Acton Natives—A Fine If You Don't
 The Legislature of Ontario at the session of 1928 enacted this provision: "Any owner or occupant of land who suffers the provisions of the Weed Control Act by not destroying all weeds on the property occupied or used by him, or who refuses or neglects to obey any lawful order of the Inspector given under this Act, is liable to a penalty not less than $20 nor more than $50 for every acre of such land."

Another Legend Goes Wrong
 Another one of those amazing and delightful old legends has come wrong. It rained on St. Swithin's Day, and as it rained in part of the day, the expectation of forty days of downpour and rain upon the two succeeding days, July 16 and 17. But that was a rainy day, and the rain continued to fall in reasonable fact the St. Swithin's Day legend never has been fulfilled, as a glance back at the weather reports will show. But they are entertaining stories, these old legends, no matter on how many occasions and under unfavorable and many of them help us to remember tidbits of history. The lines in which the St. Swithin's Day legend is expressed are as follows:
 St. Swithin's Day, if thou dost rain,
 For forty days it will remain.
 St. Swithin's Day, if thou be fair,
 For forty days 'twill rain no more."

Will Place Country on Its Feet
 The splendid crop this year is going to put this whole country on its feet, on a sound, solid basis, enthusiastically declared Wm. Neal, General Manager of Western Lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when interviewed before he left on his departure for Hamilton from Galtway. I have never seen conditions so good here as they are now, not even in the boom years of 1904 and 1905. The crop, which is now in the hands of the grower, is going to be a wonderful thing for Western Canada. I have travelled all through Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta, largely by track motor, and the crop and its condition is a most interesting sight, but when the total crop is taken into consideration it is not very much. Based on the present outlook I grade it as a bumper crop, but it will not be a bumper crop until the present outlook is for a bigger increased acreage and splendid conditions, and we must have more facilities available with which to handle the crop."

VOICE OF HABIT
 Head Barber—Well, Tony, you're late for work today. You should have been here by now.
 Tony—Well, boss, I had to go to the bank to get my money, and I had to stop for a coffee and a cigar. You know I talk myself into a stupor and message."

CORRECT
 When asked who the four horsemen were he replied:
 "Paul Heyer, Tibaldore Roosevelt, Jesse James and Harry Goagick."
