MILL STREET ACTON, ONTARIO

The Acton Free Press
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1929
This and that
—Plenty of rain these days.
—Just a little less than six weeks until Christmas.
—The few days of Indian Summer during the week were greatly enjoyed.
—Acton citizens largely remembered and joined in the services on Armistice Day.
—The Royal Winter Fair opens Wednesday and continues until November 24.
—Quite a number from Acton attended the anniversary banquet at Ebenezer Church on Monday evening.
—The local banks have now discontinued the weekly half-holiday on Wednesday afternoon until next April.
—This year's Christmas cards are ready. Many pleasant and interesting are awaiting those who choose early.
—The Royal Fair at Toronto extends over twenty acres of indoor space and some 75,000 animals are exhibited there.
—The butcher shops now remain open every Wednesday afternoon and have closed the weekly half holiday for the season.
—Local weddings were numerous the past week, and the wedding bells seem to be worked overtime on Saturday and Monday.
—The work on E. J. Hassard's new store has made splendid progress and the roof is on and the front now being scaffolded.
—The Guelph Salvation Army Band visited Acton on Saturday afternoon and gave a splendid programme of musical numbers on the street.
—J. Aldred, near Hillsburg, harvested five hundred bags of Government tested seed potatoes from two acres this fall. This crop was all taken in one day.
—A number of the friends here of Miss Jessie Cumming held a bridal shower party in her honor on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lindsay.
—A good crowd attended the Old-Time Dance in the Town Hall on Friday night. The Frank and Black's Orchestra furnished the music and the Gibson was floor manager.
—At the Halton Assizes last week Frederick King, of Georgetown, and P. M. Durbin, of Toronto, were both found guilty of manslaughter and charged with driving on highway accidents.
—The galvanizing sheeting is being put on the main section of the roof of the new arena this week. The sides are scaffolded and the roof of the existing rink and dressing rooms finished.
—Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, of Erin, preached a very thoughtful sermon in the United Church on Sunday evening. Rev. C. L. King was the preacher at the anniversary services at Erin during the day.
—A Durant car, minus the license plates, was found by Chief McPherson in the bush, near Speyville last week. The owner was located in the neighborhood and the recovered property on Monday afternoon.
—The boy riding and handily cascades of Paul Hinder, of Acton, and Fred Morrison, of Georgetown, had the usual unhappy ending when they were taken into custody last week. It is said they have confined to several half-days and auto thefts.

REPAIRS IN OKLAHOMA

An Oklahoma City paper boastfully announced that the Oklahoma State was only a cow-patch forty years ago. Many things can and do happen in forty years, and the Oklahoma State is a very good example of the progress that can be made in that time. The Oklahoma State is a very good example of the progress that can be made in that time. The Oklahoma State is a very good example of the progress that can be made in that time.
