MICHIE—At the home of Mrs. William...
The Acton Free Press

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1929
This is the day that...
—Did you lose your vote yesterday?
—Thanksgiving—a week from Monday.
—Hallowe'en parties are the order of the week.

—Ordinary relationships are normal again now.
—And the election is all over again for another year.
—The eleventh month of the year commences to-morrow.
—Nelson County puts its temperance before its party, evidently.
—It was rather a wet day (outside) for polling the vote yesterday.

—Some fine loads of turnips are being shipped from Acton these days.
—The Hallowe'en parade is at seven this evening—the real for the town.
—Join in the fun of the ghost walk this evening—for young and old alike.
—Acton was the only town in the County to register a majority for Blacklock, the temperance candidate.
—At his own price, twenty-one empty bottles will cost one political speaker nine dollars, we are told.
—Hallowe'en will be represented by a Liberal-Progressive in the Legislature for a change.

—The completed framework of the new arena outlines a building of generous proportions.
—This is Hallowe'en. May everyone enter into the amusement of the occasion.
—With commendable activity citizens and municipal officers have kept the leaves cleared off the streets this fall.
—Work on E. J. Harkness's new store and dwelling is making good progress these days.
—The Hydro Department are installing new transformers to supply power for Wilson's chopping mill.
—Mr. Hillmer dropped over 600 votes in his own town this election. Apparently Mayor Blacklock is popular in Oakville.

—R. J. Kerr, real estate, has negotiated the sale of the farm, lot 23, first concession, Esquimaux, to P. H. Greenwood of Paisley.
—And now the election bets can be settled and the empty bottles paid in this sportsmanlike style, even if they are a little costly.
—An important question we have refrained from asking for a long time: "Does your subscription label read satisfactory to both of us?"
—Miss M. Hickey, of Ganarquois, has purchased the above business of H. H. Harrison, and has taken possession. Mr. Harrison will return to Perth to reside.

COPIES NECESSARY
During a hold-up in Chicago, according to R. H. a young stenographer was seized by a bullet. Thinking she was dying, she dictated a farewell note, "Write to Johnnie," she whispered. "Olive has my true love and best regards; O'Connell copies to Harold, Fred and William."
SLIGHT DETOUR
The little girl was crying. Her mother, to distract her thoughts, called her name. "Oh, come here, darling—come here and look at the airplane."
The little girl ran to the window and stared up at the airplane till it disappeared. "When she got out her little wet handkerchief again."
"Mamma, what is I crying about?" she asked.
EVERY FARMER'S DUTY FRIEND
A Chamotte ice cream manufacturer advertised that he would give a cone free to every boy who called at the plant and brought along his dog.
One day was reported near collapse after feeding all the boys in one neighborhood to catch his cones.

Entered Into Rest
ROBERT MITCHELL
Robert Mitchell, postmaster in Guelph eighteen years, and a prominent resident of that city for half a century, died at the General Hospital, Guelph, on Monday, October 28, 1929, at the age of 80 years.

Mrs. and Mr. Wilfred McDonald, of Toronto, spent the week-end with Mr. H. W. Lewis in Guelph.
Miss Neema Noble, of Georgetown, spent the week-end with Miss Joan Croft, Mr. R. W. Laurie held a very successful auction sale of his farm stock, and implements on Monday. It drew a large crowd.

EDEN MILLS
A supper and concert was held in the Town Hall, under the auspices of the United Church, last Wednesday evening, which proved a great success. After supper, which was a feast of culinary delicacies, was over, a splendid concert was rendered, consisting of instrumental and vocal selections by a number of O. A. C. students, Mr. Gordon Scott, Dr. Hesch, of Toronto, and others. Mr. Gandler made an efficient chairman, with his wit and good humor, while every number on the programme helped to make the concert one of the best.
Mr. and Mrs. Dickie, of Bradford, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Holson last week.
On Thursday the funeral of the late Mrs. Robertson took place at Eden Mills Cemetery. Mrs. Robertson was an invalid for several years. Her family has the sympathy of all who know her.

WILLIAM MICHIE
After an illness of two weeks, Mr. William Michie passed away on Saturday at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. William Worden, Church Street, Acton. Born in Brussels, Ontario, on June 27, 1870, Mr. Michie was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Michie, of that place. On September 12, 1894, he was married to Miss Josephine Barbara, who, with their daughter, Roberta, remain to mourn his passing. He was a member of the United Church of Canada, and was a member of the Presbyterian Church and of the Guelph Club. He was a member of the Guelph Club and of the Guelph Club. He was a member of the Guelph Club and of the Guelph Club.

J. L. THOMPSON
After an illness of two weeks the death occurred at the Guelph General Hospital on Tuesday last week of Joseph L. Thompson, beloved husband of Hazel Allen Thompson and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thompson, of this city. He was a member of the United Church of Canada, and was a member of the Guelph Club and of the Guelph Club.

CONTROLLING COUCH AFTER HARVEST CULTIVATION
The usual cultivation given land to prepare it for crops stimulates the growth of the couch and for that reason it is one of the worst weeds in Eastern Ontario. The results obtained at the Fredrick Experimental Station indicate that it is possible to eradicate this weed by after harvest cultivation. The results were obtained after a hay crop, probably because this crop allows a longer period of after harvest cultivation.
In 1928, the hay on a number of rotation plots, which were badly affected by couch, was cut in July before the couch had a chance to ripen. The plots were ploughed on July 27 to a depth of 18 inches. The furrow and the area around down flat and care taken to have all the grass covered. The field was ploughed the same way it was ploughed on August 3, 8 and 13. The disk was set light the first time so as not to turn the couch over. The disk was set a little deeper. The disk was lapped each time so that the field was disked twice in going over once. The field was harrowed with the springtooth, over-lapped, on August 20 and 27, September 10, 19 and 26, and on October 9 and 15. This harrowing kept the field free from couch during the entire season.
This year some of the plots were sown with grain without ploughing, while other plots were ploughed and put in hoed sets of plots. There was no couch in either set of plots.
This treatment took considerable labor but it cleared the land of couch within the necessary time period. It also indicates that if a farmer would select a field each year and do the work carefully he would in time clear his farm of this weed.—Experimental Farm Note.

THE EVENING MEAL
DIGNESTER
An old actor-manager died, or at least his relatives thought he had died, and arrangements were made for the funeral.
On the appointed day one of his old colleagues arrived to pay his last respects, but to his astonishment, the would-be mourner was informed that "deceased" had come to life after a period of coma.
"Just like him," said the visitor, "he was always a terror for relatives."

Letters to the Editor
Dear Sir: A constant and interested reader of the "Argus" has just written to me, asking me to suggest, in a letter, that it would be well if I would write appreciatively of Mr. Cobhan's reminiscences, which he has placed in the hands of the writer, and also for my own. The articles go so into detail up and down and across, and although the report is of what we have been reading in the recent years, still it is from a fresh angle. As a resident for nearly twenty-five years, and now away for twelve, although a continuous reader, I am deeply interested, and have been reading the paper since early 1885, so remember it is of the alterations that have taken place since the "Argus" articles, and as the substitute editor, who when the "Argus" was under the "Argus" articles, I remember Mr. Cobhan's reminiscences, which he has placed in the hands of the writer, and also for my own.

REMINISCENCES AND THEIR ORIGINS
Man's curiosity is in excess of his power to interpret and understand; consequently the superstitious and the credulous, who are in excess of the latter, will gladly believe anything that is told them, and will believe anything that is told them, and will believe anything that is told them.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GOOD POTATO STORAGE
Owing to the fact that a large percentage of the potato crop in the important potato growing areas of Canada is stored for several months, the amount of profit from the crop depends largely on the degree to which the potatoes are stored under conditions of good ventilation, and the amount of profit from the crop depends largely on the degree to which the potatoes are stored under conditions of good ventilation.

GREAT PHYSICIAN WRITES ON ALCOHOL
When I began the practice of medicine in 1850, I was fairly general in my use of alcohol. Experience has shown that this faith was without foundation, and that it was a waste of time and money to use it. I have personal knowledge of men who became drunkards because their physicians told them that alcohol was necessary for them, and that it was a waste of time and money to use it.
