FISHERMAN'S LUCK

"The most embarrassing thing that ever happened to me," said Mrs. Peters, when the Biscuit Club was exchanging humorous experiences, "happened of course, in church, while I was wearing black for my father-in-law. I was leaning forward during prayer one morning when my new, heavily trimmed hat fell off, dropped to the floor of the pew behind me, and rolled out of sight. Fortunately, I had an umbrella. Getting down as that as I could, I crawled under the pew, reached out with the umbrella handle and fished about for the hat. When my hand finally touched it I knelt in my place, closed my eyes, I suppose I crossed an unorthodox vow, but I could see nobody, nobody could see me, and tried to look as devout as if my mind had never been off the service.
