"RAMONA" PICTURE AT WONDERLAND YIELDS

The much heralded "Ramona," from Helen Hunt Jackson's novel of the same name, has at last arrived in our midst. This picture will be shown at Wonderland Theatre on Friday afternoon and evening. "Ramona" was written by Helen Hunt Jackson with a purpose. She did not know at the time of writing the story that it would go down in history as one of the great American classics. And Edwin Carewe, the director of "Ramona," has given the story to the screen in such a manner as might be well termed "screen-classic." "Ramona" is a tale of early California—the days of the Mission Indians—where "Ramona" came into being during that period. The story is filled with love interest. Mrs. Jackson, while probably not fully realizing it at the time, "drew one of the most beautiful love stories in American literature when she penned this tale of the half-Indian maiden who is in love with two men, one of them the Indian, "Alessandro," played on the screen by Warner Baxter; the other, "Melpe," the Spanish Don, Roland Drew.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Seven years ago a farmer living only a few miles from the city hung his vest on the barnyard fence. A calf chased up a pocket of money in which there was a standard gold watch. A short time ago the animal, a staid old hill cow, was butchered for beef and the time-piece was found in such a position between the lungs of the cow that the respiratory—the chain-in and fitting out of the lungs—kept the watch wound up, and the watch had lost but four minutes in seven years—Lyon News.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:
 I am sending you a copy of the "Domination," which shows in growth since its inception some years ago; I thought it would probably interest you. I must also take this opportunity to congratulate you on behalf of myself and Mrs. Montgomerie (nee Cleric) Walters on your rise to the ownership and editor's chair of The Acton Peace Pass, and I can say that you haven't let the old paper go back any; and no doubt the work and business methods that Mr. H. P. Moore instilled into you have stood you in good stead, and along with your own ability will carry you along the road to success.

We often get The Peace Pass sent to us by friends in Acton, and we appreciate it very much. We pass it along, sometimes to the local paper, or someone who asks if we ever get any Canadian papers. In fact the local paper, after reading yours I am sure, started a personal column; "imitation is the sincerest flattery," and published a lot of little things out of The Peace Pass, so you see that The Peace Pass is doing good 15,000 miles away from its place of publication. Both Mrs. Montgomerie and myself send greetings to all Acton friends.

At the present time all eyes are turned to America, for isn't our Tom Heeny going to kick Gene Tunney on July 22, for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world?

Tom Heeny comes from Glasgow, Hawker Bay Province, New Zealand, and not Australia, as a lot of American and Canadian papers say. It is about 100 miles from where I am.

I saw several times in The Peace Pass an account of the export of fat hogs from Halton County, and that Acton is always heading it. I wonder if you see that The Peace Pass is doing good 15,000 miles away from its place of publication. Both Mrs. Montgomerie and myself send greetings to all Acton friends.

Fact Number 9

The policy reserves held by The Imperial Life to ensure the carrying out of its contracts are so calculated as to require for this purpose interest earnings from year to year of only 3 per cent. The rate of 6.13 per cent. now being earned provides to policyholders, therefore, a wide margin of security and profit.

GALLAGHER'S AGAIN

Did you ever get in wrong with your wife? The other night, just home from a party, my wife threw off her hat and faced me. "I'll never take you out again." "Why, what did I do?" "You asked Mrs. Smith how her husband was standing the heat, and he has been dead two years." Well, I know a pair that never get in wrong with each other. They are Gallagher's Blood Purifier and Gallagher's Kidney Remedy. We call them "A Great Team," because of their ability to pull people back to health, if troubled with such ailments as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Acidity of the Stomach, Rheumatism, General Debility, and many other common ailments. Just go to your Druggist, A. T. Brown, and ask for these two purely herbal remedies. So long.

Yours truly,
 Jack Spelt
