Entered Into Rest

JAS. O'NEILL, Limehouse James O'Neill, one of the oldest and most respected residents of Limehouse, died suddenly on Thursday last, in his seventy-ninth year, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Cooney, 147 Wright Avenue, Toronto. Born in Newton Stewart, County Tyrone, Ireland, he came to Canada as a child and settled with his family in Nasagawaga Township. In 1873 he moved to Limehouse, where he took a position with the Toronto Lime Company, with which he had been connected as a trusted employee until about four years ago, when he retired. In 1876 he married Catherine Sharp, of Limehouse, who predeceased him last February. In religion Mr. O'Neill was a Roman Catholic, and was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters. He was a Liberal in politics. He is survived by five children: Alexander, of Kamloops, B. C.; Mrs. A. Cooney, of Toronto; Mrs. Edward Parrell, of Wexford; and Frank, of Toronto.

SAYINGS OF THE FAMOUS

"All My Possessions For One Moment of Time!" Great men and women of the past have left behind them many brilliant sayings, some of which were uttered almost with their last breath. For instance, when Queen Elizabeth was dying, she cried out: "All my possessions for one moment of time!" Almost before the words were out of her mouth, she was dead. President Abraham Lincoln, the great President of the United States, once said: "I don't think much of a man who is not wiser to-day than he was yesterday." John Opie, R. A., the famous painter, who died in 1807, was once asked by an admirer as to how he mixed his colors. The quick reply, "I mix them with my brain, sir" came from his lips. Lord Nelson, who made the famous remark that he could not see a signal ordering him to retire, because he had his telescope to his blind eye, also observed that he owed his successful career to having been a quarter of an hour before his time.

DEEPEST OIL WELL IN AMERICA

While the major oil companies have just completed a production and refining curb agreement which is expected to end the disastrous price cutting—retail gasoline having dropped to a new low of 7 cents a gallon, including a 3-cent tax—the Channor-Midway Oil Company has sunk the world's deepest hole in quest of more oil. In the Venture field, where the well is located, the drill touched the 10,010-foot mark a few days ago. The well is in excellent condition for production and provided two little details prove satisfactory—that is, in case it is in all sand and has sufficient gas pressure to lift the oil nearly two miles. So far the well is interesting only as a geological experiment establishing the deepest contact with father earth's "innards" yet known. It was started in August, 1929.

INHERITED RIGHTS

"The haughty English lord was endeavoring to impress the importance of his family upon his guide in the Scottish Highlands. "Why," he exclaimed, "with an eloquent gesture, "my ancestors have had the right to bear arms for the last two hundred years!" "Foot, man," cried the Scot, "my ancestors have had the right to bare legs for the last two thousand years!"

ROAD HUNGER

By Barbara B. Brooks

It sometimes seems that the family automobile has hardly reached the city limits on a Sunday or holiday before one of the children complains of being hungry. This "road" hunger is a state of mind in many cases. The child has to sit more or less quietly; the grown-ups are talking about their own affairs. So because he feels out of the picture, he becomes either hungry or thirsty. Parents might just as well prepare for this situation before they start from home and insure a happier drive for everyone.

A thermos bottle of water is almost a necessity on a long automobile drive. It is not always convenient to stop for a drink, and all water is not safe. A case, box or travelling bag will hold the thermos, paper cups and refreshments in the form of food. It is bad for children to form the habit of thinking that they can stop at roadside stands for a hot dog, ice cream cone or some other delicacy dear to their hearts. Instead, have some simple food ready to serve in the car. Ready-to-eat cereal is especially good to take on a drive. Corn flakes, eaten dry, will satisfy the appetite without overtaxing the digestion. Crisp rice cereal may be eaten as it comes from the package or it may be dressed with melted butter and salt (like pop corn), put into wax paper bags and brought out when needed on the trip.

HONEY BIAN BRUCE COOKIES

- 1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup honey 1 egg, well beaten 1 cup all-bran 1-1/2 cup flour 1/2 teaspoon cloves 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 teaspoon soda 1 cup chopped raisins

Cream shortening and honey. Add egg, all-bran, sifted dry ingredients and raisins. Drop by teaspoonsful on a greased baking sheet keeping them 2 1/2 inches apart. Bake in a moderate oven (400 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 2 dozen cookies 3 inches in diameter.

CORN FLAKE DATE COOKIES

- 1/2 pound dates 1 cup sugar 1/2 cup water 1/2 cup orange juice 3 tablespoons grated orange peel

Remove the seeds from the dates and boil dates, sugar, water, orange juice and grated orange peel until soft paste is formed. 1 cup shortening 1 cup brown sugar 3/4 cups cream 1/2 teaspoon salt 3 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 cup water 2 cups corn flakes

Cream: the shortening, add the sugar and beat thoroughly. Add the flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt, then the water and last the corn flakes. Roll the cookie dough thin (about 3/16 inch thick) and cut into rounds. Spread one round with the date mixture and put a second round on top, pressing the edges together. Bake on greased baking sheet in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 15 to 20 minutes. Yield: 24 3-inch cookies.

Perlan Balm

Perlan Balm—the perfect aid to beauty. Essential to real feminine distinction. Results always in the highest expression of beauty. It is used by those always soft and flawlessly white. Indispensable to the whole family. Imparts added charm to the mother. Serves the father as a hair fixative and cooling shaving lotion, and protects the tender skin of the child. Perlan Balm is the true toilet requisite.

ICED WATER BEST

Studies in keeping cream sweet made by the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, show conclusively that feed water not only keeps cream better than when it is placed in a refrigerator but that it takes considerably less ice. The reason for this lies in the fact that the feed water, being a better conductor than the cold air of the refrigerator, cools the cream more quickly.

WHY ASK?

Executive (interviewing applicant for important position)—"Are you absolutely honest, straightforward and trustworthy?" Applicant—"Yes, indeed, I am, sir."

Executive—"If you should enter this office to-morrow morning and find a wallet containing $100,000, what would you do?" Applicant—"What would I do? What would I do? I'd do nothing and live on the income."

MUST HAVE BEEN AN ACCIDENT

Two Swedes were walking on a railroad track when a train came from behind. One jumped off in time, the other was not so lucky.

The survivor told about it later: "After I yumped," he said, "I run a little way, then I go back to see 'bout Ole. Putty soon I come 'cross an arm on the track, an' soon I see Ole's legs. Nex' thing I see Ole's head. Den I say, 'My God, something must 'a' happened to Ole!'"

GIRL GUIDE NEWS

It was an exciting meeting last week—Enrollment Meeting. A few mothers were there and also the ladies of the Association. There were enrolled—Dorothy Dunn, of Orchid Patrol; Marjory Davison, of the Blue Bird Patrol; Helen Mooney, of the Poppy Patrol; Ethel Woods, of the Chaffinch Patrol; and LaVerne Smith, of the Orchid Patrol. After the enrollment ceremony, Esther Taylor got the first Proficiency Badge, Entertainer's Badge. This afforded about ten minutes' entertainment. Then the Patrol Boxes were judged. The winners were Helen Mooney, of the Poppies; Esther Taylor, of the Chaffinches; Jeanne Coles, of the Orchid Patrol; and Lillian Woodhall, of the Blue Bird Patrol.

Several of our Guides are away. P. L.'s Lillian Perry and Inabel Bruce won't be home for some time. Mabel Harrop is back again, and we hope to have her at our meeting next week.

We are going to get our Needlewoman's Badge at camp and therefore are to come prepared with bags that will hold patches, and needles, scissors, etc. Maybe you know it. The little birds have chosen their magenta, and oh, you really should see them. They are black, and go by the names of Amos 'n' Andy. They are salamanders—little creatures like lizards. Probably they are descended from the dragon killed by St. George. Nobody knows, save Beth Harrison, perhaps, and as she is a Blue Bird—well, nobody can tell.

My next week Captain hopes to have made out part of the list for camp.

Look Them Over First!

The Merchant and Manufacturer who advertise, actually are placing their merchandise before you for inspection. They invite your most critical attention, and an uncompromising comparison. And their advertisements, so to speak, say to their products, "We have introduced you to the public—now stand on your own merits."

If the manufacturer and merchant did not have confidence in their wares, they would hesitate to call attention to them. For advertising rigidly tests the maker, the seller and the merchandise. Business so tested, and found not wanting is prosperous.

In the long run, you can depend on the man who advertises, as well as on his product. That is one reason why people have found that it pays to read advertisements.

It is through advertising that the excellent things of the world are brought to the attention of those who are seeking for the best and most economical way to spend their money.

Read the advertisements. They are NEWS.
