It is twenty-two years since Mr. and Mrs. Tyler came from the Old Country to make their home in Acton and this is the first visit back to the former home. WEANING THE LITTER Natural weaning gives best results with a litter of young pigs, and to obtain this, feed suitable for young pigs should be provided in the creep. A good mixture for the purpose is a half and half combination of middlings and finely ground oats from which the hulls have been sifted. Young pigs will start to nibble at the feed at about two to four weeks of age, and by the sixth or seventh week should be eating quite freely. Under such a procedure shock incidental to weaning develops as a natural event.—Pamphlet 135 N. S., Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Entered Into Rest

MISS MARIA HUSTLER, Brampton After a brief illness, Miss Maria Hustler died at Brampton on Sunday, in her 50th year. She was born near Lisgar, Trafalgar Township, and went to Brampton six years ago. She was a member of Grace United Church there. Surviving her are three brothers: Frank, of Norval; William, on the homestead; and Edwood, West Toronto; three sisters, Mrs. M. McLaughlin, Georgetown; Mrs. J. W. Cantelon, Milton; and Miss Jane, Brampton.

MRS. REBECCA SMITH, Milton Rebecca Blight, widow of the late Levi Smith, passed away at the home of her son-in-law, V. J. Norris, Bronte Street, Milton, in her 76th year. Her husband died some years ago. She was a life-long member of St. Paul's United Church and is survived by her brother, John W. Blight, one of the publishers of the Canadian Champion, Milton. The funeral took place to Evergreen Cemetery Saturday afternoon. Rev. J. W. Atkins, pastor of St. Paul's Church, conducted the service.

MRS. FRANK ARNOLD, Gloversville, N. Y. Mrs. Frank Arnold, of Gloversville, N. Y., passed away on Saturday, June 27, after being in poor health for some time and a serious illness the past few weeks. Mrs. Arnold was Mary A. Smith before her marriage, a daughter of the late Alex. P. Smith, of Acton. She was born at Acton on the fourth line of Erie Township in June, 1878. In September, 1898, she was joined in holy wedlock to the late Frank Arnold, who predeceased her. Mrs. Arnold was a co-incidence that the death of Mrs. Arnold occurred on the same day of the year just thirteen years later, as her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold had resided in Gloversville for many years. Two children, Mrs. Barbara and Mr. Cecil Arnold, remain to mourn the loss of their mother. Mrs. Arnold was also survived by two brothers and two sisters, Mr. Allan G. O. Smith, of Acton; James Smith, of Guelph; Mrs. Laverly, Monck; and Mrs. V. Woodward, of St. Williams. To all of these general sympathy is extended. Mrs. Arnold was a member of the First Baptist Church at Gloversville. The funeral was held on Wednesday of last week, with interment in Johnstown Cemetery.

KENNETH MERRIAM STEWART, Minburn, Ala. Mrs. J. H. Ruddle has received word of the death of Kenneth Merriam youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edmer Stewart, of Minburn, Alberta. Kenneth had been ill for several weeks in Edmonton Hospital, from an injury to his spine which occurred at school. ROBERT JAMES THOMPSON Wednesday morning, July 1, at break of day, there passed away at the home of Mr. Wm. Thompson, his brother James, who has been an invalid for over 25 years, being afflicted with locomotor ataxia. On Tuesday he was in his usual health, but towards evening he complained greatly of the intense heat and retired to bed early. He gradually grew worse, and slept quietly away at four o'clock a. m. The deceased was a son of Robert and Margaret Thompson and was born in Nassauwagoyia 64 years ago and has lived in this neighborhood ever since, making his home for a great number of years with his brother, William. He seldom complained of his lot in life, and was healthy and hearty, although unable to walk about, and took a great interest in all that was going on around him. He will be greatly missed in the home, as he was always there, and was a constant care. He was laid to rest in the family plot in Fairview Cemetery beside his sister, Margaret, who predeceased him last January. The pallbearers were: Messrs. James Anderson, Duncan Waddie, Duncan McDougall, John Stewart, Spencer Husband and Robert Winton. Friends who attended from a distance were: Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Moore and Arthur Thompson, Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Webb and son, Castorville; Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Webb, Will Webb and Mrs. Barden, Eden Mills; Mr. Joseph Ritchie, Mr. David Thompson, Mrs. Woodward and Mrs. Everett, Mrs. George Riley and Miss Katie Thompson, Grand Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Graham, Keenan and Annie Graham, Stewarttown.

BRAINS NEEDED "Young man," said the boss, pompously and pointed, "what we need in this business is brains—b-r-a-i-n-s—brains!" "Well," agreed the youthful applicant for a job, "that does seem to be about what is lacking."

The Memory of H. P. Moore

had held office as a member of the Board of Albert College, Belleville, since 1884, and was last year elected a member of the Senate of Victoria University. During his later years his magisterial work came to claim a very large part in his life. Over twenty years ago he was appointed as J. P. In 1920 he was named Police Magistrate for the Counties of Halton, Peel and Wellington, and in 1927 an order-in-council designated him Judge of the Juvenile Courts throughout his jurisdiction. In his courts he was notably just and absolutely fearless. He may have made the occasional mistake, though surprisingly few appeals have been made against his decisions and in very few cases, indeed, have these been successful. At times he may have been severe but only when he honestly felt severely was merited. At other times, particularly with first offenders, or when there had been mitigating circumstances, he was exceedingly kind.

As in other things, in his magisterial work he became deeply interested in the organization for furthering the interests of the profession. For a number of years he worked energetically in the Ontario Magistrates' Association and in 1929 was elected President. In his work in this office he made a material contribution for the betterment of the organization. Up to this point these paragraphs have been devoted, in the main, to H. P. Moore's work, and it will be realized that he worked hard as was necessitated by the enormity of varied interests suggested. But he also played hard and in his own good way.

From his boyhood, "H. P." as he has been familiarly known in his home town, has loved to handle a trout rod. The streams in the Acton vicinity were naturally stocked in the early days, providing excellent trout-fishing and the editor's greatest outdoor relaxation has been to spend an afternoon with a friend, latterly usually with his son, on one of the streams in the neighborhood. Through the years he had developed almost an uncanny knowledge of trouting lore and it was unusual that he did not return at the end of the day with at least a couple the number taken by any other member of the party.

Anyone who knows his home, "Moorecroft," on Church Street, Acton, would know of another hobby, flowers and gardening. With large forethought he purchased the lot on which his father had lived and the family had grown up, after the home had been broken up, planted the property with fruit and ultimately erected the home there over thirty years ago. Everyone in Acton knows the "Moorecroft" gardens, with flower borders trimmed like a beard, brimming with a new half-cut, with a rose garden, the Magistrate's particular pride, which presented bloom from early June till December. On the other section of the property extensive vegetable gardens, usually well stocked, provided the best of everything in the vegetable world.

Four years ago, when he disposed of the "Peep" Press to C. A. Bill, the present proprietor, Judge Moore began the development of another hobby, starting with the construction of a few bird houses for his own property, he began to build them in large numbers. The use of hammer, saw and plane seemed to give him the outlet he needed for his abundant physical activity and scarcely a day went by, no matter the season, but that an hour or two were spent in his cellar work shop fabricating bird houses of almost every type. There are a hundred or more of these bird houses, made with his own hands, in Acton, most of them given to children. They may be seen in the trees and around the homes in every section of the town. Others have been carried east to Quebec and other again north to Muskoka. Some of his friends, knowing his active temperament, had been somewhat fearful on his retirement from his strenuous newspaper work, lest his time should hang heavily on his hands. But he found in this unusual occupation a hobby which not only served the purpose of keeping him busy but also gave him a great deal of pleasure and provided an immense amount of joy for the children who were favored with his production.

On Victoria Day an event occurred which was not only significant but which gave Judge Moore a deal of satisfaction and pleasure. While he and Mrs. Moore were in England with the Canadian Editors' party, they met in quite an incidental way Sir Harry Brittain, who at that time was sitting member for the Municipality of Acton, England, in the British House of Commons. As a result Mr. and Mrs. Moore visited the English Acton and various amenities have since been exchanged, including a coat of arms from the English town, which hangs in the Town Hall here. This Spring Sir Harry Brittain was in New York on his mission for the British Government, and made opportunity to visit the Canadian Editor. While here he was the guest of Judge and Mrs. Moore and took occasion to make himself thoroughly acquainted with the town. In all this it seems, is surely the record of a worthy citizen. But with it again goes the spirit of a warm-hearted friend, something which cannot well be dwelt on in an article of this kind.

Judge Moore's body was carried out while the robins sang. But he is not dead. A good man lives in the things he has done for the friends he has made, in the influence he has left. And H. P. Moore has left a spirit-legacy of this kind just as surely as his made-friends while he lived.

The service in the home on Saturday afternoon, while one of the most largely attended the town has ever seen, was dignified and simple—just that. Conducted by his pastor, Rev. Clarence L. Poole, B. D., sections of the service
