A Question of Who Pays Halton County Council is now mixed up in a curious and interesting case of responsibilities which has lately developed in Milton. On February 22, William Ware, a resident of Peel County, giving his address as Brampton, was committed to the Halton County jail at Milton. charged with breaking into the C. N. R. station at Norval. Police Magistrate Moore sentenced him to two years less one day indeterminate, and not less than one year, in the Ontario Reformatory. No pacert having been sent for Ware, he remained in fall until March 24, when he was taken to Guelph General Hospital for an operation for appendicitis, which way performed. Last week a notice was received from the Hospital that the County of Halton would be held responsible for his maintenance. 'Hy direction of the Warden, a notice was sent to the Hospital, denying Dability on the ground that Ware was a resident of Peel.
