

The Acton Free Press

THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 10, 1920

THE COMMON MAN

This man has fallen a long way since he last had time to pray. And yet he is still in the same place.

He is in the midst of many poor relations, and the friend is dead.

He is without a home,

and his plots along life's way are few.

He has no strength to meet all his trials.

His hopes and dreams are yours, and

he is alone.

His hands and feet are all his own, but he is not strong enough to take care of them.

He is poor,

and his demands are many,

but he is not strong enough to meet all his trials.

But topics and dreams are yours, and you are the ones who can help him.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known

the man,

and those who have seen him away.

He is alone,

but he is not alone,

for there are those who have known