

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FOR SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

REVIEW: HONORIFICATION OF THE EXILE AND THE RESTORATION
Golden Text:
The lovingkindness of Jehovah is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear Him.

Lesson I: Ezekiel was a priest, and the sanctuary loomed large in his prophetic vision. He was an exile, and his vision of the temple, purifying and enriching all that touched, and even blessing those who were afar off, was a prophecy of the church as a living temple.

Lesson II: Ezekiel, though in exile, was not a passive sufferer. He was an active worker for the restoration of his people. He was a seer and a prophet, and he was a worker for the restoration of his people.

Lesson III: Ezekiel's vision of the temple, purifying and enriching all that touched, and even blessing those who were afar off, was a prophecy of the church as a living temple.

Lesson IV: Daniel's prayer, his fasting, and his tears, were a protest against the gods of the Babylonians. He was a man of prayer, and his prayer was a protest against the gods of the Babylonians.

Lesson V: Daniel's prayer, his fasting, and his tears, were a protest against the gods of the Babylonians. He was a man of prayer, and his prayer was a protest against the gods of the Babylonians.

Lesson VI: Daniel's prayer, his fasting, and his tears, were a protest against the gods of the Babylonians. He was a man of prayer, and his prayer was a protest against the gods of the Babylonians.

Lesson VII: Daniel's prayer, his fasting, and his tears, were a protest against the gods of the Babylonians. He was a man of prayer, and his prayer was a protest against the gods of the Babylonians.

Lesson VIII: Daniel's prayer, his fasting, and his tears, were a protest against the gods of the Babylonians. He was a man of prayer, and his prayer was a protest against the gods of the Babylonians.

Lesson IX: Daniel's prayer, his fasting, and his tears, were a protest against the gods of the Babylonians. He was a man of prayer, and his prayer was a protest against the gods of the Babylonians.

Lesson X: Daniel's prayer, his fasting, and his tears, were a protest against the gods of the Babylonians. He was a man of prayer, and his prayer was a protest against the gods of the Babylonians.

Lesson XI: Daniel's prayer, his fasting, and his tears, were a protest against the gods of the Babylonians. He was a man of prayer, and his prayer was a protest against the gods of the Babylonians.

Lesson XII: Daniel's prayer, his fasting, and his tears, were a protest against the gods of the Babylonians. He was a man of prayer, and his prayer was a protest against the gods of the Babylonians.

STATESMAN RELAXES

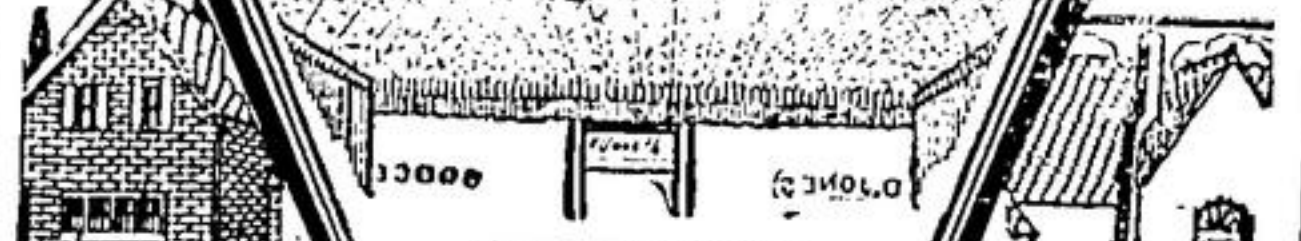

THE SATISFACTION OF THE VANQUISHED

"Some men" observed Galt, "you don't always agree with me about, but I wouldn't be surprised if you were in the wrong end to me."

CHILDREN HAVE TO CHEW IT— AND THEY LIKE THE CRISP SHREDS
SHREDDED WHEAT
With all the bran of the whole wheat

You don't have to coax children to chew Shredded Wheat—the more they chew it, the better they like it—and that means sound teeth and healthy gums. Just the food for growing youngsters. So delicious and so easy to serve.
