have returned from their summer residence at Bayview.

Mr. Walter Telford, of Cobourg, is renewing old acquaintances in town this week.

Mr. George Mason, publisher of the Acton Journal, and Mrs. Mason, were in town yesterday and called on Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blair.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Knapp have gone on a trip to Tennessee, U. S. A., and will explore the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky while away.

The C. N. R. station has been undergoing minor repairs lately by way of belt and pulley.

The second instalment of town taxes are due just three weeks from today.

The Daughters of Rebekah held a social evening on Wednesday, a corn roast and cards constituting the evening's programme.

The Toronto-Hamilton Highway Commission has made a vast improvement to the sharp turn east of Oakville by widening the roadway and raising the outer edge.—Record.

ERIN

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hull and two children visited with Millerton friends last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frankland and little daughter, of Harriston, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. Hull.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walker, of Hagerville, were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Overland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Justice and Mr. Chas. Justice, of St. Catharines, with Mr. and Mrs. Frankland at Erin.

Mr. Frank Mack, second line, Erin Township, has been adding many laurels to his name as a successful breeder of Leicestershire, having carried off most of the honors at the local fairs and winning over prize money at the C. N. E.

Mr. A. Anthony, of Galtwy, Alberta, spent a few days here with relatives here. George came east to take in the Dempsey-Tunney fight and incidentally met with relatives. He expects to have a high jumping horse at the Royal Show in November, and if records make no mention anything will make him step for the honours.—Advocate.

GEORGETOWN

Miss H. Hawick, of Acton, spent Sunday with Miss Mary Vanmeter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy, of Cleveland, were guests of the Misses Kennedy during the past week.

Mr. A. L. Squires, of the Canadian National Bank, of Toronto, on a visit to friends at Kingville and on to Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Thompson are leaving to-morrow evening for Halifax, where Mr. Thompson will attend the Canadian Pacific Railway Technical Association Convention.

Mr. J. C. Cook, resident here last week with a recent arrival, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dilworth proprietors of this paper, spent a few days as a guest at the home of the Cooks.

Mr. A. C. Rohrbach met with a painful accident last Saturday when breaking a bone in his hand here. A nail in the board protruding a knee and he has been confined to his room under the doctor's care ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Kaler have returned from their vacation to New York and Philadelphia and have taken up their residence in town. They have the best wishes of their numerous friends for a happy and prosperous future.—Herald.

BURLINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Finlayson, of Ayer's Cliff, were Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. McFarland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blair arrived home on Monday evening from their spring trip to the coast.

Rev. Mr. J. T. Tull, acted as Judge at the Full Fall at the Fair, Tuesday and at Lexington on Wednesday.

Gordon Blair left on Sunday evening for Galtwy, where he has accepted a position as reporter on the Baldwin Star.

A dog was run over by an automobile and killed on Brant Street on Monday morning, which caused some excitement for the few minutes.

The Grant Construction Company are rushing along the paving in town. They are now working on James Street, and expect to move over to Hager Avenue in the early part of next week.

At four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon the fire alarm sounded for a fire at the G. W. V. A. hall on Main Street. During the summer months the awnings had been swept into the street, so the caretaker started the furnace that day, and the place was soon filled with smoke. The rubbish was extinguished with a pail of water, and no damage was done. The firemen were on the job, but their services were not required.—Gazette.

No need to suffer with corms, or to run the risk of getting them. Behave yourself and painlessly with Holloway's Corn Remover.

The Free Press' Short Story

HER WISE OLD RELATIVE

FRANK H. WILLIAMS

Twas just before I went to bed; The lights below looked dim and red, The stars looked white high over— Wild geese, a-honking.

Although I am a city child, I heard that that sounded wild. "What's that?" I said. And daddy, smiled.

"Wild geese, a-honking."

Twas just before I went to bed; The lights below looked dim and red, The stars looked white high over— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.

The children saw us sailing high, They pointed to the sky in awe, They tried to hold us as we went by— Wild geese, a-honking.

We flew where whistling rivers run; We passed great cities, one by one; We were the first to see the sun— Wild geese, a-honking.