100th Anniversary of Barrie Hill Church

Was Celebrated on Sunday and Monday—History of Church Given by Mrs. J. Marshall

For the following very interesting account of the one hundredth anniversary celebration of Barrie Hill Church, in Eramosa, see the special issue of this paper published on Sunday, September 26 and 28, the congregation of Barrie Hill United Church celebrated the hundredth anniversary of the building of their first church, in 1832, known at that time as the First Presbyterian Church, Eramosa. Invitations had been sent to scores of former members, now widely scattered, and the church was packed for three services on Sunday, and again for the special supper on Monday night, and all who attended enjoyed the services and the chance to meet old friends once again.

The church was beautifully decorated with pot plants and cut flowers, and a model of the church of 1832 stood in the lobby, with a plaque facing around it, made of one hundred white candles. When the service began, every seat was occupied and benches were brought into the aisles.

Rev. Mr. Robertson, the minister, was in charge of the service and the preacher for the morning was Rev. Robert Brydon, a son of the congregation.

Taking as his text the words from the 12th chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews, "Compassed about with a great crowd of witnesses," Mr. Brydon spoke of the history of the congregation, or as he put it, "as a member of the family," and he paid a "warm tribute to the pioneers."

1832, he said, was a day of small things, of care and anxiety. The people of Eramosa were solid stock from beyond the seas. The old people of the first and second lines were considered the aristocrats of the community and were men of accomplishment. Before the days of newspapers, these men read deep books and discussed them. Yet their lives must seem narrow to us nowadays.

He remembered when the people of that church stood up for a prayer a half hour in length. The services were much longer, and they were the intellectual high point of the week. He recalled some of the earlier ministers, though not Dr. Barrie. Mr. Mackay had a penetrating eye and he remembered how terrible a thing it was if they could not recite the shorter catechism when he came around. Mr. Gardner was a fine spiritual personality. Dr. Marsh had since distinguished himself in astronomy. Rev. W. D. Wilkie, A. J. Mann and J. A. Molr were the others he remembered before he left the district.

Mr. Brydon remembered the old church library, now all gone. It had even contained a Hebrew Bible. He recalled the debate on the introduction of the organ and the vote on the use of the hymnal. He spoke of the Bible Class and the Sunday School, presided over by Walter Scott. The children had to learn Psalms, paraphrases, shorter catechism and proofs. That was the Sunday night exhortation after a supper of oatmeal gruel. The communion service was the culmination of all services, and was conducted solemnly. Lead tokens were distributed the Sunday before. The Elders were men of character, treating their duty as a high service, and wearing their long wedding coats, often many years old.

Recalling the debt the congregation owes to these men, the minister made a plea that the present generation should serve the church, keeping it as the heart and soul of the community, and the best monument to their ancestors.

Special music by the choir was another feature of the service, and Miss Laura Farrow, of Toronto, sang a beautiful solo, "Grant me, dear Lord, deep peace of mind."

Most of those present remained for lunch at the church, and in the afternoon, they gathered again within the walls at 2:30 for two hours of music and reminiscences. One of the chief features was the reading of two fine historical sketches by Mrs. Marshall, of Eden Mills. It will be recalled that last year Mrs. Marshall and her brother, the late Mr. W. R. Scott, collected historical data of this church, and it was published in THE FREE PRESS at that time, under the column of "The Old Man." A limited number of copies of these papers are still available at THE FREE PRESS.

On this occasion Mrs. Marshall delighted the congregation at the afternoon meeting when she gave intimate reminiscences of the old church and of Dr. Barrie. From her father, of Eden Mills, Mrs. Marshall recalled many interesting events, and the afternoon was a most delightful occasion and will long be remembered by those who had the privilege of listening to this address.

Two of the former ministers spoke—Rev. Mr. Little, now of Rockwood, and Rev. A. J. Mann, William Scott, who came to Eramosa in 1831, and was there for 31 years, gave some of his memoirs. Mr. Dryden read messages from others who were unable to be present, and Mr. Brooks, the choir leader, sang, "The Church by the Side of the Road." Many

Notice

Mrs. Wells, of Elora, will be at Mrs. Frank Beattie's home, 2121 Street, next Friday afternoon and evening with new samples of her hand-painted Christmas cards and small pictures. Mrs. Wells is no stranger to many of the Acton ladies and will be glad to show her work to any who call.

Railway Schedule Changed

Changes in the time table on the C. N. R. went into effect on Monday, and a correct schedule appears in the column devoted to travel time tables in THE FREE PRESS. The evening mail train from the east is the principal change and it is now twenty minutes later and due at Acton at seven o'clock. The Sunday morning train from Toronto is now due at 9:10 a. m., and the Sunday evening train at 10:28. These are the principal changes but it will be well to consult the new time table before arranging a trip.

Phenomenal Growth

The past week we have viewed some extraordinary vegetables from the gardens about town. At Mr. George Fields' garden a tomato vine was over six feet in length and had eight-eight (88) tomatoes on it. Mr. George Ingles brought in a freak tomato that had a small growth at the top. The tomato was green and the part annexed was fully ripened. Mrs. P. Sayers had a potato from her garden that is the biggest we have seen this year. It tipped the scales at one pound, fourteen ounces.

A. M. McCann's Car Stolen and Burned

Guelph police searched industriously on Friday night last for A. M. McCann's motor car, reported stolen from Cardigan Street, Guelph, between nine and eleven o'clock. A few hours later, a man walked into the police station, and casually remarked that an automobile was burning on the old Berlin Road. There did not appear to be anybody in it, he said, but he had not made a close examination. Police rushed out the road and found the automobile destroyed by the flames. It was Mr. McCann's. Whether the thieves deliberately set fire to the machine, or whether the blaze was accidental is not known. The car was a large and expensive model.—Guelph Mercury.

Barn Fires in Wentworth County

Memories of the barn blazes that terrorized Wentworth farmers at this time last year were revived when two large ancestor structures, with their seasons' crops and many implements, were burned. The total loss was estimated at $7,500. Early Friday afternoon as threshers were preparing to start operations, a large haystack standing on the farm of Mrs. Isabel Stewart, Scotch Block, Ancaster, burst into flames. The fire spread soon thereafter, and before the Ancaster firemen arrived the tongues of flame had spread to the barn and there was no chance of saving the structure. The second blaze broke out a few hours later on the farm of Willard S. Smith, one mile east of Southcoke. Erland Dore, who operates the farm, owned grain and other produce, also one pig that was burned to death.

The Legion Social Evening

The social evening at the Legion Club Rooms last Friday evening was a success. The company began to gather at about 8:30. James J. Cooney, D. C. M., was on outpost duty and collected the counter-sign (Two Bits) from all the "friends." To music supplied by Mrs. Byrne, at the piano, and the Harrop brothers, with their several instruments, the company danced until 11 o'clock, when the floor manager, Ernie Packer, announced that the tables were ready with wieners and coffee. The cook-house fatigue was in charge of "Gunner" Gould, who was toasting buns. Fred Salt had the strings of "dogs" in hand, dividing each from each so that President Conrad McDonald, J. P., could insert them into the rolls, which he was preparing. Charley Thompson, the diaryman, was in charge of the making of the coffee, and managed to give himself a shower, bath and milk while removing the stopper from a bottle. Ben Baylis and some others looked after the table supplies and carried the wieners when and where they were required. Len Atkinson, Bob Turner, and Fred Coles poured tea, coffee or sump'n, and helped to clear the tables when the repast was ended. Someone who felt a little frisky perhaps, started a game that is not often indulged in, by having a sham battle with the surplus cats. No doubt these ex-service men would appreciate a scrap at the right time and in the right place, but were not prepared for this attack. Proper precautions will be taken at the next affair, which will be on Friday evening, October 7, and the Vets. will be ready to deal with any recurrence of firing practise. Dancing was resumed after the feed and everything was managed in an orderly way. Many persons enjoyed the facilities provided for those who do not dance and several games were indulged in.

Committee will Meet With Council Regarding Bequest of $20,000

Left to the Corporation by the Will of Late J. A. Murray—Distribution of Work Brings on Argument but is Finally Adjusted—Definition of Transient Settled in Councilors' Minds—Department of Public Welfare Outlines Plan for Relief for This Year—Cemetery Commission Matters Brought to Council's Attention, but Left With Board.

At the meeting of Acton Council on Monday evening, Councilors Cowie, Jones, Nicol and McArthur were present, and Reeve E. T. Thiford presided.

Mr. C. E. Parker was present requesting the decision of the Council regarding the installation of a drain on Young Street, and cutting the cement curb to allow for the pipe. Permission was granted for this work.

A group of young men had formed a running club and requested permission to use the curling club for training purposes during the fall. It was pointed out that a former club had damaged the property considerably and this could not be tolerated. Permission was granted on the understanding that the privilege would be withdrawn if there was any rowdiness or damage to the property and the quarters could be used by members of the club only.

Letters from the Royal Trust Co. explained the succession duties that were payable by the Corporation on the bequest from the late J. A. Murray. The amount was $115 that was due on this bequest of $20,000.

The twentieth report of the Finance Committee recommended payment of the following accounts:

South-end Garage, supplies for fire truck	$ 7.79
W. D. C. Talbot, supplies	.65
Royal Trust Co., succession duty re J. A. Murray estate	115.20
R. M. McDonald, Treasurer Relief Committee, funds received from Provincial Treasurer	82.71
Geo. H. Lantz, cleaning Mill Street	1.80
Bell Telephone Co. services	11.19
Jack Scriben, shovelling gravel	6.25
Wm. Findlay, shovelling gravel	5.00
Thos. Rumley, shovelling gravel	3.75
	$234.34

The report was adopted.

The matter of penalty and taxes of Mr. S. Cordner was reviewed and found that the statement, as furnished by the Clerk, was correct and in order.

The crossing and curb on Mill Street going onto Wallace Avenue was discussed and it was decided that improvements were imperative for safety. The matter was left for the Chairman of Streets and Walks to report upon.

Mr. G. R. Agnew again complained of the sidewalk charge on his property, but the by-law was quite clear and the Council felt they could be guided only by the records, as shown in the debenture book.

The Women's Institute requested permission to change the location of their booth, and that it be moved back again to this new location, nearer the grandstand. Permission was granted for this new location, but the Council would not arrange for the moving of the building.

Mr. F. E. Holmes had made an offer to supply wood for the Town Hall at a reasonable figure. The Municipal Officer was requested to report on the matter.

Permission was granted to the Schools for the use of the Park on Field Day, as was usual. Supervision for the grounds was under the control of the Municipal Officer.

Municipal Officer McPherson reported on the progress that had been made on Main Street in gravelling and also on east Mill Street. Several other sections would receive the attention of the officers before the work was completed.

Letters from the Municipal Board gave enlightenment on the transient traders by-law, and seemed to clear many of the problems that had been bothersome on this point.

Permission was granted Mr. L. Starkman to connect the drain from Carroll's Store with the drain on Mill Street.

Other minor repairs to streets, drains, sidewalks, tree trimming, etc., were outlined for immediate attention.

A letter from the Department of Public Welfare outlined the plan of relief as recommended by the Committee. This plan was almost identical with that which Acton had in operation the past year, under the local Relief Committee.

A letter from the Acton Branch of the Canadian Legion requested the co-operation of the Council in their Remembrance Day programme. The Council agreed to lend the usual assistance and secure a wreath of Vetscraft poppies.

The advisability of Acton constructing a sewerage system at this time when costs are at the lowest level for years was mentioned by the Councilors, but no action was taken in the matter.

The Reeve reported that a considerable amount was owing on Mr. Bishop's wages at the cemetery work as caretaker, and he felt that the Council should be made acquainted with these affairs. Other matters in connection with the Board were discussed. Councilor Nicol, who is a member of the Board, gave information regarding specific items, and pointed out that the Commission was dealing fairly with all parties. It was felt the Council was not concerned and any of these matters belonged to the Commission and could be dealt with by them, although

Indian Bishop Visits Ballinacree

To honor the memory of his predecessor, Bishop Warne, who is buried there.

Bishop J. H. Chittambar, of the Methodist Episcopal Church in India, visited Ballinacree on Tuesday to honor the memory of a Canadian who years ago had been a leader in India, Bishop Francis Wesley Warne.

The Indian bishop, the first man of his race to be elected a General Superintendent in Methodism, visited the grave of the late Bishop F. W. Warne, who spent 40 years of his life in missionary work in India, and deposited a wreath upon the grave.

When his Canadian tour was being arranged some weeks ago, Bishop Chittambar expressed a wish to make this pilgrimage. The United Church at Ballinacree is the place where Dr. Warne worshipped as a boy and preached his first sermon, nearly 60 years ago.

Francis Wesley Warne was born on Erin Township farm, on December 30, 1854, and died at Brooklyn, N. Y., early this year, after having given 59 years to the ministry. He was buried, at his own request, in the little churchyard at Ballinacree.

A light gray granite stone now covers the grave of a man who endured much in India and capped his career by working his way home from Persia in the engine room of an oil tanker when that was the only way he could reach New York for the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in 1920.
