Notification has been received by the Officer Commanding the Halton Rifles from the Department of National Defence at Ottawa that His Majesty the King has been pleased to sanction the change in designation of our county regiment to the Lorne Rifles (Scottish). This follows the approval of His Grace, the Duke of Arryle to use the family name of "Lorne." This change is a reversion back to the old days when the regiment was known as the Lorne Rifles. The uniform will also be changed. Turtan traws will be worn with the Scottish Jacket and Glengarry cap. The regiment is now over its allotted training strength, and has two bands, a brass band being located in Georgetown, and a bugle band at Oakville.
