Canada a Leader Among Manufacturing Centres

Canadian manufactured goods are being exported to practically every country in the world. Since the beginning of the present century alone the exports of Canadian manufactured goods have gone up from $90 millions to $648 millions. Since 1910 the percentage of imports of raw materials into Canada increased from 24.2 to 25.6 per cent. of the total imports, and exports of raw materials decreased from 51.2 to 47.2 per cent. of the total exports; while the percentage of imports of fully manufactured goods decreased from 65.8 to 64.8 per cent. and exports increased from 32.7 to 37.4 per cent. In recent years Canada's exports of manufactures have been larger than her imports, which is a very happy and favorable situation for any country.

Electric Energy in Canada

The development of electrical energy in Canada is really marvellous, when its extent is known. Ten years ago the capital investment in the electric power industry in Canada totalled about $400,000,000. Now it is over one billion dollars. The total power available from present installation is nearly 6,000,000 h. p. This is about one-fifth of the possible development, and new enterprises for the securing of additional units of power are going forward apace. Its introduction to the industrial users in the rural district is rapidly growing. Many farmers in Halton County have already had electric light and power connections made and it is hoped that in a very short time the advantages of electric energy will be available to every farmer at reasonable rates.

A Splendid Example of Community Co-operation

The community banquet tendered by the citizens of Acton to the hockey clubs was more than an expression of good wishes to those teams. It provided a splendid example of real community spirit that has brought success to the club and to the Arena this year. It proved just a succession of "Thank yous." The community were proud of the success of the hockey team and gathered to show their appreciation. The hockey boys and officials were pleased with the support accorded them and told citizens of town and countryside of their pleasure at their patronage. They were pleased that Acton had provided them with an Arena that met their requirements so well. They had had a successful year financially as well as winning their group. It was certainly a fine co-operative spirit when the letter from their treasurer conveyed the message and cheque for $350 from the club to the Arena. It was even greater to hear that it was the unanimous wish of the players and club officials that this surplus would be applied on the Arena account. The banquet and presentation were most successful from the standpoint of what they were supposed to have been arranged for—of providing a social gathering and appreciative remembrance. The co-operative working spirit that was shown in that gathering was the big feature. With such a spirit in team play and community life great things may continue to be accomplished in Acton.

Increasing Sales and Revenue

Liquor, beer and wine sales under the Liquor Control Act amounting to $55,360,509.81 during the fiscal year 1929 netted the province a profit of $9,751,686.20, according to the report of the Liquor Control Board tabled in the Legislature by Hon. W. H. Price. Added to the above profit, receipts from other sources under the Act, such as sales of permits, amounting to $909,758.32, show a total profit of $9,661,448.60. The feature of the report is the tremendous increase in the sales of native wines. During 1929 the sales of Ontario-produced wines leaped 108.7 per cent., by far the greatest of any of the beverages sold under the Act. From 698,029 gallons in 1928, the amount sold rose in 1929 to 1,693,242 gallons. Commenting on this increase, the Commission's report points out that the gallonage increase is in excess of money receipts because of the abolition of the luxury tax which resulted in a lowering of prices by the wineries, amounting to a 55-cent drop on gallon quantities and 10-cent drop on the prices of bottles. The improved Temperance legislation brought out by these startling figures under the Liquor Control Act is difficult to find. It is however commendible that steps are being taken to curb the sale of native wines. Constant restrictions on various forms of liquor will bring about a measure of prohibition but it is rather a slow and expensive method of bringing about the same results as could be secured by a prohibition law with strict enforcement.

A Serious Handicap

The freight rates on coal from border points as shown in the discussion at the meetings of Municipalities in Georgetown last week is one of vital interest to every householder and of grave importance to large manufacturers. When it is considered that Acton pays $1.40 per ton on soft coal when Hamilton and Toronto enjoy a rate of 90 cents the unfairness of the rate—especially when it is charged on a railroad owned by all Canadians can really be seen. Guelph, Brampton, Georgetown, Milton and towns west of Guelph, pay a rate in most cases the same as Acton. The argument put forth that Toronto, Hamilton, Dundas and other towns on the waterfront enjoy this rate because of competitive water rates is groundless. As near as could be ascertained Toronto received only a few boatloads of coal last year and it is said Hamilton has no public coal dock but only two privately owned docks for coal and other towns received no coal by this water route at all. The situation as it now stands is a serious handicap to manufacturers in these inland towns. It is also an unfair burden to every consumer of coal in these communities. The joint action planned by the municipalities in appealing before the Railway Board in the near future and presenting their case, will in all probability bring some adjustment of this apparently unfair discrimination. The handicap now placed on these towns is certainly a serious one.

United Action on Problems of Common Interest

The meeting at Georgetown sponsored by Major McKenzie and the Council and the Georgetown Business Men's Association proved that the communities of Acton, Brampton, Georgetown and Milton have many problems in common that can best be settled by united effort and concerted action. The primary object of the meeting was of course the discussion of the higher rates on coal that are charged inland towns in comparison with that enjoyed by municipalities situated on the waterfront. But other items of equal interest found a place for discussion at this first gathering of this nature in the vicinity. The question of a uniform weekly half holiday; the adoption of daylight saving with some idea of uniformity; the hastening of the construction of the link of the Provincial Highway from Milton to Acton and other subjects were among those that found a place in the discussion. We believe this meeting will be but the first of such gatherings. There is much in common that these municipalities can deal with to advantage by group endeavor. Reeve Mason expressed the hope at this inaugural gathering that a similar function would later be held in Acton. Uniform and united action on community problems would undoubtedly secure much greater results to all. The advantage of such gatherings is quite apparent to everyone.

Liquor Clearances to be Stopped

The unanimous decision of the House of Commons to prohibit liquor clearances to the United States will come as a great relief to all people regardless of their shade of politics. The spectral threat of Anglo-American strife raging along the Canadian-American frontier and the international immorality of Canadian Government officials aiding gangs of criminals and rum-runners to violate United States dry laws inspired the Mackenzie King Government to move for the prohibition of further liquor exports to the United States. Before the crowded galleries and full House attendance, Premier Mackenzie King in the Commons gave the above mentioned reasons as the two primary considerations prompting him to introduce his Liquor Export Bill, which, if enacted into law, will cut off Canada's annual $25,000,000 liquor trade with the United States. Total Federal returns from that trade have been estimated in Government returns at $15,000,000. It stated that official clearances to the United States will in all probability end before May 24. For long enough Canada has been associated officially in this traffic. It is commendible that both parties were unanimous in the passing of this bill to cease the traffic. Neither revenue or party bonds apparently influenced the passing of the measure and the greater good to Canada was apparently the ruling voice in making the bill the law of the land.

EDITORIAL NOTES

With the present week absorbed with Chautauqua activities, the winter season locally has been very far removed from a dull time throughout the winter months.

March with its snow flurries one day and spring-like weather removing the covering the following day is surely living up to its fickle reputation. Almost any weather prophet would be safe with forecasts during this month.

Plans for holding the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference in Regina, July 25th to August 6th, 1932, are already well advanced. Invitations to many countries of the world to participate in the event have been sent by the Canadian Government and it is expected that leading scientific and practical agriculturists will be present from all over the world.

The tragic death of Col. W. G. Barker, V. C., has brought out many reminiscences of the exploits of this war hero. Honored in life and death he has served his country well. The nation pays tribute to a man of his outstanding achievements. A distinguished career that has passed through the dangers of war, was unfortunately ended in the pursuit of peace-time activities.

The weekly newspaper field loses a veteran publisher this week in the person of Robert John Corson, owner and editor of the Markham Economist and Sun. He followed his father in publishing this journal who founded it in 1852. It is one of the oldest weekly newspapers in the province. He was a newspaper man of life-long experience and was born in Markham Township.

For the fourth year in succession the total value of the mineral production of Canada in 1929 reached a new high record, with $307,140,404, an increase of $32,187,007 over 1928 or 14.60 per cent. New records were established last year in the output of asbestos, cement, clay products, gold, lime, nickel, petroleum, salt, stone, and zinc, according to the latest official report.

OAKVILLE

The Oakville Junior hockey players who were so painfully injured in an auto accident on January 10, namely, George Good, Bert Peer, Hugh Gummer, James Davidson and John Shannon have instituted actions for damages at Osgoode Hall against George Penton, of Oakville, totalling $100,000, each claiming one-fifth of the total.

The Oakville Council Chamber contained a least one hundred persons on Monday afternoon, and several hundred filled the street on both sides unable to gain admittance. Nothing in recent years had aroused so much curiosity as the trial of three alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan, of Hamilton, this being the first court hearing of a Klansman in Canada. The trial was dated for two o'clock, but shortly after one the spectators began to arrive and secure their seats.—Record.

The Erin Chautauqua, despite the gloomy outlook at first with continued mild spell and breaking up of the roads turned out to be a real success. From the rise of the curtain the performances in the ten shows put on were greeted with bumper houses and a tremendous interest was manifested in all the players. So satisfied were the patrons and guarantors that an expression of opinion that was almost unanimous for bringing them back was given with the result that Miss Gregory secured a list of about 30 undertaking to have a festival here next winter.—Advocate.

At the hockey match in Toronto, Friday night between Varsity and Hamilton Tigers, an unfortunate accident occurred to Bill Stewart, Varsity star centre player, in the early part of the second period. Stewart skated fast into the Bengals' territory, and as he crossed the blue line an opposing defence man bodied him, knocking him to the ice and against the other defence player's legs. His feet were taken from under him and he fell on Stewart, causing the latter to hit his head on the ice. At this time a relief man was put in Stewart's place, and after receiving medical attention in the dressing-room he returned to the fray, but it was noticed that he was not his usual self and again he was taken off. When he was examined this time it was found that he had a slight concussion of the brain and was rushed to the hospital.—Reformer.

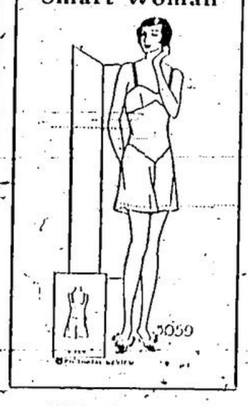
Fashions for the Smart Woman



LINGERIE IS FITTED

Last year's underlinings are as antedated as last year's frocks. And because you are, naturally, going to replace your out-moded wardrobe, you will start at the beginning and be sure that your lingerie harmonizes with your new clothes. This three-in-one combination is one of the most practical and comfortable things we know of for wearing under the new silhouette. It takes the place of brassière, girdle and panties, and the closing under the left arm insures a snug fit. One of the newest ideas is to have your "undies" the color of your gown, but white remains smart.

BURLINGTON

George Benger, of the Bank of Commerce staff, is enjoying three week's holidays, which will be spent at Toronto, Oshawa and other eastern points.

Mrs. Gilmour and Mrs. White, of Campbellville, have returned home after spending some time at the homes of Mrs. Bullard and Mrs. Weir, respectively.

The last of the fine maple trees in the business section of the town have disappeared. They were cut down during the past week in front of the gas and service station on Brant Street.

A meeting of the directors of the Nelson and Burlington Agricultural society was held in the Public Library on Friday afternoon last. The prize list was looked over and it is proposed to make some changes this year. The date for the fair will be set at the next meeting to be held in the near future.

On Friday evening last the pupils of Strathcona School took part in a recital at Bronte with the pupils of Bronte and Palermo, under the direction of Mrs. F. O. Russell, musical instructor in the schools.—Gazette.

NOT ON THE MAPS

It was a long while ago, but it is worth telling still. A correspondent in the South writes that a young lady, whose sweetheart was in the Confederate Army, received from him a letter that had been smuggled through the lines; for he had been taken a prisoner and sent to Tennessee.

After reading the letter she went to the house of a neighbor and asked to see a map. After a long search she said she could not find the place where Mr. W—— was.

"Where is it, do you say, Mollie?" asked her friend.

"Duranceville," replied Mollie, after looking again at the letter.

Her friends and she still diligently searched the map, but no such place could be found. At last they persuaded her to show them that part of the letter. It read thus:

"I am in durance vile, but hope soon to be exchanged and to return home."

A TOP GAME

One boy spins his top in a three-foot ring. Runs as far as he dares, sticks a peg in the ground and runs back to pick up his top before it stops spinning. Then in turn each of the other boys spins his top, races to the peg, lifts it and plants it a little farther away, and then tries to get back in time to catch his top before it falls. If the top falls before the spinner gets back, the peg is returned to its last position. Each boy has three trials.

HEALTH BEGINS IN THE MOUTH

Mouth hygiene is more than care of the teeth. It includes cleanliness, dental care and kinds of food which will insure healthy gum tissue. Research along this line has shown conclusively that a careful diet is not only important but is absolutely essential to a healthy mouth.

For many years it has been that scurvy appears when the food is limited to dried foods. One symptom of scurvey is sore mouth and gums, with bleeding and loosening of teeth. The treatment is the introduction of fresh fruits and vegetables which supply a liberal amount of vitamin C which is a specific in the cure or prevention of this condition. It is reasonable then to suppose that fresh fruits and vegetables, especially those rich in vitamin C, are valuable in mouth hygiene.

A very common deficiency disease is rickets. This is a condition in which the body is not able to use the minerals, calcium and phosphorus, so that bones and teeth grow normally. Rickets shows itself in poor teeth, dental caries, bowed legs and other less obvious afflictions. Lack of vitamin D will cause rickets as will a lack of the right amount and proportion of calcium and phosphorus, and a lack of sunshine. The main sources of vitamin D are egg yolk, whole milk (also the best source of calcium), butter fat and some green vegetables.

It can readily be seen that to insure a healthy mouth vitamins Q and D, and calcium and phosphorus, must be furnished and these can be had if care is taken in selecting food with this idea in mind.

A doctor who has made a special study of diseased mouths makes certain recommendations not only as a cure but as a prevention. He claims that improvement in a bad gum condition can be noticed within two weeks. This diet contains an abundance of vitamins C and D and the necessary minerals. The basis of the diet is orange juice, one to two cups daily, to which the juice of one lemon has been added; milk, one to two cups; lettuce, one-fourth to one-half head; eggs, one or two; whole cereals, and vegetables, fresh whenever possible.

The menu given here for one day is adequate according to three standards. It should be right not only for maintaining a healthy condition in the mouth but all through the intestinal tract.

WHERE THERE WAS NOTHING DOING

When Mark Twain in his early days was the editor of a Missouri paper, a superstitious subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his paper and asking whether that was a sign of good luck or bad. The humorist wrote him this, and he printed it:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so he can go to that store, spin his web over the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."—World's Best Humor.

DOWNY LITTLE THINGS . . . not long out of their shells . . . how much they must depend on you for the things they need to live and get big. They need a feed filled with nourishment. A feed which will build bones quickly . . . building muscles strong . . . change fuzz to feathers in a hurry . . . all this they demand . . . and yet their little crops can handle only one tiny thimbleful of feed a day! What a job for feed!

Consider Purina Chick Startena (mash) for this job! In every thimbleful are twelve ingredients! Cod-liver oil . . . dried buttermilk . . . alfalfa flour . . . granulated meat . . . these and eight others are there . . . each one with a real job to do. Purina Startena is mixed over and over again . . . 960 times just to be thorough! And you will find the same care taken with Baby Chick Chow (scratch) . . . to be fed with Startena.

Your chicks . . . what they do for themselves . . . what they do for you . . . is entirely in your hands. They eat so little . . . yet it counts so much . . . that you can afford to do only one thing . . . feed Purina Chick Startena!
