Archbishop to Visit Acton

On Wednesday, May 11, His Grace Archbishop McLaughlin, Archbishop of Regina, will be at St. Joseph's Church, Acton, to administer the Sacrament of Confirmation. This will be the first time an Archbishop ever visited in Acton. He will be the guest of Rev. Father McBride at St. Joseph's Rectory.

Car and Truck Collide

Yesterday at noon a Coca-Cola truck was turning on Main Street, just west of Mill Street, when another car came down the highway. The big truck was just across the roadway when the lighter machine crashed into it and hit a broadcast. The car was rather badly damaged, but the occupants escaped injury.

Band Practising at Arena

On Monday night Acton Citizens' Band had their first practise since they have "had no place to go." It was held in the club room of the Curling Rink, which is fairly satisfactory as temporary quarters. All arrangements have been made for the new quarters at the Arena and the contract has been put in the hands of J. B. MacKenzie & Son to be executed at once. The band are now anticipating a period of settling down to permanent quarters again but until the new room is ready, practise will be held at the Curling Club quarters.

A Business Change

For the first time in more years than the present editor of THE FREE PRESS can remember, the advertisement of D. E. Macdonald, of Guelph, is missing from this journal's pages. This company, which has been so long and favorably known in Guelph and vicinity, has decided to discontinue operation of its store, with the exception of the men's wear department, and is, therefore, ceasing to advertise. Many readers will miss this familiar message each week, which had come to be part of the regular announcements of THE FREE PRESS, and will regret that this firm has found it advisable to discontinue business.

Wrong Meaning Conveyed

In last week's report of the Council proceedings the item concerning the insurance policy was not clearly set forth and was apt to be wrongly construed. The Globe-Indemnity Co. last year quoted a figure of approximately $140 for the premium of liability insurance, while the Canadian General Casualty Co. offered an identical policy at a cost of $100. Naturally the latter policy was chosen. This year both companies offered their policies at a like premium of $100, and that of the Globe Co. was taken. The item as written last week was taken by some to infer that the Globe Co. had made the saving of $40 possible to the municipality, whereas the Canadian General Casualty Co. should have the credit for this. We make this explanation in fairness to both companies.

A City Tribute

The following item from the sporting page of the Toronto Star will be read with interest by the friends here of Billy Slean, who is now foreman at the cut sole department of Beardmore Leathers in Acton, and coached Acton Hockey Team to group honors this year: "The Parkdale Gaiety Club is going to give Billy Slean, their old trainer, a farewell dinner on Saturday night at seven o'clock at the club house. Slean will be presented with an honorary membership and he richly deserves it, as a tribute to his many years of efficient, loyal and painstaking service. Slean knew his business. He is making a business move which forces him to relinquish his post. The P. C. C. boys will miss the advice of Billy Slean—and a lot of folks in sport outside of the club will miss him, too. Billy has always been a full back private in the front ranks of the Real Guy Regiment. There are no officers in the R. G. R."

Of Interest to Hockeyists

The following news item from the Walkerton Telescope will be analyzed with mixed thoughts by those who follow amateur sports. The inference is given that some players do not always reside in the locality they are supposed to. Here is the item: "Mr. and Mrs. Joe Raybould, having decided to remain in Walkerton, expect to occupy the Mc-Clelland house about the first of May, and the friends of Joe and his wife (nee Hilda Scott) are pleased to learn that they have decided to do so. After starting for three years on the local O. H. A. team, Joe performed with the Oakville Club during the past season, and he was a very important factor in Oakville reaching the semi-finals. It will be fine to see him again in Walkerton uniform. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Raybould moved to Oakville and attended the dinner given by citizens of that town in honor of the members of the team that represented them so creditably last season. Joe is continuing his occupation as a motor mechanic, as an assistant at the garage and service station of Messrs. George Scott and Son."

Various News Items

A Quarrel Among Neighbors

Chief McPherson was called upon to settle a quarrel among neighbors on Scene Street on Tuesday evening. The trouble arose, it seems, when Mrs. Porty struck Mrs. Skatch with a rake on the head, inflicting quite a scalp wound. It seems that there has been difference for some time between these families and it will now be settled in a court case.

Western Crop Prospects Good

Crop prospects in Western Canada are better at this season than at the same time in any of the past three years, and a wheat crop of from 400,000,000 to 500,000,000 bushels might reasonably be anticipated. E. W. Beatty, President and Chairman of the C. P. R. Board, told the shareholders at the annual meeting in Montreal. The reported drastic cutbacks in the operation of the railroad and steamships service in conformity with reduced earnings, but pointed out that the condition of the company's property had been maintained unimpaired.

Former Acton Minister Appointed Moderator

Rev. A. C. Stewart, of Chalmers' Presbyterian Church, Toronto, a former pastor of Knox Church, Acton, was, on Tuesday night, elected Moderator of the Synod of Kingston and Toronto. The meeting was held in Cooke's Presbyterian Church, Toronto. Mr. Stewart was nominated by Rev. Patterson, Head of Galt. The nomination was seconded by Rev. J. B. Skene, Clerk of the Toronto Presbytery. The only other name which stood was that of Rev. A. C. Reeves, of Norwood, who was brought forward by Rev. F. C. Harper, of Cobourg. The sermon was preached by the retiring Moderator, Rev. R. S. Scott, of Cannington.

Mother's Day 1932

More precious than all the treasures,
This great, wide world can hold,
Is the love of a kind, sweet mother
With a heart of purest gold.
Should fortune smile and bring success,
And crowds applaud your fame,
If fate's cruel hand brings dark defeat,
She would love you just the same.

Oh, take her flowers of choicest bloom,
And write her letters gay;
Remember that she needs your love
Although you're far away.
To all those loving mothers,
Who are safe with God above,
We will wear a bloom of snowy white
In memory of her love.

—Bertram E. Nightingale.

Entered Into Rest

DONALD McDOUGALL, Erin

Donald McDougall, 90, pioneer farmer of Erin Township, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jas. Cruickshank, after an illness of two weeks' duration, was buried at Huxley's Cemetery on Tuesday. Deceased, who was a Presbyterian and a Liberal, is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Cruickshank, and two sons, John and Duncan, all of Erin.

MRS. JOHN GLASFORD, Caledon

Mrs. John Glasford, aged 68, an esteemed resident of Caledon, died at her home, second line, East Caledon, on Tuesday. Her maiden name was Margaret Holmes. She is survived by two sons, Jackson and Tom. Also five daughters, Mrs. Henry Speers, Mrs. Chas. Atkinson, Mrs. Jas. Jackson, Mrs. Irwin Carter and Mrs. George McDonald. Mrs. Glasford was a member of Caledon United Church.

MRS. E. STEEN, Streetsville

The funeral took place to Streetsville Cemetery on Sunday of Mrs. Mary Steen, widow of the late Ephraim Steen, a life-long resident of the village, who died late Friday night in her 84th year. Mr. Jones was Superintendent of the Credit Park stone quarries and connected at one time with the lime kilns at Melville. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Norman Nelson, with whom he lived, was a member of the United Church, a Conservative, and a member of Harris Lodge, A. F. & A. M. He was buried on Wednesday at Forest Lawn Cemetery, Orangeville.

MRS. E. HARROP, Milton

After a long illness, so cheerfully and patiently borne, Maude Hartley, dearly loved wife of Edwin Harrop, Milton, passed peacefully away on Saturday, April 30, in her 41st year. The funeral was held on Monday, from her late residence, Park Farm, and although it was announced as private, there were many of Mrs. Harrop's close friends and neighbors who felt drawn to pay their last tribute to one whom they had known to suffer so patiently and of whom, it seemed, John Milton's words were so applicable, "They also serve who only stand and wait." Although Mrs. Harrop had been in bed for so long, her death came as a distinct shock to the community, among whom she had many friends who had known and loved her since childhood. The funeral service, owing to the illness of the pastor of St. Paul's United Church, was conducted by Canon L. R. F. Natfel, who paid fitting tribute to the late Mrs. Harrop, and expressed sympathy with the bereaved members of the family. The pall-bearers were Messrs. A. L. McNab, J. H. Wilson, H. Willis, H. B. Brown, F. Chisholm and L. F. Clarke. Interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery, Milton. Mrs. Harrop was a daughter of W. J. Hartley and the late Mrs. Hartley. Besides her husband, Mrs. Harrop leaves three little sons, Cedric, David, and Sam, also her father, one brother and five sisters.

Play Ball!

The local baseball nine who will represent Acton this year, is rounding into condition and the management reports that there is a likely looking aggregation. They will play an exhibition game on Saturday with the ball team at the Guelph Reformatory. It is expected the first game of the schedule will be played at Milton on May 21, when the Acton nine will meet last year's champions.

Fatted Calves Settle Beer Fine

When the Provincial Police arrived at the home of Isadore Despeghel, Sarnia Township, and found 11 cases of illegally-obtained beer, the Despeghels had to kill the fatted calves. Helvetia Despeghel, daughter of Isadore, was charged with illegal possession of the beer, and in County Police Court yesterday pleaded guilty and was fined $100 with court costs of $21 or, in default of payment, three months imprisonment. Her mother paid the fine and told the police that in order to save her daughter from three months' sojourn in the county jail she had to sell their five cows to a district butcher.

More Words With No Foundation of Fact

A news item in the Toronto Star the other evening gave the amusing item that Milton was in the happy position of having only $12,000 in outstanding taxes, and enlightened all and sundry with the further information of claiming that this was the smallest amount of any town in Halton County. Before making such broad statements the Milton writer who sends in these town boasting items at the expense of other communities, should verify his statements. Acton had in outstanding taxes on May 1 of this year $3,815.46—just about a third of the amount owing in Milton. Naturally in this section of Halton we see little of the idle boast that the County Town makes to financial supremacy.

Senator McDougald Resigned

Wilfred Laurier McDougald, storm centre of the Beauharnois' campaign fund scandal, is no longer a member of the Canadian Senate. His resignation from the Red Chamber was announced shortly after midnight on Wednesday morning by Hon. Raoul Dandurand, the Liberal Leader in the Upper House. The news came like a bolt from the blue. Senator Dandurand got the floor immediately after the Senate had given approval to the Beauharnois Committee's report censuring Senators McDougald, Haydon and Raymond by a straight party vote, as follows: Contents, 34; non-contents, 27. There were 33 absentees, including all three Senators who have been under fire. Senators Hance J. Logan and C. W. Robinson, both Liberals, did not vote, being paired with Senators Willoughby and Stanfield.

Another Fine Local Play

Knox Players were greeted with a capacity house last night when they presented their three-act mystery play in the Town Hall in Acton. Introduced in a mysterious way "Oh Kay" proved to be a thriller in mystery from start to finish. It was a play with an entirely different theme and setting from any of the local plays previously produced here. The meeting up with and capturing of the Black Terror is of course the culmination of the story. It abounds in a host of quaint sayings and good clean comedy. Every one of the local characters played their part splendidly and conveyed a good conception of the story. The presentation pleased everyone of those in attendance and its variation from the usual theme of stories was refreshing and thrilling. The local characters taking part were: Mrs. (Dr.) P. W. Pearen, Miss M. Orr, Miss L. Orr, Miss M. Ryder, Miss I. Bruce, Mr. C. Kirkness, Mr. V. B. Rumley, Mr. A. Orr, Mr. J. Hurst, Mr. B. Hinton and Mr. S. Lantz. Between the acts musical numbers were provided by Miss Jean Orr at the piano and Mr. Rudolph Spillvogel with his violin. The prize for the best solution of who was "The Black Terror" was won by Mrs. Cameron Lelshman; who gave a most complete solution of the mystery of the play. Others who guessed the personage impersonating the Black Terror and were awarded prizes were: Mrs. Francis Jennings, Mrs. Bracken, Mrs. Doris Kelly and Miss Pearl Foster. The event is being presented again to-night in the hall. The prizes were donated by Messrs. E. E. Barr, H. Wiles, E. J. Hassard and W. Nesbit.

COMMERCIAL POWER SHOWED PROFIT

At the regular fortnightly meeting of the Public Utilities Commission, on Tuesday night, Commissioner King and Chairman Kerr were present. The following accounts were passed, and the Secretary ordered to make payment:

Hydro Accounts
Canadian Westinghouse Co., supplies	$ 4.73
Moffats Limited, supplies	16.22
Sangamo Co. Ltd., supplies	10.40
Northern Electric Co., supplies	27.21
Rose & O'Hearn Ltd., supplies	8.00
Acron Free Press, advertising	3.00

	$112.21

Waterworks Accounts
Hydro Department, power and heating at spring	$44.76
Canadian Brass Co., supplies	4.80
	$49.56

The Inspector had made a tour of the town and divided up the power consumed during the last year. Mr. Wilson pointed out the domestic power operated last year at a loss, while the commercial power was operated at a profit.

The Superintendent was instructed to inquire regarding the price and look into the matter of switches to be used to divide up the town in sections, so if one set blew out the whole town would not be shut off.

The Superintendent of Safety First was here since the last meeting and gave a demonstration in the Town Hall of how the men working with Hydro last year were electrocuted, so that the men would avoid making the same mistakes.

Superintendent Wilson was instructed to order enough No. 1 copper wire to complete the transfer of the power lines from the old Hydro poles to the Bell Telephone Co. poles, with whom they have an agreement, on Mill Street, from John Street to the railway crossing. This work is to be done this summer.

Various Items of Local Interest

Chicken Thief Finally Captured

Final action in the chicken theft prosecution of Clifford Beamer was taken when Magistrate W. J. Barr fined the accused a total of $135. A continuous lookout had been kept for Beamer since October, 1929, when a number of chickens were stolen from E. Emerson, of Nelson, and until a month ago no trace of him was found. Chief Lee Smith located him on a farm near Carlisle. Beamer paid for the chickens stolen, and will now pay his fine at the rate of $10 per month.

Farmer Receives Injuries While Plowing

John McKee, farmer, was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon while plowing near the C. P. R. tracks, near Ferguson. He was taken to the Groves Memorial Hospital, with a fractured pelvis. This injury was caused by the plow passing over his body. It appears that his horses became frightened at a passing train, and when he attempted to quiet them they turned, knocked him down, and pulled the heavy plow over his body. His condition was reported satisfactory on Tuesday night.

Erin U. F. O. Clubs' Meeting

North Erin U. F. O. and U. F. W. O. Clubs met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Corbett on Tuesday evening. Owing to illness, the President, Mrs. John Carney was unable to be present and the Vice-President was in the chair. Afterwards a joint meeting was held, with Andrew Young presiding. A programme was given by the following: Songs by Margaret Corbett; recitation by Dorothy Foster; mouth organ selection by Jack and Bob Coburn; step dancing by John Corbett. An old-time dance concluded the programme.

Fair Animal Not Understood in the City

Thomas Lewis, 62 Church Street, Lambton Mills, sustained injuries to his back on Tuesday when he was butted by a bull, which had broken loose from the Harris Abattoir in West Toronto, earlier in the day. The animal escaped while being unloaded from a freight car, and tore along St. Clair Avenue West, pursued by abattoir employees, as terrified citizens fled for shelter. Lewis was working in his garden as he noticed the infuriated animal approach across a field. He attempted to duck for cover, but the bull galloped on him, and finally took some distance away. Constable Ross McCurdy, of the York Township police, proved more successful, as he chased the animal on his motorcycle and, after cornering it, shot it through the head just as the animal was preparing to make a final dash for liberty.

One-Eyed Cars to be Put Off Road

Motorists driving with defective headlights were warned they would face prosecution throughout the Province by Hon. Leopold Maccaulay, Minister of Highways. He stated that he had instructed municipal and Provincial police to commence such prosecution under the Highway Traffic Act. "The one-eyed car and other improperly illuminated vehicles must be banished from the highways," he said. "There are a menace to every sane driver on the road, and they are deliberately flouting the law. Last year about 250 accidents, 12 fatal, resulted from improper lights. This figure by no means represents the total, as in many cases the condition of the cars after an accident rendered it impossible to determine what part the condition of the lights played in bringing about the collision."

Institute Euchre and Dance

Last Friday night the Town Hall had one of the largest crowds of the winter when the Women's Institute held a euchre and dance in aid of relief. Mrs. A. Robinson and Miss Emma Robinson were the lucky winners for the ladies, and Mr. Perry Watson and Mr. Chisholm for the gents. The ladies had also made a quilt and sold tickets, the lucky number being drawn and Mr. Fred Salt was the winner. Following the euchre, the Black and Frank Orchestra supplied the music and Mr. Bert Davidson and Mr. E. Packer were floor managers. Mrs. Gamble, President of the society, thanked all those who had helped to make the evening such a success by donating prizes and giving their services free, and for the splendid response. This society, through the selling of the quilt and dance were able to donate $54.20 to the relief work in Acton.

THE EVENING MEAL DIGESTER

There had been a rear-end collision. One of the drivers climbed out in a fit of temper and strode up to a man standing on the sidewalk, thinking him to be the other driver.

"Say, where's your tall light?" he roared. "What do you think I am, a blooming lightning bug?"

The innocent bystander looked up at him. "What do you think I am, a blooming lightning bug?"

—To-night there will be Mystery Seats. Watch where you sit. "Oh Kay."
