Handling Grain in Western Canada

Accommodations for handling Western grain are rapidly multiplying. There are now approximately 4,700 country grain elevators in Western Canada, with a total capacity of approximately 150,000,000 bushels. The storage capacity of the terminal elevators at Port Arthur and Fort William, at the head of the Great Lakes, was increased during 1928 from 73,000,000 bushels to 86,000,000 bushels.

Paying for What They Want

Township, town, county, provincial and federal governments are blamed in turn for the increased taxation, but I say it is the people who are dictating the situation and have the remedy in their own hands if they want to use it, but I do not think they do. If we must ride in autos, we must have roads, and gasoline. The situation, I repeat, is out of the control of Innisfil, or the county, or the province. If the people must have these things, I repeat, they must expect to pay for them, and I say right here they will pay more before they pay less." So spoke J. A. Jamieson, of Thornton, at Innisfil Township nominations in answer to critics of high taxes, reports the Barrie Examiner and which adds, "He was not a candidate, nor even nominated. He had very little to say, but what he did say made a splendid impression on his audience. It was sound reasoning, was the comment heard. Most people will be inclined to agree that if people are going to 'step' on the 'gas' they must buy 'gas' to step on, and 'gas' costs money. It is the new order of things and, as Multigan said, 'what are you going to do about it?'"

Driving in the West

The following editorial comment is from the Mail and Empire: "The Ontario executive of the Trades and Labor Congress has again asked the Government to legalize the sale of beer by the glass. The idea is repugnant mainly to those who abhor the thought of beer being sold in any form. But if it is to be contended that the sale of beer is altogether wrong, the sale of a glass should be slightly less wrong than the sale of a bottle." Such are the wiles and demands of the liquor interests. Undoubtedly the Trades and Labor Congress executive asked for the beer by the glass but that is a very small group of men and influences may have been brought to bear on them in making their request to the Government. Such things have been known to have been done with other organizations and are not beneath the liquor interests. But the point is that previous to the securing of the Government Control measure, the return to the old barroom was shunned with holy terror by the control advocates. Those days were never to return, but now that the bottle trade has been established the ever-grasping liquor interests are after the glass business too.

Chicago Must Stop Water Diversion

At last Chicago has been branded as a water thief and the Supreme Court of the United States has decided the Chicago diversion against Chicago. It was a sweeping victory for Wisconsin and the other complaining States, and a knock-out blow for the Windy City. A perpetual injunction will be granted against the diversion of water from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi River via the Chicago Drainage Canal, although the injunction may not become effective until Chicago has had a reasonable time to clean up her sewage situation. The court, in its opinion, stated that Chicago was entitled to less consideration because the Chicago Sanitary District had for many years been taking a great volume of water from Lake Michigan to the Gulf of Mexico, and that the present diversion, under the permit of the Secretary of War, had been a diversion not in the interest of navigation, but for the purpose of sewage reduction. The permit was justified only as an emergency measure, necessary to preserve the Port of Chicago from unspeakable pollution, and to that extent was in aid of commerce and navigation. The diversion, however, had been injurious to navigation, and had injuriously affected the complaining States, which were entitled to have the level of the lakes restored so far as they had been lowered by the diversion. The court declined to say whether Congress had or had not the power to divert water from the basin of the St. Lawrence to the basin of the Mississippi, as nothing of the kind had been attempted.

The Bell Telephone Company is Explaining

In a series of advertisements appearing in THE FREE PRESS and the press throughout the country, the Bell Telephone Co. is explaining much of its associations with the Northern Electric Co., the American Company and giving explanation from its angle of its bill that will be again presented to Parliament. These advertisements will make for a better understanding by the public of the position of the Telephone Company when the bill is presented and the issue will be followed with a better understanding of both sides of the question when it makes its appearance before Parliament again. The public, of course, is most interested in the rates for telephone service to be charged and how the bill will effect these rates. For its public presentation of its side of the question the company is to be commended and the public has the opportunity now to judge on the matter.

What Are You Saving Time For?

The inventions of our age are taking the direction of time-savers. How many hours a week does the telephone save you? When an airplane recently travelled from Los Angeles to New York in nineteen hours, the feat at once suggested an important saving in time for business men. This saving of time means cutting down the hours of work. A hundred years ago people expected to work fourteen or sixteen hours a day. Even at the beginning of this century, the twelve-hour day was regarded as necessary in some occupations. We are cutting down the length of the working day, however. In connection with all this talk of saving time, an important question arises. What are we saving it for? Probably we have all seen people who on a rainy holiday seemed unutterably bored. After they had slept all they could, and eaten all they could, there still remained considerable time for which they had no use whatever. Unless we learn to obtain more real value out of our leisure than we get out of our work, what are we saving time for?

The Benefits of the Workmen's Compensation Act

The summary of figures for the Workmen's Compensation Board of Ontario for the year 1928 shows that there has been awarded in benefits during the year $7,067,946.93, as compared with $6,084,054.87 in 1927. The total number of accidents reported during 1928 was 71,079, as compared with 70,398 in 1927. The fatal accidents showed an increase from 429 during 1927 to 553 during 1928. The accident fund of the Board received several heavy blows during 1928, including the Manassos disaster and the Hollinger fire. Records now available indicate an increase in 1928 over 1927 of eight per cent. in employment, an increase of eleven per cent. in total number of accidents reported to the Workmen's Compensation Board and an increase of sixteen per cent. in total awards by the Board. There are approximately twenty-five thousand industries, these being by payroll, largely the manufacturing interests of the Province, in which there has been a remarkable increase in employment over former years.

The Volume of Canadian Fishery Enterprise

The total value of the Canadian fishing industry for 1928 reached $54,000,000. The salmon pack of the Pacific coast was about 2,000,000 cases and the value over $14,000,000. The pack was the largest for five years, the increase over 1927 being 750,000 cases. The halibut fisheries on the Pacific Coast landings totalled 30,000,000 pounds, an increase of more than 2,000,000 pounds over 1927. The total value of this fishery exceeded $3,000,000. On the Atlantic coast, while the fisheries of New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and the Gaspe coast were well sustained, Nova Scotia had one of the most prosperous years since the end of the war period. Only once since 1919 have the catch and the value been greater. The catch was about 20,000,000 pounds in excess of 1927 and the total value will exceed $11,000,000. The total investment in the Canadian Fisheries is about $52,000,000 and about 85,000 persons are employed in the catching and processing of the product. The value of the catch, last year, it will therefore be seen, was greater than the total investment.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Brass and copper products produced in Canada in 1927 were valued at $24,054,657. This is the highest value ever recorded for the Canadian industry.

The former Kaiser, in a book, "My Ancestors," still adheres to the doctrine that "might is right." Had the Allies adopted that motto Wilhelm would long since have been gathered to his ancestors.—The Globe.

The canal systems of Canada are an index of the growing trade of the country. During 1928 there passed through these arteries of trade and commerce 18,719,723 tons, an increase of 1,231,412 tons over the previous year.

Editor McLaren, of the Barrie Examiner, complains of the broadcasting programmes of phonograph records, but our biggest difficulty in listening is to adjust an Ingersoll watch to exactly fifteen and three-quarters seconds past two and a half minutes of ten o'clock, Eastern Standard time, when the musical note sounds.

E. S. Hudson, editor of the Listowel Banner, was tied for third place on the Board of Education with another Listowel citizen. The Town Clerk, who is the editor of the Listowel Standard, had the casting vote, but didn't relish the idea of electing or defeating a brother editor. The two who were tied decided to let the Reeve of the town toss a coin and Hudson won the toss. The candidate who lost by the flip of the coin was the first to congratulate the winner.—Chesley Enterprise.

Kitchener would like to see a memorial erected to Sir Adam Beck at Baden. London wants his home there purchased as a memorial and if memory serves us correctly we believe Toronto thought a memorial should be erected in that city. Sir Adam Beck himself erected a greater memorial than any of these patty memorials could be. The Ontario Hydro, and his association with it, will be remembered by a grateful Province longer than any of these and can be found wherever one is.
