Acton Fair

Next Tuesday and Wednesday.

September has been a glorious month thus far.

The first instalment of Acton's taxes is due to-morrow.

Palmerston has decided to cancel its Fall Fair for this year.

Invite your friends to visit Acton and its Fair next week.

Collecting a crowd is easier than collecting from a crowd.

September is half gone and the foliage is as green as in mid-summer.

After the Fair, the Chautauqua programmes will be quite a feature in Acton.

Brightening up the life of someone else will put a fresh shine on your own.

That forty days of St. Swithin's showers is supposed to have expired some time ago.

The merchants who advertise have a real message for you. Their stores carry the newest and best lines.

Graced with fine weather, Acton Fair will be the feature of the countryside next Tuesday and Wednesday.

All the communities of this district are now on standard time. Guelph reverted to this time on Sunday last.

What the world wants is good examples, not so much advice; advice may be wrong, but examples prove themselves.

Mr. George Soper brought into Tax Pass office a couple of pretty fine specimens of potatoes. The pair tipped the scales at 3 1/4 lbs.

Mr. Jas. McIntosh cut a maple tree from his property last week that was planted nearly eighty years ago. The tree has become decayed and was a menace to the property and the public.

While walking on the second line, west of Acton, one day last week, Mr. Hugh McCutcheon was struck by a motor car and hurled into the ditch. Fortunately he was not seriously injured and is able to be about following the mishap.

The protest of Ferguson against Brampton, for playing a Georgetown player, named Gowland, in the last two games of the Juvenile lacrosse series, has been granted. Both games have been ruled out, and a sudden death game was played at Ferguson on Wednesday afternoon.

DRY DOCK USES CAR JACK IDEA

A dry dock that lifts its burden in the same way as a screw jack lifts an automobile is to be found in Barbados, British West Indies. It is probably the only one of its kind in all the world.

W. R. M. Wynne, Harbor and Shipping Master of the salubrious colony, states that the dock was completed in 1892 to the design of John Blackwood, a Scottish engineer. The dock is 240 feet long overall and is 48 feet wide at the entrance. The lifting platform is composed of 31 sections, moved independently or in concert by vertical steel screws which, in turn are rotated by a horizontal "worm" keyed to a shaft running the full length of the dock on either side. The dock will lift 1,200 tons deadweight and each section will take its share of weight, even on curved surfaces.

PROFITABLE HANDICAP

Dr. Knobbs rubbed his hands professionally.
"There you are, sir," he said to his patient.
The patient shook his head.
"Did you speak, doctor?" he asked.
"If so, I didn't hear a word of what you said."
"Hm," sniffed the doctor. "Perhaps I'd better make it $10."
"That's better, doctor," said the patient readily enough. "That's all right."

MODERN VERSION

Mary had a little lamb
Given by a friend to keep.
It followed her around until
It died from loss of sleep.

POLICE!

"Now," said the hypnotist, "I shall make this man forget everything."
"Hold on," yelled a man in the back row, "he owes me $10."

Hardware Clerk—Did you say a noiseless revolver, madam?
